Making the Difference

Unique, individualistic, different — all adjectives describing special people at a special place, Cummings High School. These are all qualities Cummings' students possess which set them apart from everyone else. A Cavalier is not just our mascot; cavalier is our way of life.

Hugh M. Cummings is a name that makes a difference in every way of student life.

Friendship and laughter have always made a difference here at C.H.S.

Making the Difference

Upon hearing the word "teacher," most students conjure up thoughts of homework, tests, and those dreaded nine-weeks grades. But if the little things are overlooked, it is soon realized that teachers are the backbone of any school. Their care, concern, and support of Cavalier students are unequaled by anyone anywhere.

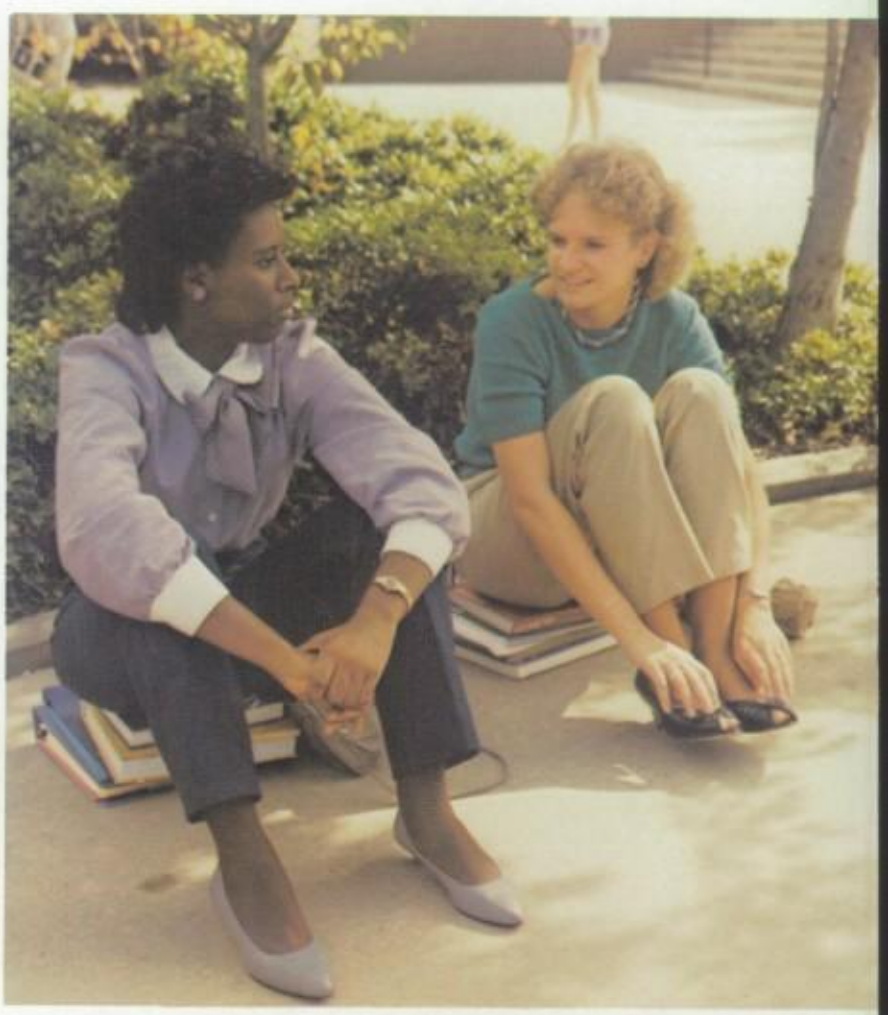
Coach Hooker helps to carry out a winning tradition in football.

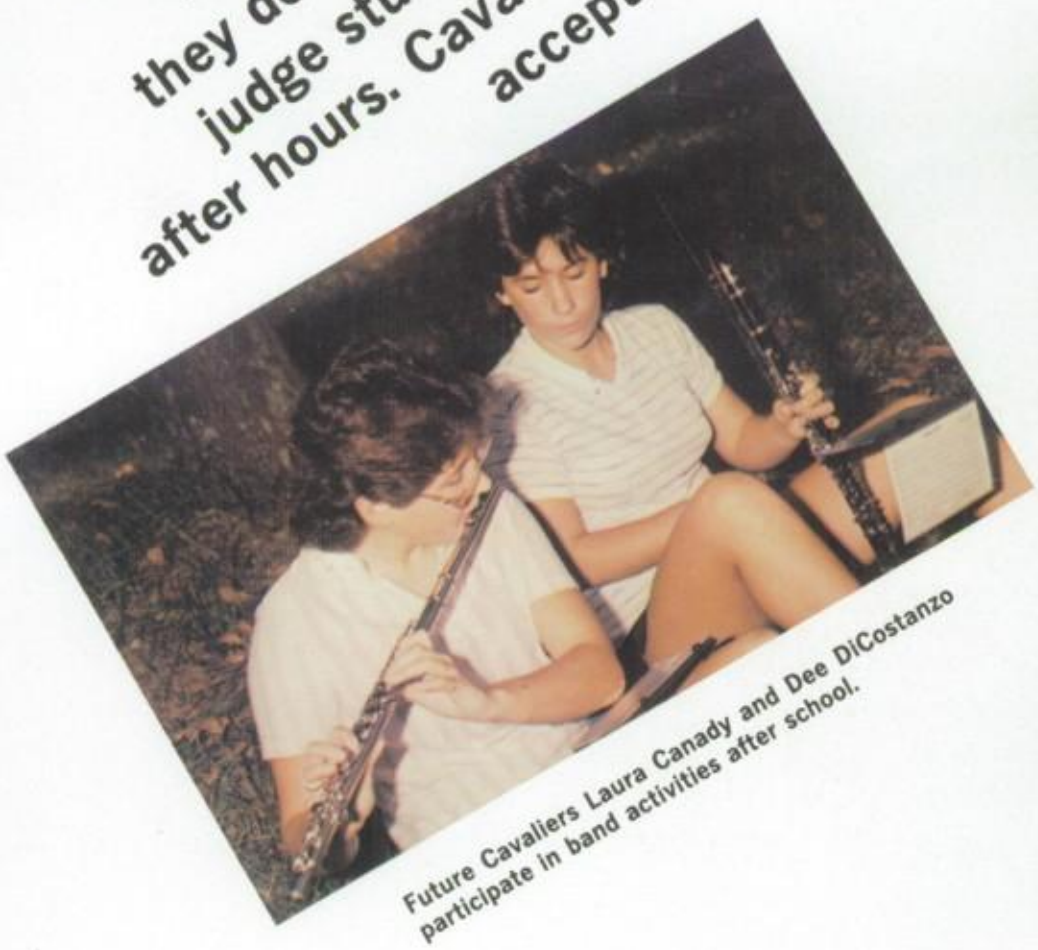
Mr. Cook dazzles his students with his charm and sharp sense of humor.

Making the Difference

When that long day of school is over, Cavaliers leave either to go to practice, work, play, or just to get something cold to drink. Though the hours of learning and studying make up the students' educational profile, the after-school activities make up their personalities. Teachers judge students by what they do during school, and friends judge students by what they do after hours. Cavalier students are accepted by both.

Bevonda Ford and Shelia Kirkman sit back and chat while waiting for their rides home from school.





Future Cavaliers Laura Canady and Dee DiCostanzo participate in band activities after school.

April Gibson enjoyed the best of both worlds — a favorite hobby and the comfort of a shady tree.

Senior Todd Bush tried to figure out what was puzzling Barbara Bynum and Belinda Burney.

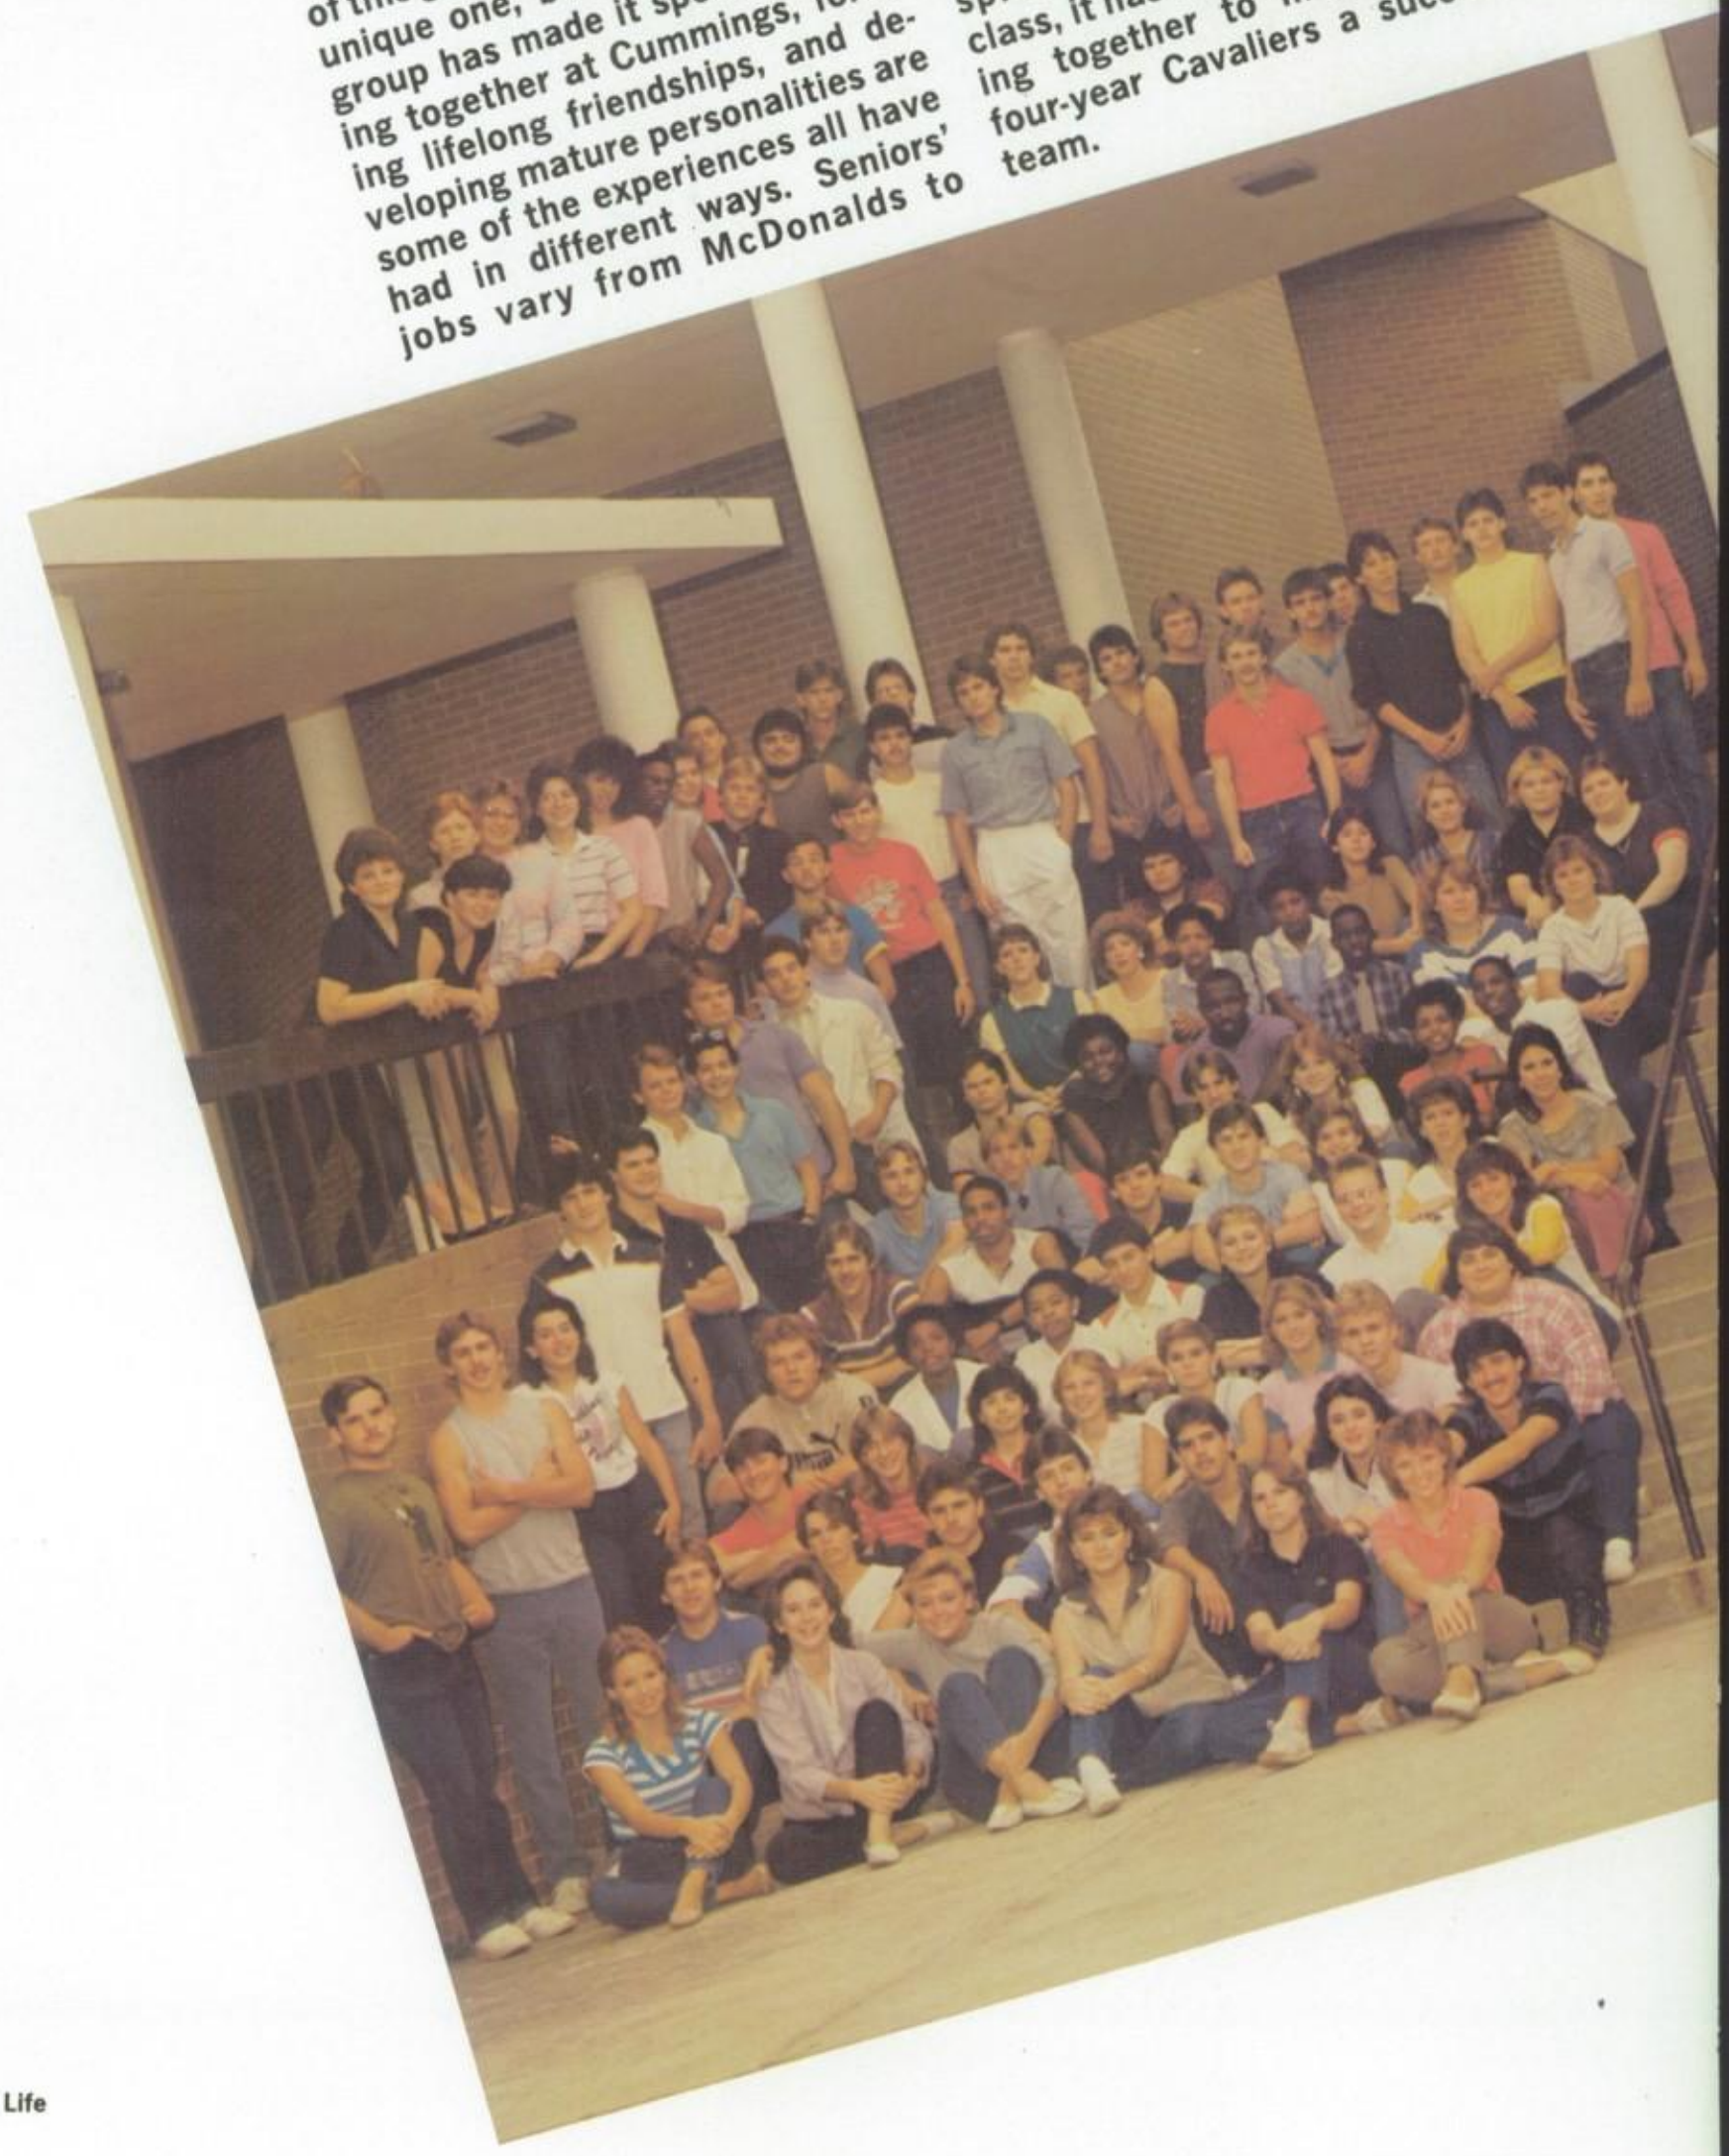
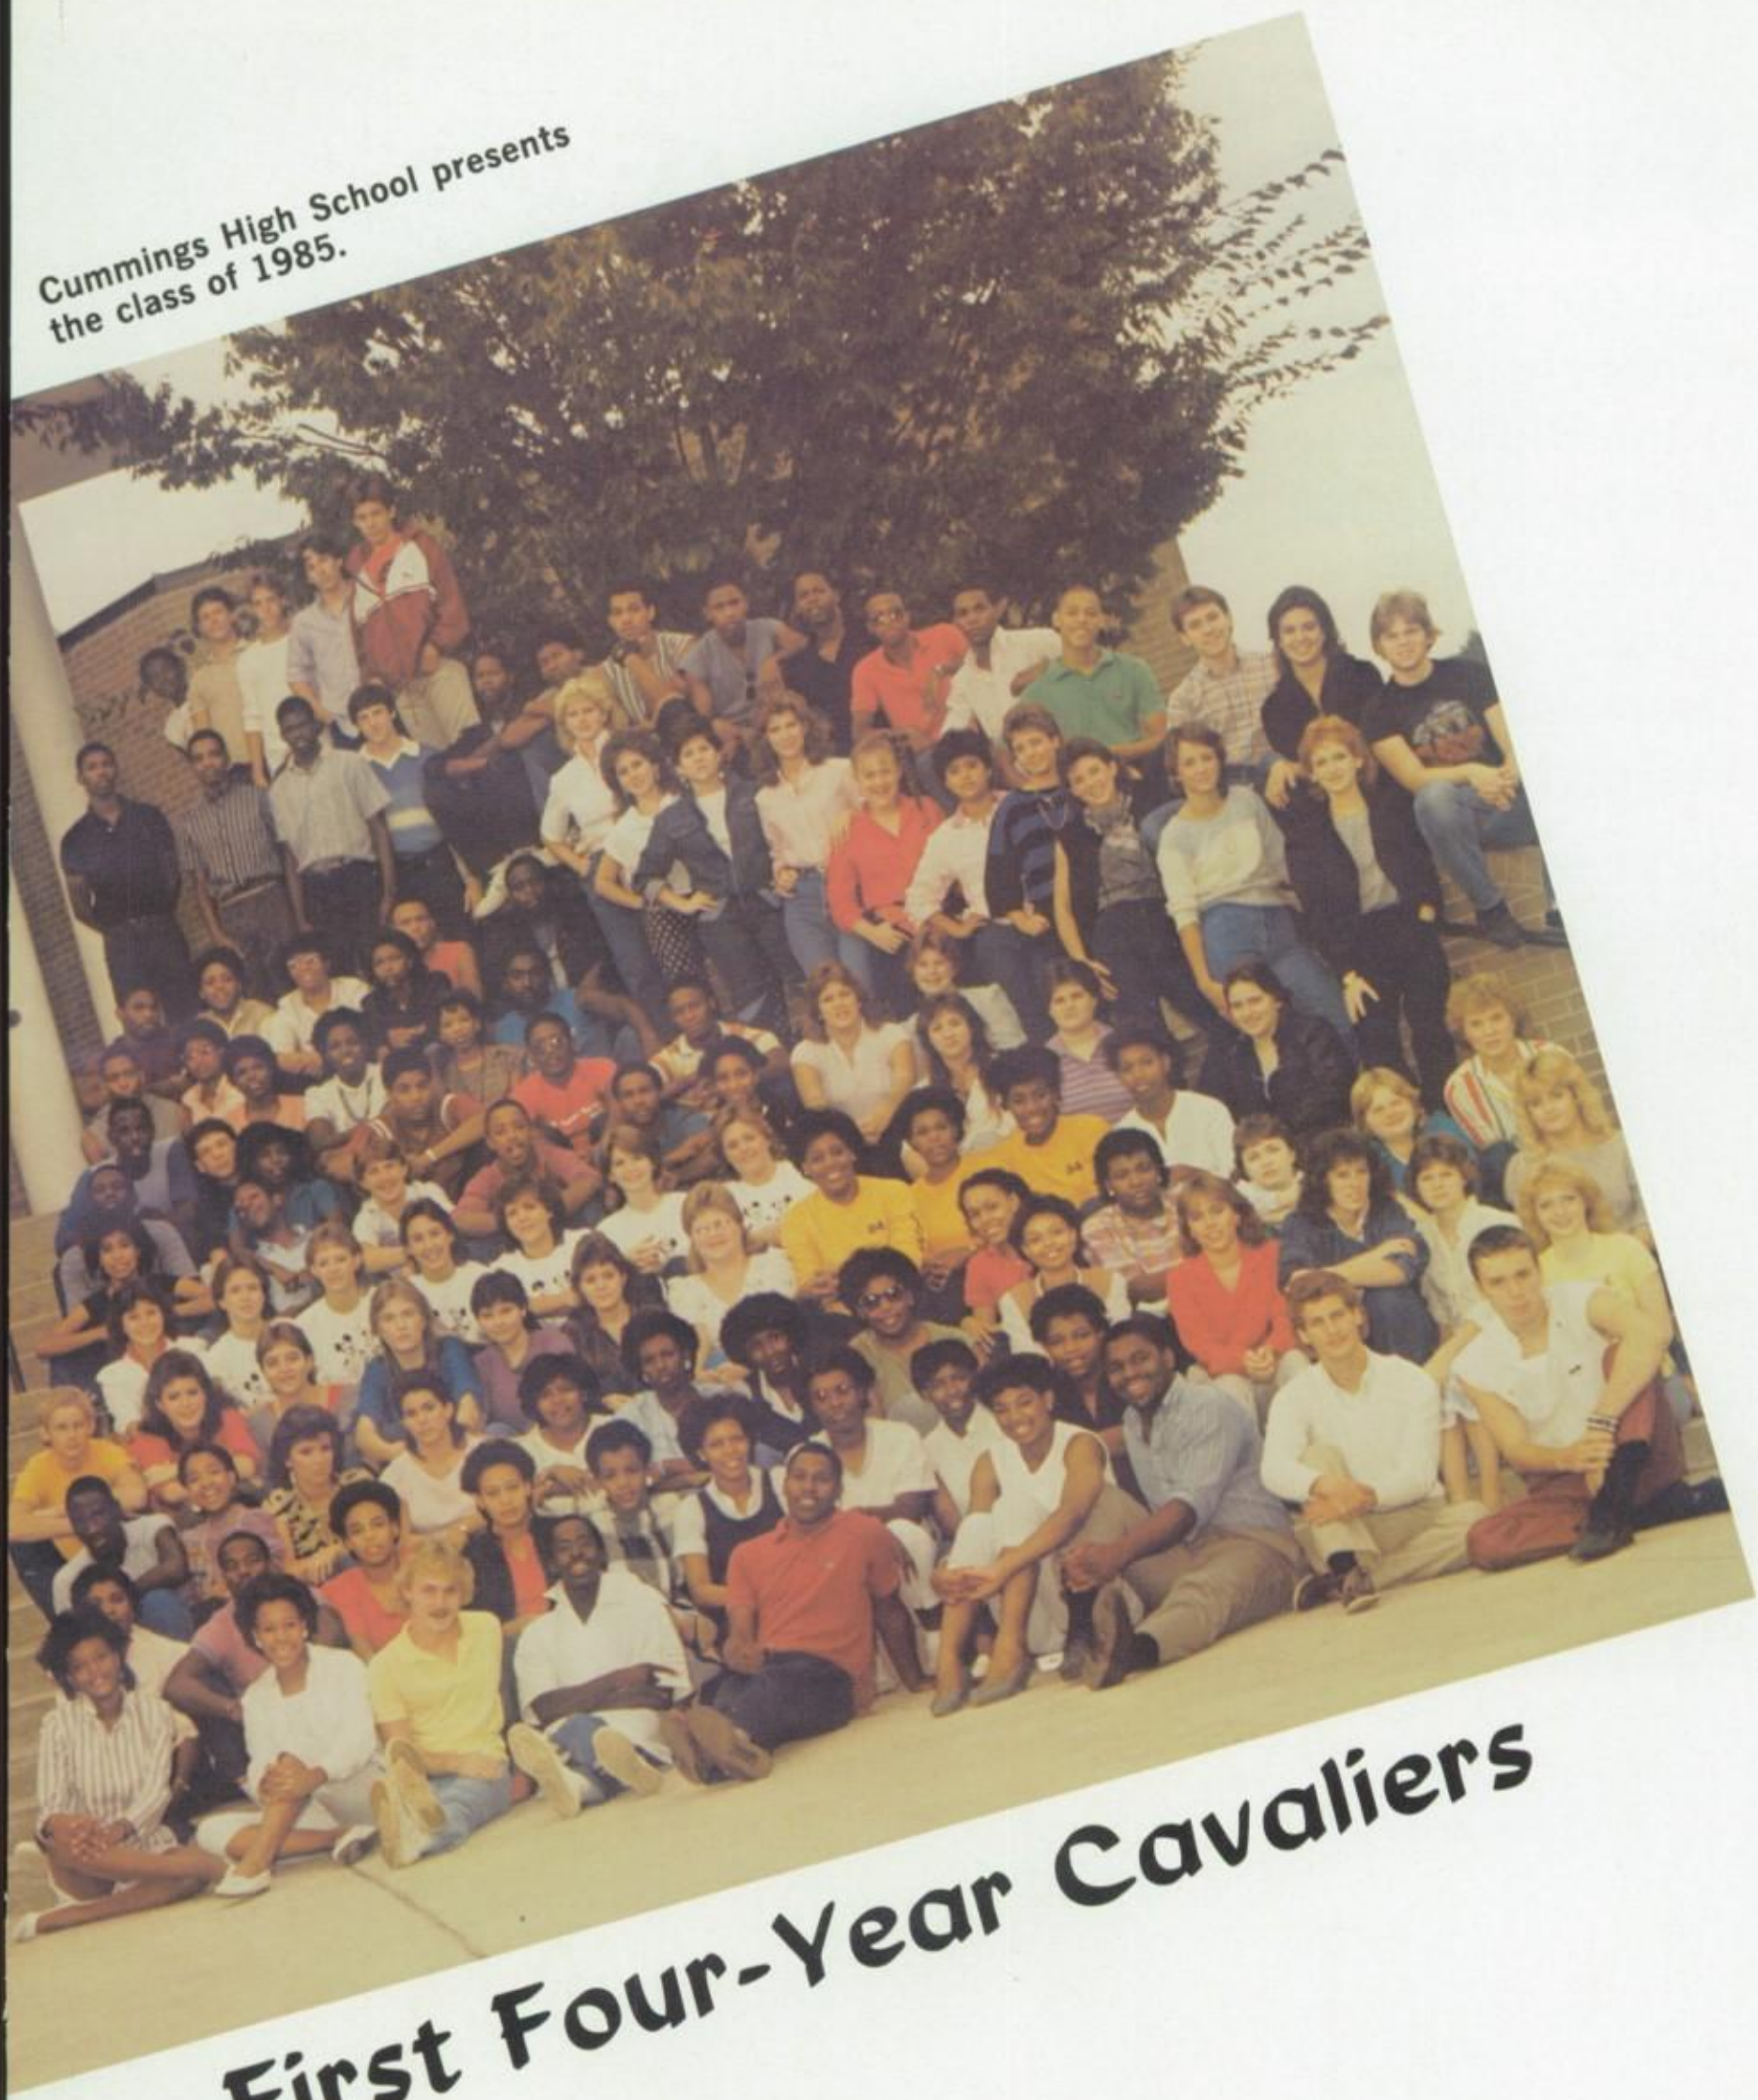
in Student Life

Four years ago the first freshman class at Cummings High School began its stay here. The diversity of this group has made this class a unique one, but the unity of the group has made it special. Growing together at Cummings, forming lifelong friendships, and developing mature personalities are some of the experiences all have had in different ways. Seniors' jobs vary from McDonalds to Lemco Hosiery Mill; interests, from music to science; and hobbies, from collecting stamps to collecting dates. Styles range from the obsolete preppy to the futuristic New Wave look; and the people, from outgoing to shy. Despite the individuality of this class, it has taken everyone working together to make the first four-year Cavaliers a successful team.

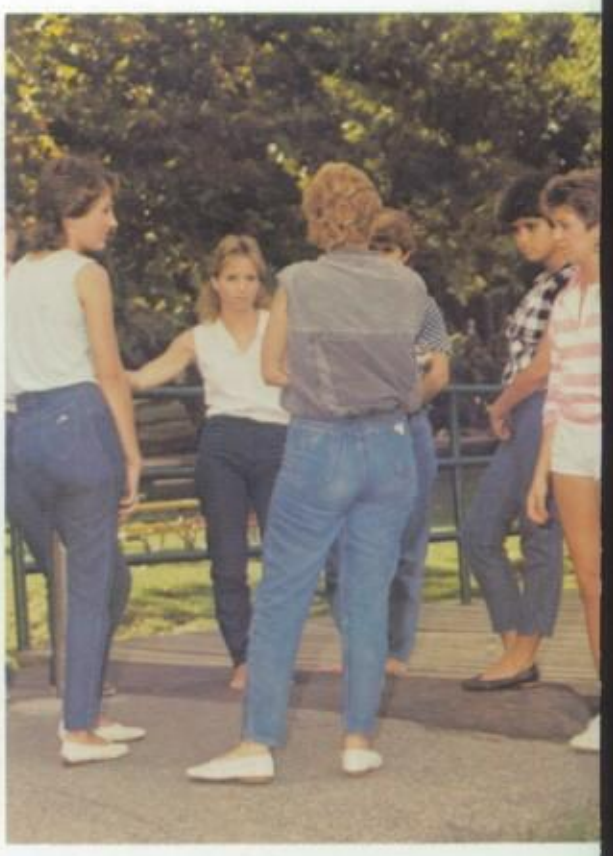




First Four-Year Cavaliers

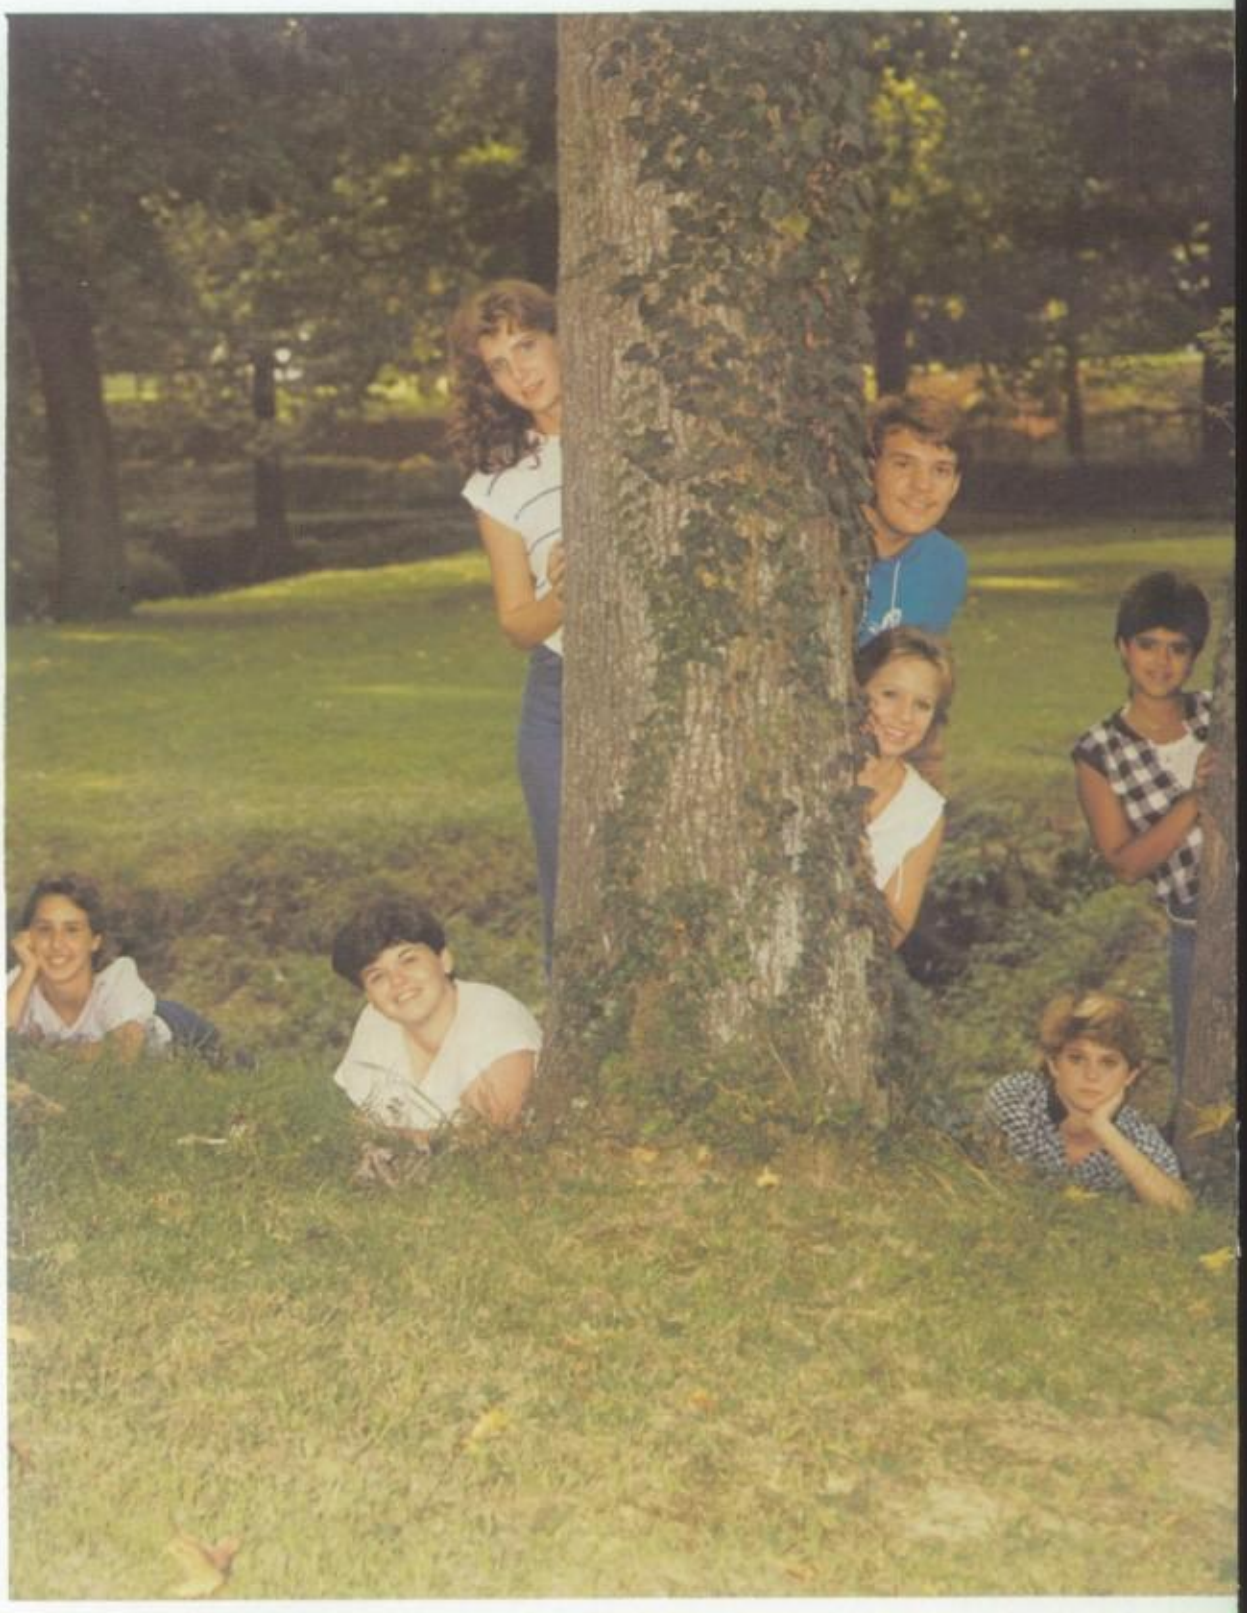
Fun Fun Fun

Just for fun, a bunch of people headed out to the Burlington City Park for a few laughs. Getting together after school with friends can be interesting and lots of fun. This is a great way to get caught up on the latest summer happenings and the new school year. Outside activities make the difference.



Barbie Andrews catches the girls up on the latest gossip.

Sneaky Kevin Sartin attempts to pull Sandra Ray and Sara Crabtree into the water.



Even upperclassmen know how to have fun.

These Cummings students have found an old-fashioned way to cool off.

The Burlington City Park appears to be a favorite hang-out for several Cummings students.

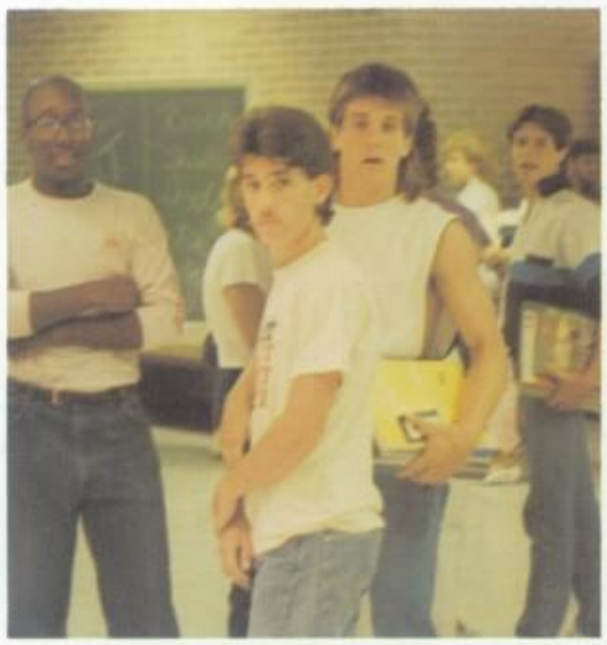
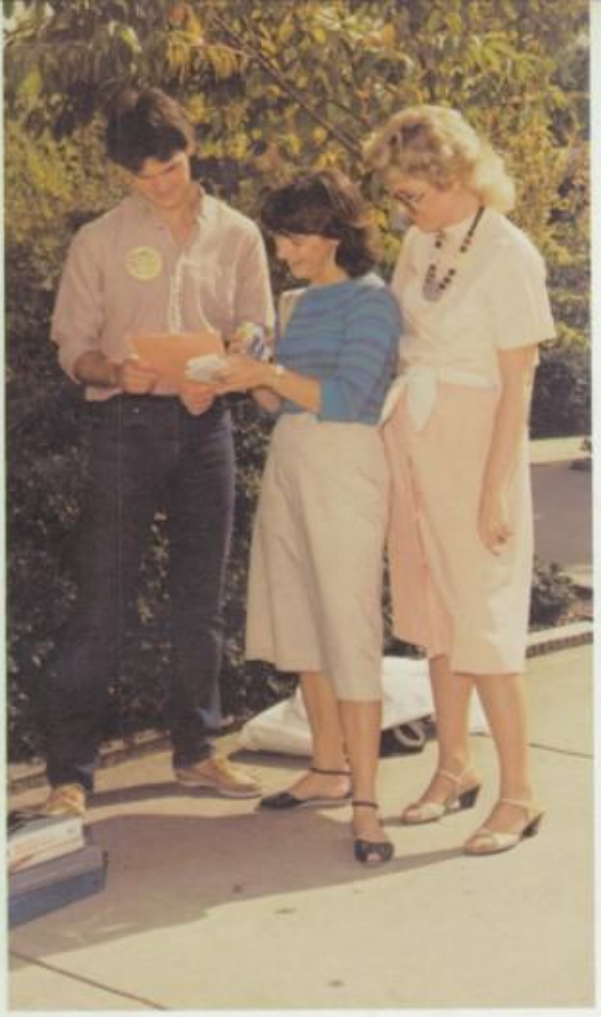
These underclassmen apparently have mixed feelings about the first day of school.

Tina Summers and Rene Gattis sport the current fashions at Cummings.





First Day Back

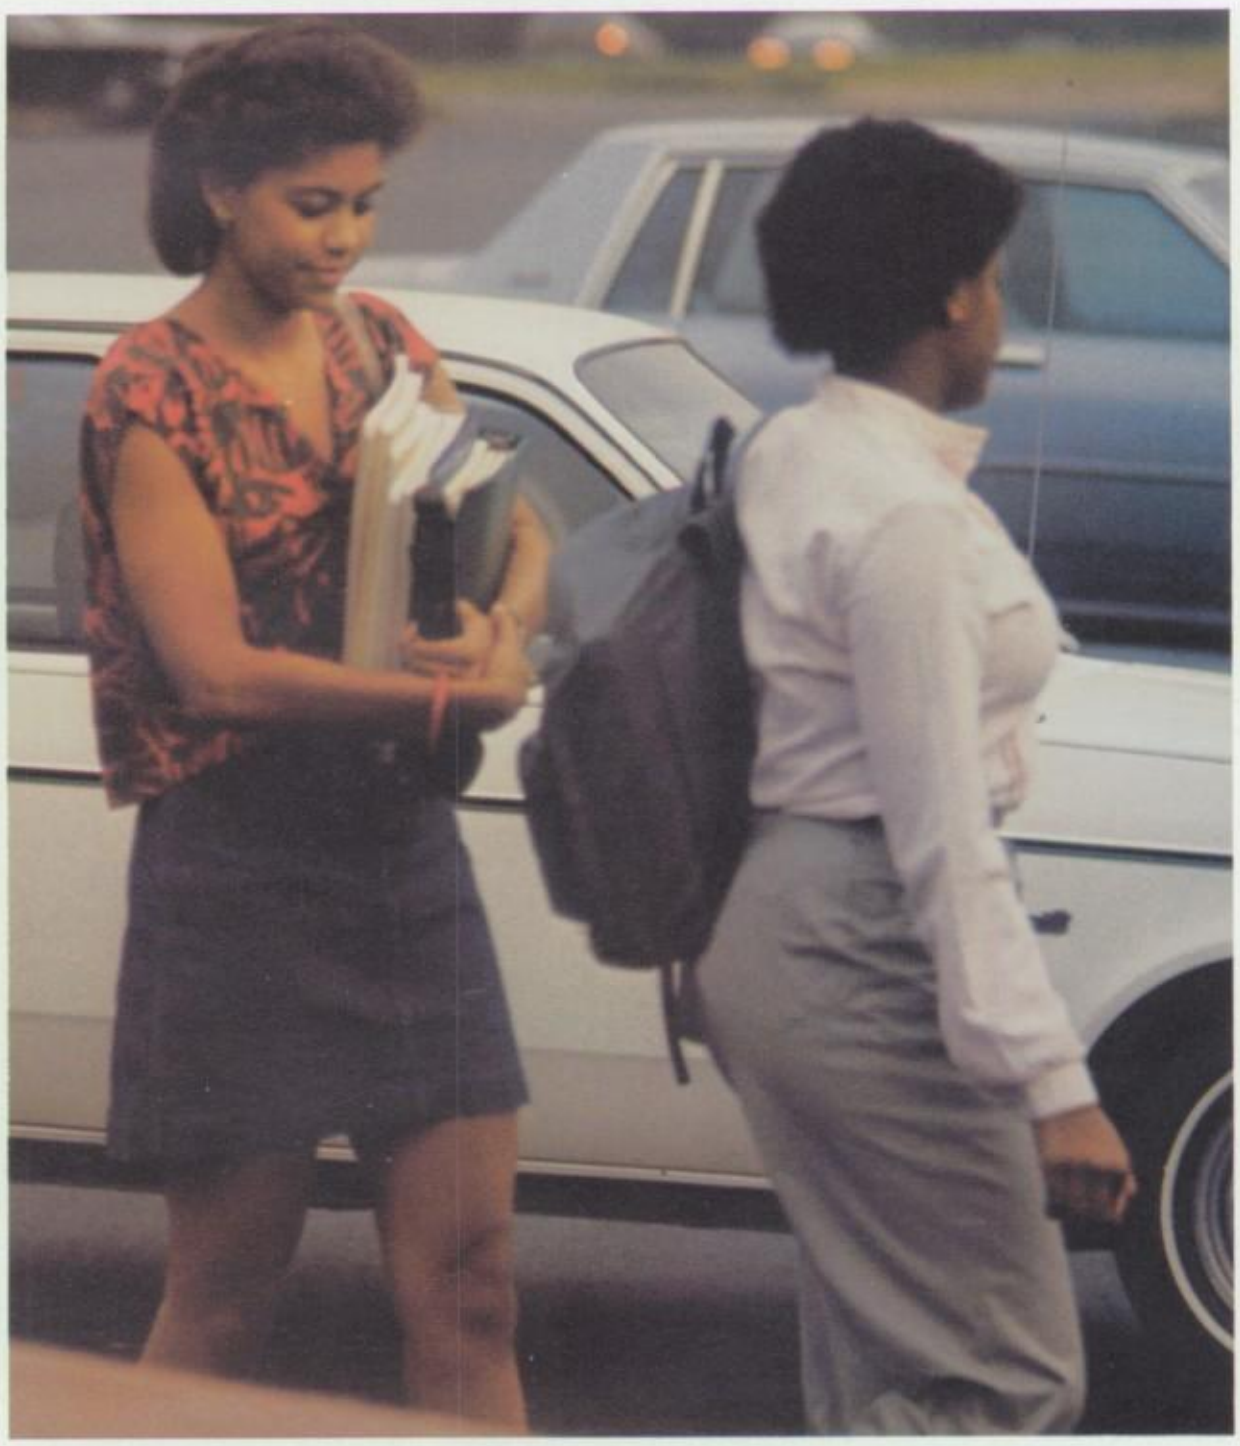
Cavaliers Return in Style

The first day of school is always filled with students sporting new clothes, a clean notebook, and an active case of the jitters concerning those classes the students registered for back in the spring. Cummings students also look forward to renewing old friendships and establishing new ones. Although the first day of school lasts only a half a day, it is packed full of excitement and anxiety.

Tim Roberts got some advice from Ms Taylor and Ms. Holmes.

For Rene Choim and Eddie Dickens, the first day of school included an unexpected ride.

Mrs. Padgett's art class used nature as the subject for their first project.



Lisa McBroom looks well prepared for the beginning of the new school year.

When You're Hot

Though the bell rings at 3:15, the school day is hardly over for many C.H.S. students. Being the best involves a lot of practice, but the long hours are certainly well spent. Our superior athletic and musical talents are obvious. Where? Just check them out at any game or performance!

Michele Christopher catches a breather during colorguard practice.

CARNIVAL

On April 12-14, 1984, the Cummings High School Fine Arts Department once again proved itself by creating a delightful performance of the musical, "Carnival." Under the direction of Mr. Glenn Peterson, with the help of Mrs. Nancy Jones and Mr. Terry Woodings, Cummings' students showed just how talented they really are. Mrs. Padgett provided her expertise in designing the set. We've said how we're "different" in academics and athletics; now we've proved we're talented musically, too.

A Touch of Class

"A Touch of Class" was the theme for the '84 Junior-Senior Prom. The prom was held May 5, 1984, from 8:00 until 12:00. Tracy Lambert, junior class president, organized this special event. Sophomores Chris McDowell, Michelle Lee, Anita Bigelow, Stan Leonard, Phillip Jones, and Marvin VanHook acted as prom servers. As the evening drew to a close, Wayne Shoffner and Beverly Dix were crowned Prom King and Queen. After the prom was over, people went various places. Laura Hall's after-prom party was widely attended. No matter where they went, most everyone agreed that prom night was an evening that they will never forget.

ASBESTOS

On June 8, 1984, the long-awaited, or to some people, highly dreaded process of asbestos removal began at CHS. Asbestos was used as a fire-proofing material during the construction of CHS. Recently, asbestos had been proven to be a health hazard, and plans for its removal were underway. Few problems arose during the summer-long project, and as the opening of school loomed closer, many people doubted school would open on time. A backup plan consisting of a double-shift at Broadview Middle School had already been devised, though, fortunately, it was not needed as school was delayed only one day. School officially began on August 27, and students were delighted by being dismissed at 1:00 the first two weeks of school. Getting used to the bare ceilings and scuffed-up walls was not easy; however, the over-three-million-dollar operation was well worth the cost and brought much local and statewide attention to CHS.

Here Come The Brides...

A yearly event sponsored by Mrs. Slack, Home Economics, and Family Life classes was held again January 9, 1985. This is the Senior Wedding, where students dress up and stage a mock matrimonial ceremony to prepare for the real thing later on in life. Just like a real wedding, this one had a bride and groom (two of each), ministers, ushers, bridesmaids, flowergirls, a best man, and even family. The wedding went well, no one cried, and the participants were eager to get to the reception.

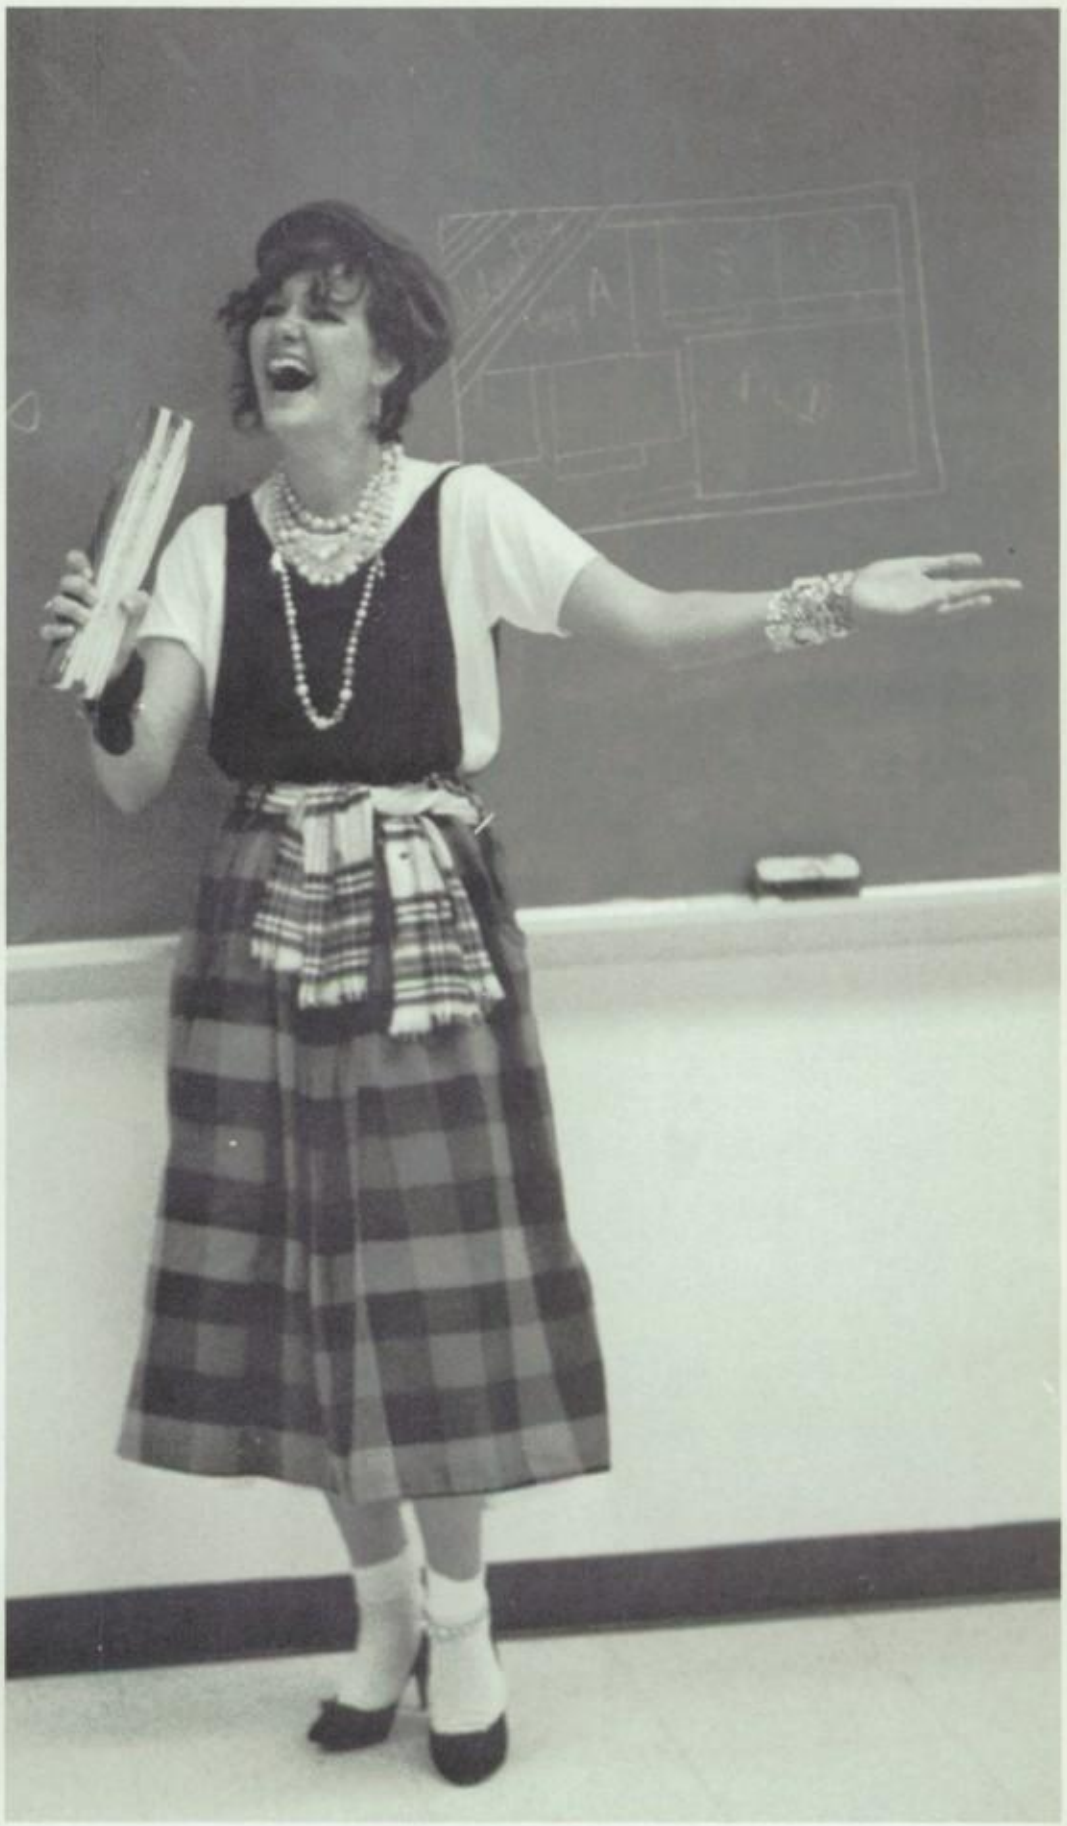
Spirit WEEK

Spirit week was the week of October 22 through 27. Lots of planning, working on floats, and choosing attendants and sponsors started before this time, but spirit week was the official beginning of homecoming. A great deal of creativity and originality were involved in the costumes of many Cavaliers. They ranged from that of a bum to elegant evening gowns. One Cavalier, Teresa Cheek, showed outstanding creativity and spirit throughout the week, and was chosen by the varsity cheerleaders as the winner of the spirit week competition. All this spirit paid off with a rousing victory over North Surry.

Nate Coleman and Todd Staley put their lives in danger to pose above the spirit-week poster.

We've never seen Cyndi Lauper use an eraser like that, Teresa.

Friends like Tina Roach and Sara Crabtree dress to impress each other.



Michele Rutledge is somewhat conspicuous, dressed as the lead singer of Twisted Sister.

While Amanda Smith looks at a magazine, others in the library can't take their eyes off of her.

Is that Cindy Haizlip or Boy George?

Gold Medal Performance

Homecoming, the Cavolympics, was the culmination of weeks and weeks of hard work. Hard work on behalf of the football team was rewarded with a smashing victory over North Surry. Hard work by the freshman class gained their float the distinction of being the best. And hard work by the students and faculty at C.H.S. paid off with a successful homecoming ceremony. All Cavaliers had a gold medal performance.

Making the Difference

High school may be established for education; but if there weren't any sports, school wouldn't be complete. Cummings' athletes thrive on competition because sports are important to them. Cavaliers train and play hard, and they don't join a team just to get a letter: they're another important segment in Cummings' winning tradition.

BASKETBALL

If Cummings High School were closed down today, one thing that would definitely be remembered is our basketball program. Cummings has always had one of the finest basketball teams in the state, due mostly to Coach Jerry Woodside and his ability to make the best use of his players in any situation. The players themselves should not be overlooked by any means. Cummings' young men work hard to play the way they do, and most of their best players make a name for themselves in their junior year, leaving a good continuity between teams each year. Cummings won the Holiday Classic and had another great season.

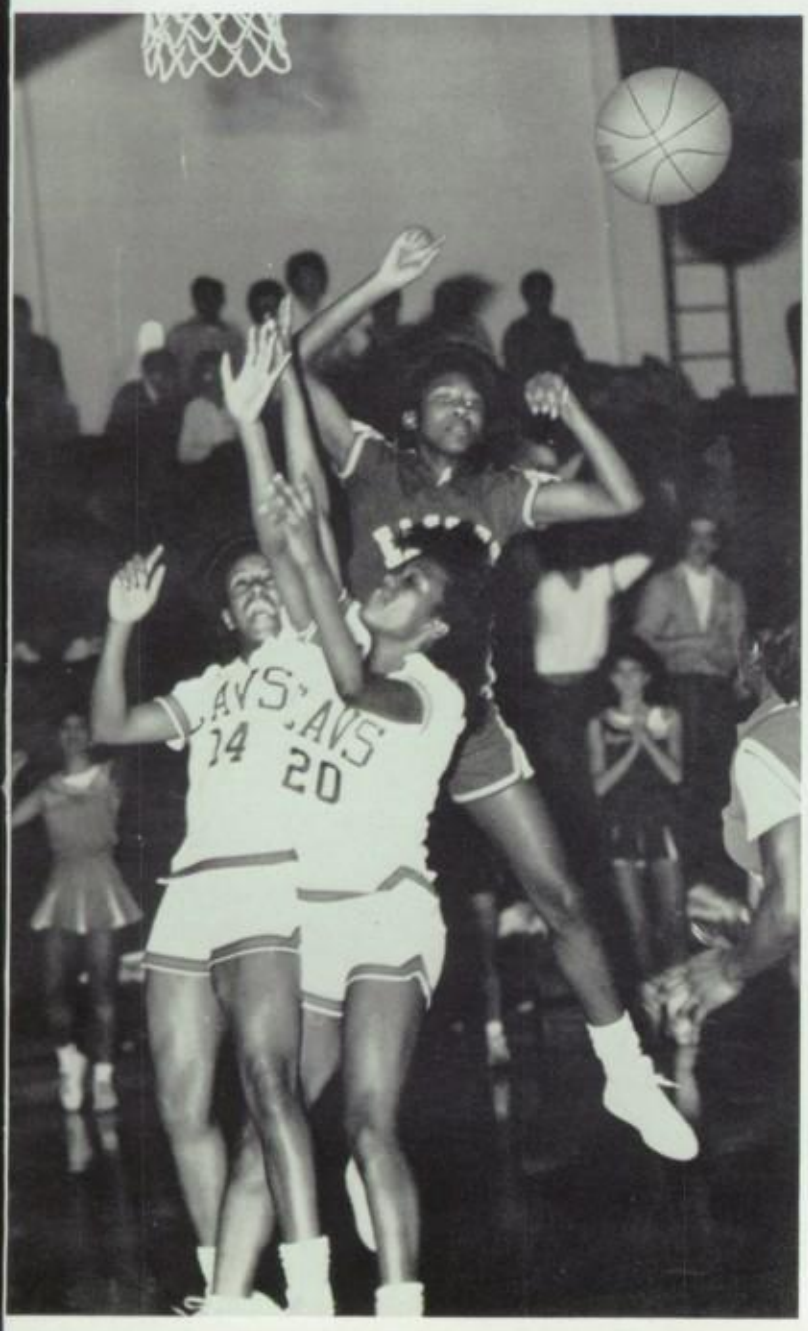
J.V. GIRLS — A FIRST



At Cummings High School everybody is given a chance to participate in an ever growing athletic department. This year more girls than ever were given an opportunity to play basketball because of the addition of a J.V. girls basketball team, coached by Coach Chubb.

YES WE CAN

The athletic program has taken on new dimensions this year, but fortunately one old dimension has remained. Coach Trogdon's philosophy of hard work and believing in true athletic dedication has continued. During the first half of the season, the squad won some very close games. During the second half of the season, however, problems arose and somehow things just would not come together. Rebuilding the team was one major concern for Coach Trogdon's young 84-85 Lady Cavalier Team. Relying heavily on the experience of senior Penney Sellars, the Lady Cavs looked forward to the tournament in February. Penney Sellars was for the second year in a row the leading scorer in the Mid-State Conference. The team captains were Penney Sellars and Debbie Thompson. The Varsity Girls' accomplishments are a reflection of the spirit: YES WE CAN!

J.V. BOYS BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity Boys were second in the conference with a 12-5 record. The leading scorers were Lamont Miles, Kevin Daye, and Derrick Barbee. Stephen Parker and Kevin Daye led in assists. The success of this year was due to the coaching strategies of Coach Moore, along with team captains Kevin Daye, Edward Muire and Derrick Barbee.

Conference Champs

This year has been the best yet for Cummings' wrestling team. Knocked into shape by Coach Franck Mensch, the '85 team improved themselves tremendously and began to take over the mats. The wrestling team was made up of all football players, which helped their team effort and sportsmanship. Coach Mensch was appointed Midstate Coach for wrestling, and the Cummings team won their first conference tournament. The team showed us this time.

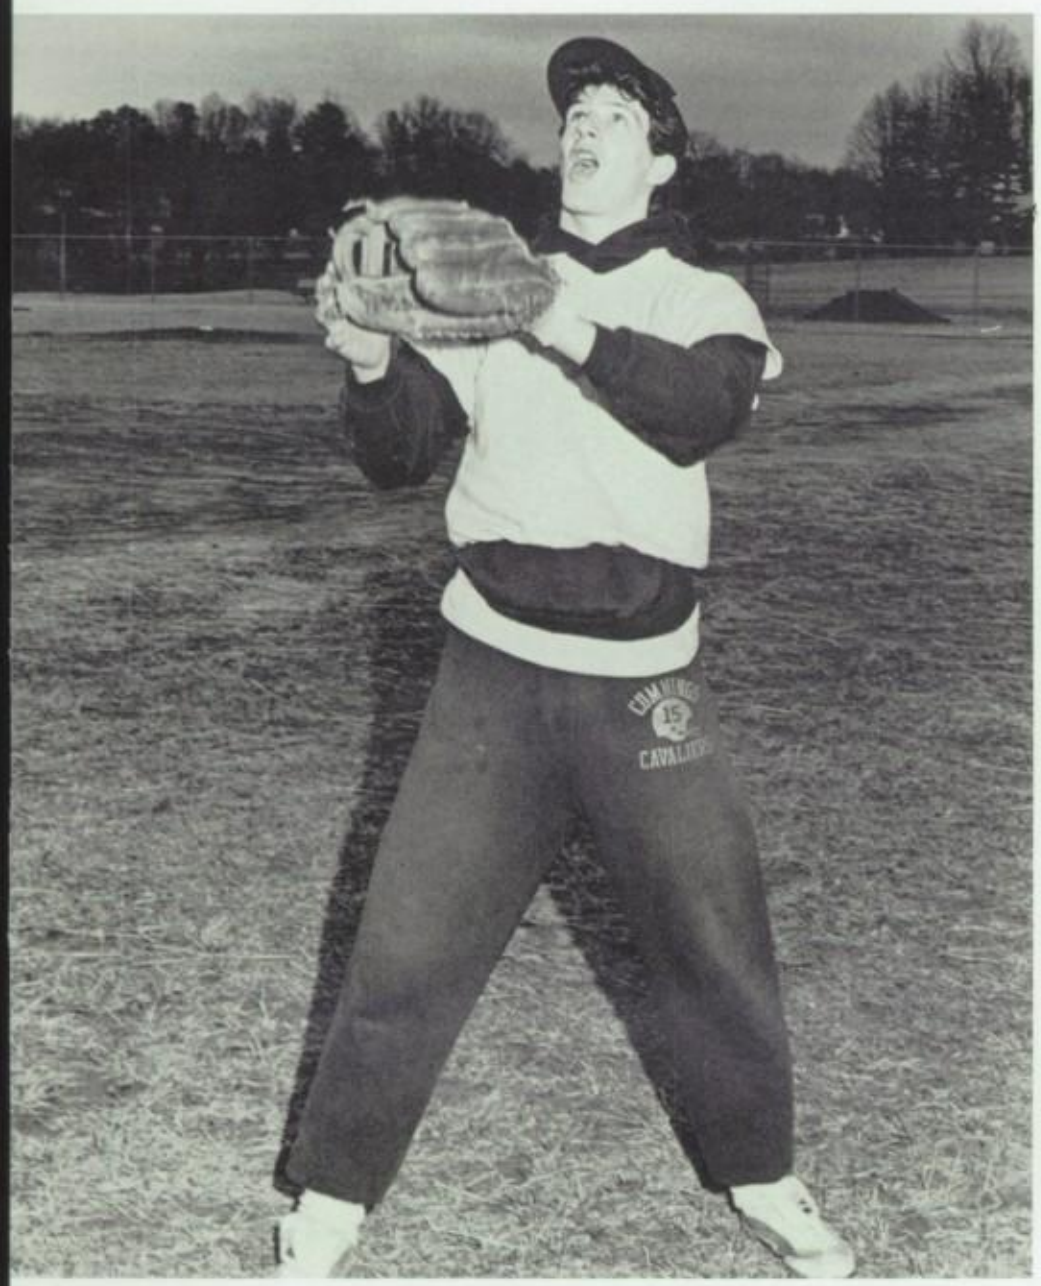
SPRING SPORTS



BASEBALL

Though these guys in sweat suits with baseball bats haven't even played the first game of the season, they do plan to be on the baseball team. They work just as hard as members of any other athletic team, and they should not be omitted just because they play closer to the end of the school year. Though you won't read this until after the season is over, work hard, guys, and good luck.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS
TILT CAVALIERS

There is one institution that is a standard of every high school and has been since our grandparents went to school. That institution is called the cheerleaders, and CHS girls are classic examples of cheerleaders. You know, they're the kind of girls who have always dressed nice, always been popular, and every guy wants to date one. However, the CHS cheerleaders are more than typical cheerleaders. They have more spirit, more talent, and show more concern for their work than most girls do. The cheerleaders have a big image to uphold and as the girls would say, "If we can't do it, nobody can!"

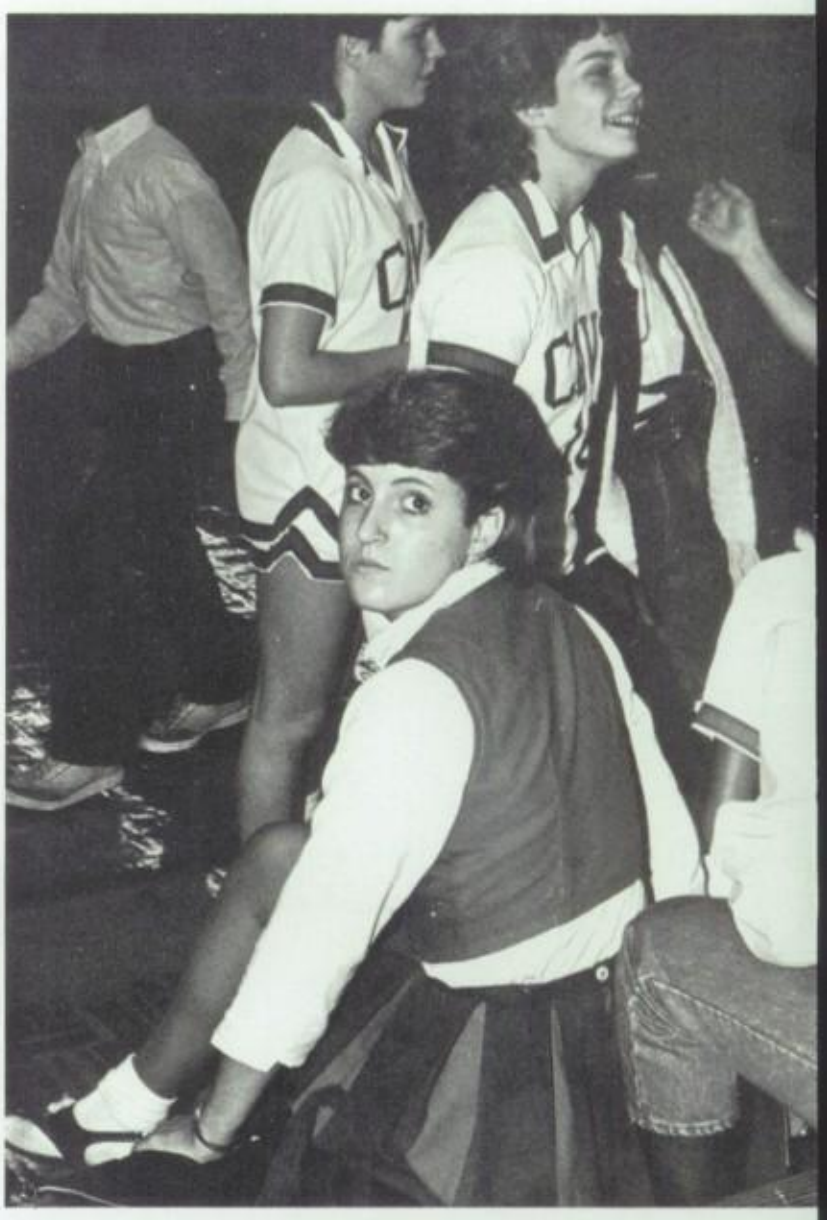
J.V. CHEERLEADERS



While J.V. cheerleaders are often pushed out of the limelight by their older counterparts, it should be remembered that before one gets to be a big cheerleader she must first be a little cheerleader! Each year in the spring, tryouts are held to pick the spunkiest, most spirited, and cutest girls. In addition to having these qualities, they must also maintain a certain average and display good conduct.

Making the Difference

Many factors go into making a high school like Cummings successful, but, without a question, people make the difference. Students, teachers, administrators, librarians, custodians, and kitchen counselors, cu workers are the peop

difference at CHS.

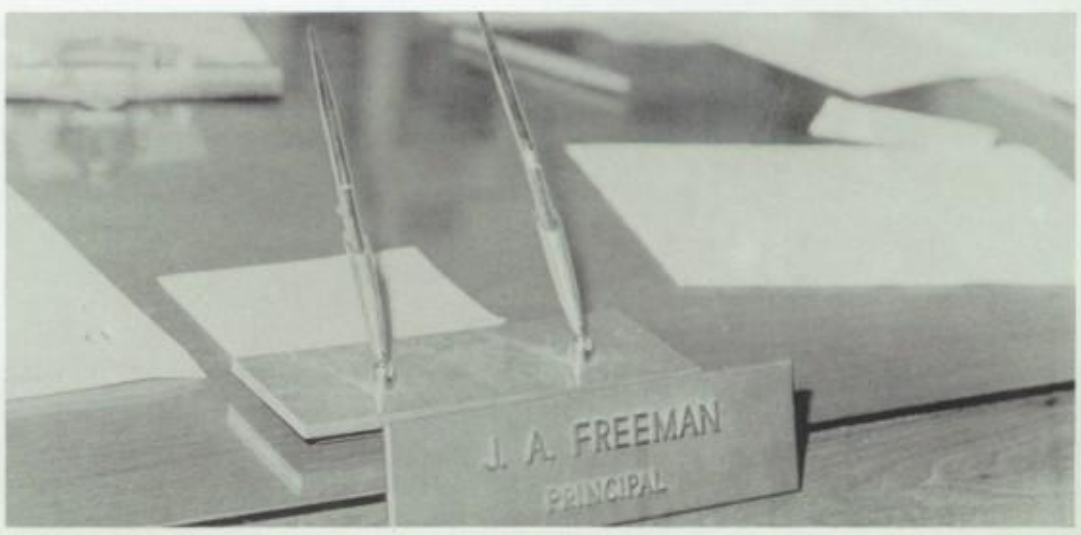
WITH PEOPLE

There's a fight in the commons, three stacks of paperwork to be done, something to be approved, six inches of water in Mrs. Small's room from the leaky roof, and to top it all off the phone is ringing. Who do they call? Mr. Freeman, of course! Who's going to take care of everything? Mr. Freeman, of course! John A. Freeman is more than just the principal of Cummings; he's a friend of students, as well as staff. His caring attitude and air of control set an organized feeling during times of chaos and give an overlying air of calm to all Cummings activities. Since CHS opened in 1970, every class that finished at Cummings has been proud to say that they had a principal that made a difference, J.A. Freeman. And why does Mr. Freeman continue to make this difference? It must be love!

Every morning, Mr. Freeman can be seen standing outside watching after his students.

John A. Freeman is to be commended this year for his fifteen years of service at Cummings High School.

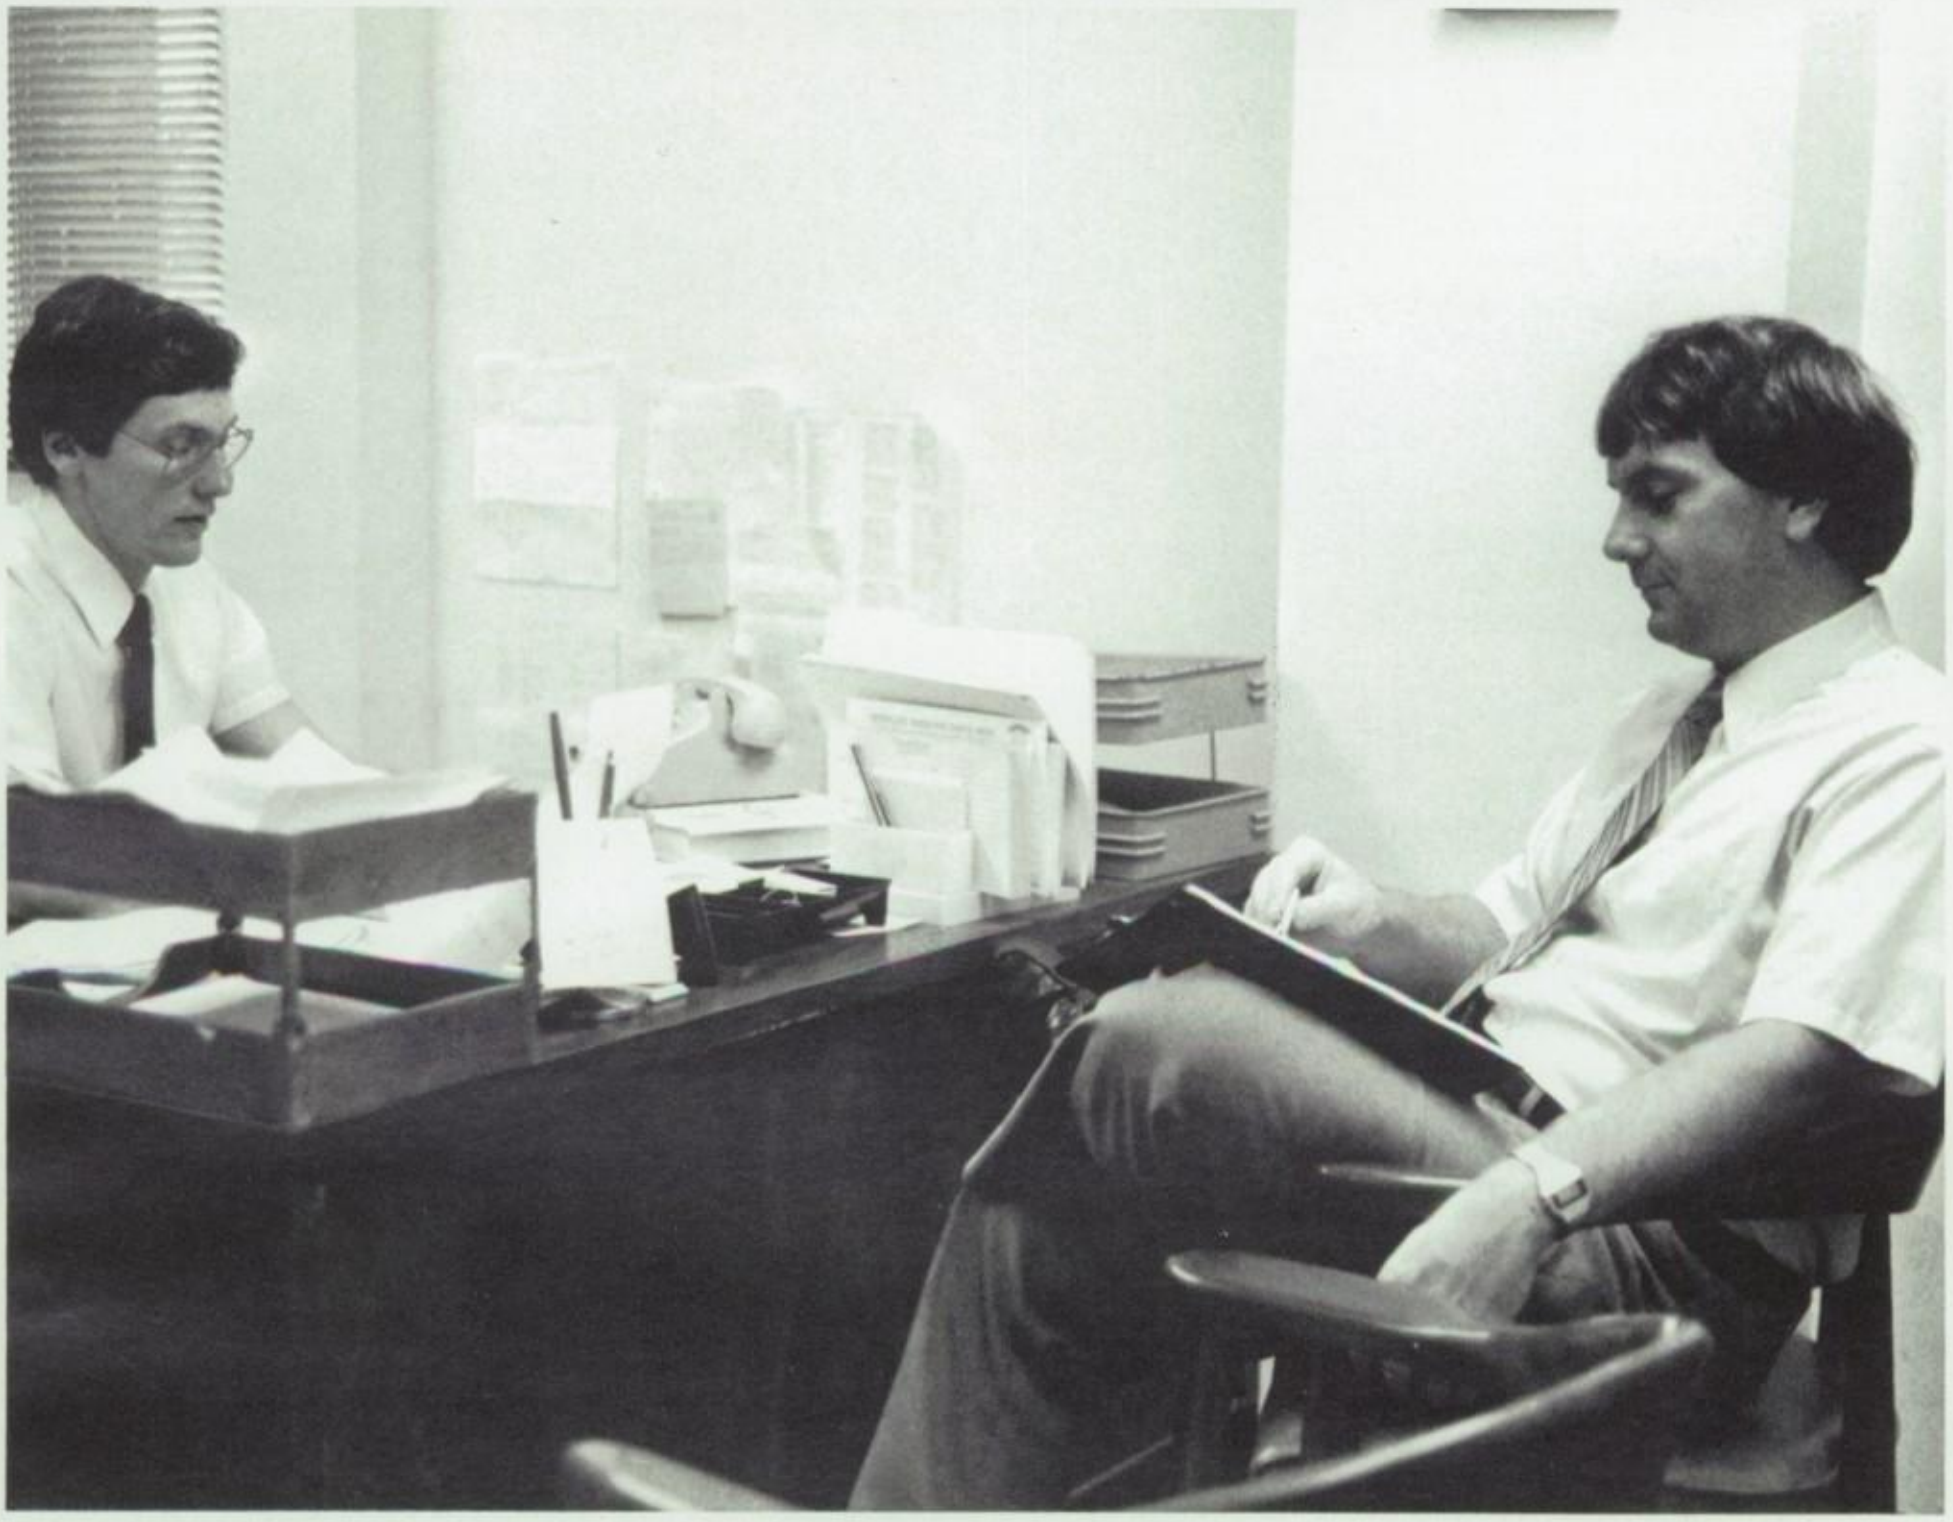


The name says it all!

JOHN A. FREEMAN

Mr. Bryan, well-known and well-liked here at Cummings, does more than just sit and work behind his desk. During his three years at Cummings, he has worked diligently to preserve the high standards of Cummings High, and he has maintained friendly relationships with Cummings students. He also does a fine job of taking care of the buses and hiring those that drive the buses.

RANDY BRYAN



Mr. Bryan and Mr. Aycock work together on important school business.

BARRY AYCOCK

After teaching Social Studies and coaching football at Cummings for a year, Mr. Aycock was hired as one of the assistant principals. As his friendly wave indicates, he enjoys working with people here at Cummings. Mr. Aycock is also Athletic Director at Cummings.

IN THE OFFICE . . .

There are many duties that school secretaries must perform. There are papers to file, phones to answer, announcements to be made, and there is always a student who needs to leave school. (I'm really sick, Mrs. Parker, I want to go home, not lie in the sick room.) Somehow, with the help of office assistants, Mrs. McIntyre and Mrs. Parker manage to keep things in correct order. Everyone appreciates the difference in organization that the office makes.

Never mind that the office was set up in the choral room over the summer, CHS secretaries did a good job anyway.

Mr. Bryan informs Mrs. McIntyre of some important phone calls that are to be made today.

Mrs. Parker pauses a moment to reflect on how many passes she has had to write today.

IN THE LIBRARY . . .

Mrs. Moore smiles big inspite of all the work she has to do!

Mrs. Williams refuses to be stumped as she looks up an answer.

473 S . . . Now where do all these books go?

Where would any Cummings student be without the school library? The library stocks a wealth of information from fictitious fantasy to factual non-fiction. There is something for all tastes: books, tapes, magazines, and resource materials to help with term papers. The library is also used for receptions and club meetings. Students are always thankful for the help of the librarians and library assistants, and the annual staff would like to especially thank Mrs. Moore, Ms. Phillips, and Mrs. Williams for all their help in producing this year's annual.

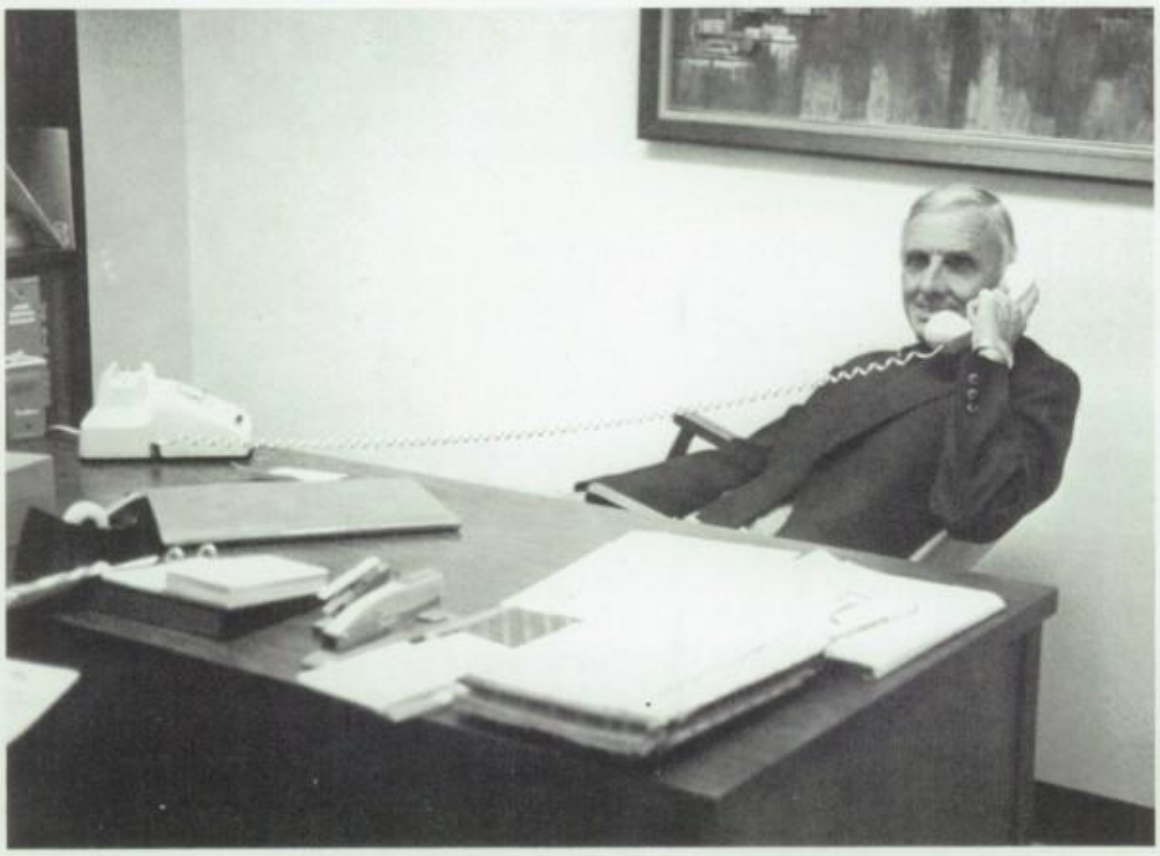
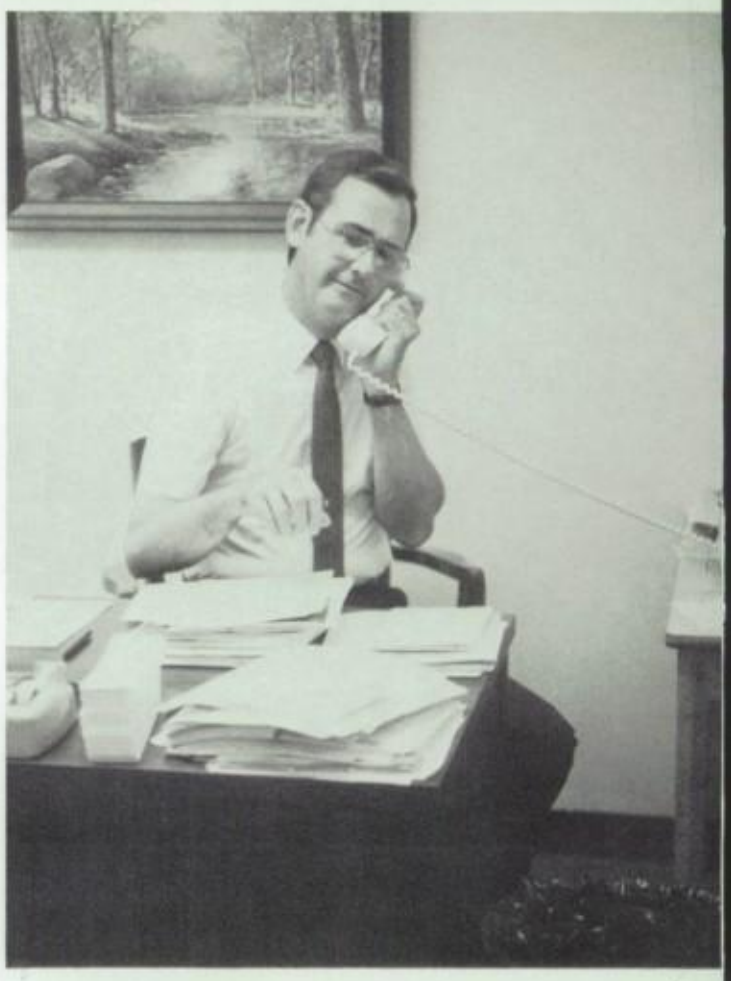
Guidance reaches out to touch everyone

High school prepares you for the real world, and the guidance counselors are some of the greatest helpers in achieving this goal. Mr. Wilkins, Mrs. Poteat, Mrs. Bolick, and Mr. Guthrie have to be prepared to give students good advice that may shape their lives, and anyone will tell you that this can be a difficult task. (Our guidance counselors really do more than just talk on the phone!)



Mr. Guthrie kicks back and gets down to business.

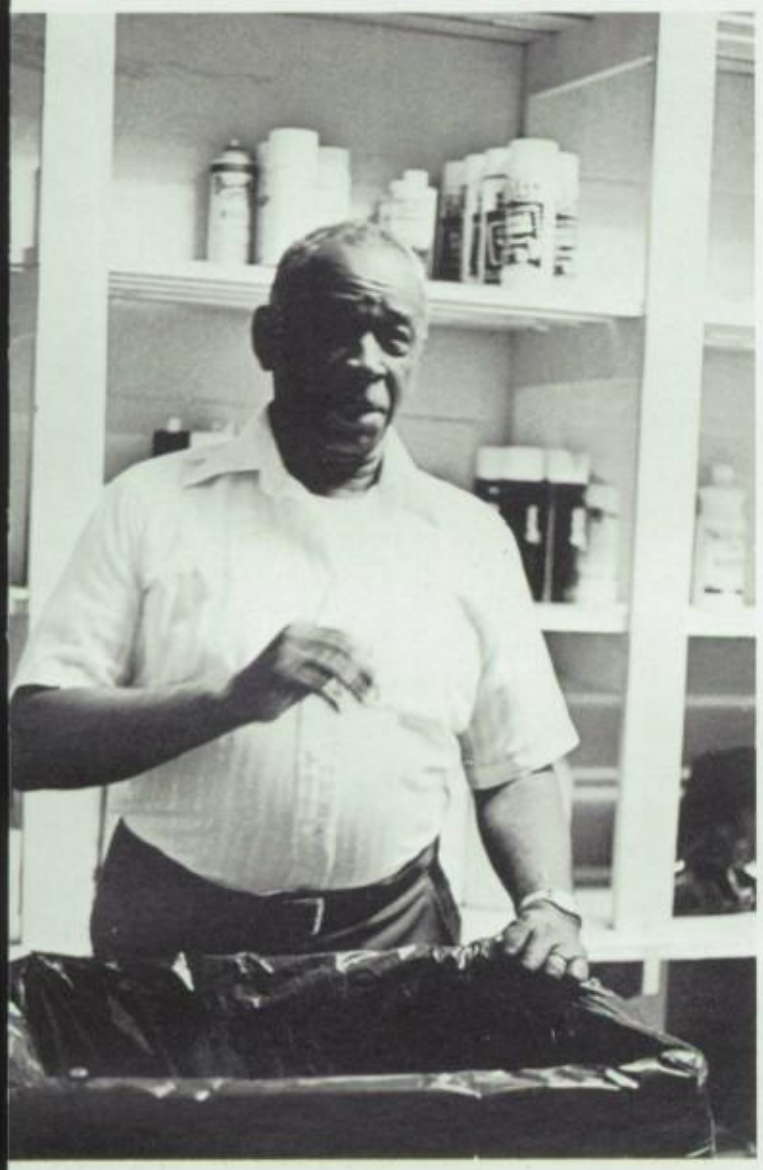
Mrs. Bolick, always on the go, takes a moment to answer a phone call.



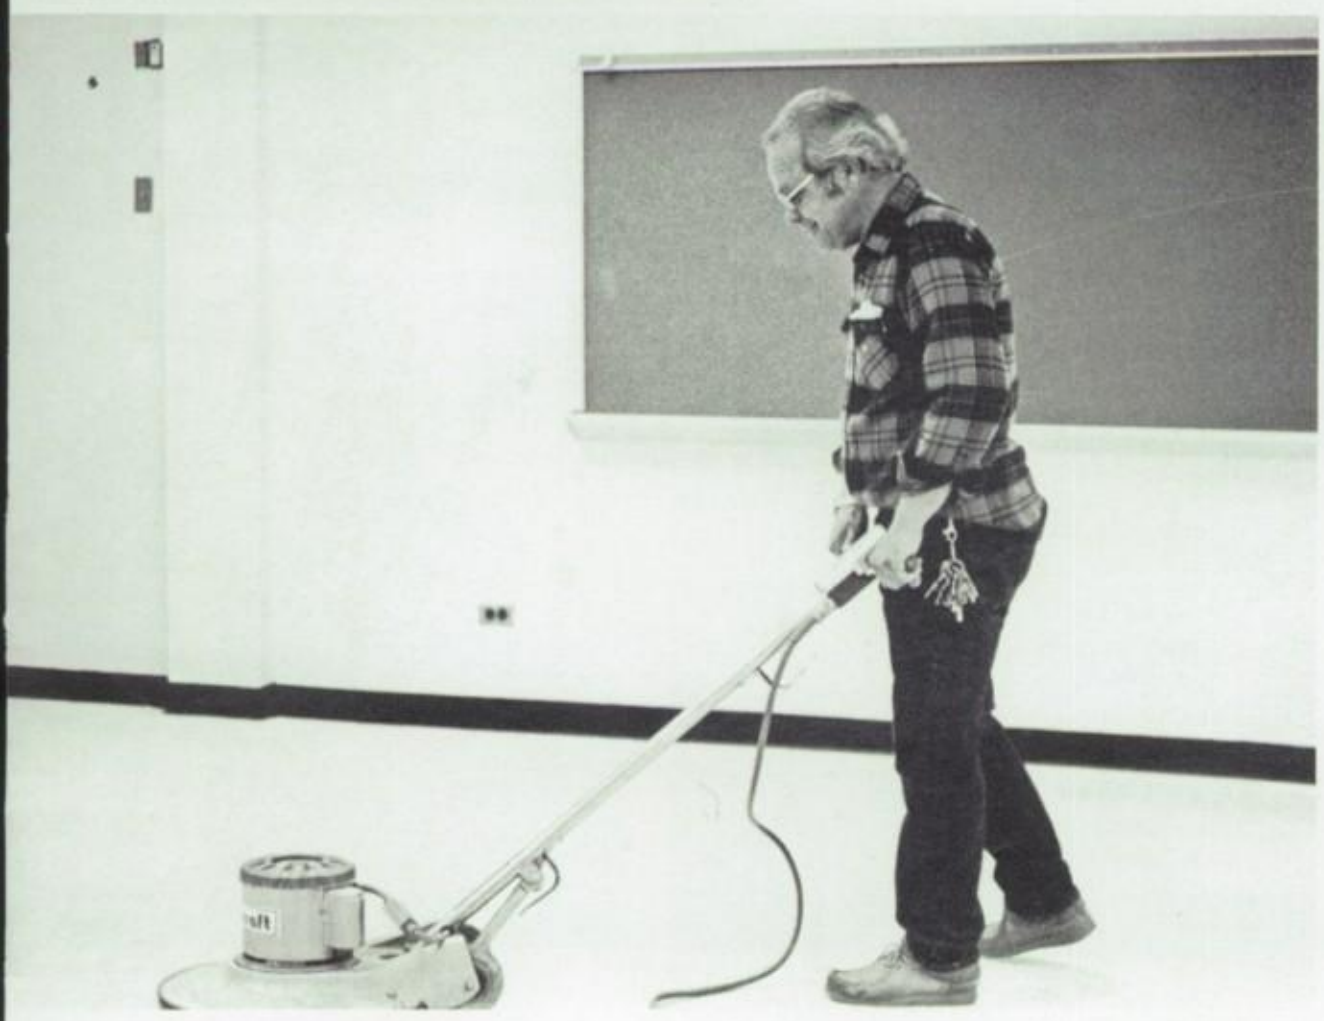
Mr. Wilkins checks up on college requirements.

In the tradition of Cummings' guidance counselors, Mrs. Poteat settles things with a phone call.

custodians make a difference everywhere



When that little bell rings twice, who's being called? The custodians, of course. If you really think about how many times a day that bell rings, then you'll realize how important the custodians are. If they didn't keep the school up, before long we would have nothing to be proud of. Without Mr. Caudill, Mrs. Briggs, and Mr. Johnson, this school wouldn't be the respected educational facility it is. The custodial staff make a huge difference.



Mr. Johnson is one of the friendliest faces at Cummings.

Mrs. Briggs makes it all look easy.

Mr. Caudill dares students to step on his waxed floor.

Cummings is well known for its faculty and the work produced by students under the direction of C.H.S. teachers. With foreign languages, English, and social studies courses being necessary for graduation and later college, teachers realize that they must motivate their students to excel in these areas. The teachers in these as well as in all courses at Cummings care enough to make the academic difference. Many teenagers have realized their full potential under the guidance and with the friendship of teachers here at Cummings.

From dissecting frogs to bisecting lines, math and science go hand in hand. The quality of the Cummings High School math department is evident in the high SAT scores of Cummings students and the many awards won each year in competitions. Biology classes prepare students for college courses in fields such as pharmacy and dentistry. Mr. Cook's dreaded, but fun, chemistry and physics classes go right along with algebra and trigonometry. Cummings is fortunate to have the excellent science and math departments that it does.

Art, Basic Learning, and Vocational classes are three programs Cummings is proud to excel in. The Graphics department prints all the materials for the Burlington City Schools System, thus providing a service to the community, while giving students "hands-on" experience. Other vocational classes also provide the opportunity for first-hand experience. The various levels of art classes produce many award-winning students each year. The Basic Learning program provides the fundamentals of learning, while giving extra help when needed.

President & Secretary

On election day, seniors were treated to the wild and crazy speech made by Danny Frye. He was escorted into the auditorium by four "secret service" agents protecting the future "president." Their efforts certainly paid off as that afternoon, Danny was announced Senior Class President. Another major election that took place that morning was for senior class secretary-treasurer. Michele Lee had the honor of winning this position.

As secretary-treasurer, Michele Lee handled correspondence and financial affairs.

Executive Committee

The Senior Executive Committee is an important part of the Student Council. From this group of six members, the student body president and other officers are chosen. Eric Bigelow, this year's president, attended a Student Government Convention in Texas. This is but one of many examples of dedication that the Executive Committee has shown towards Cummings High School. These officers are credited with getting permission for all classes to achieve a four-year goal: having floats at Homecoming. Though the senior class float did not win, it was truly #1 in the eyes of the seniors.

The Senior executive Committee consists of Kim Payne, Sara Crabtree, Lee Caudill, Tina Roach, Sabrina Sykes, and Eric Bigelow.

Seniors DIFFERENTIATE

You've been told how everybody here at Cummings makes a difference, but there is one group that makes a BIG difference. They are the SENIORS. This isn't just any senior class either; this is CHS' First Freshman Class and there is something about them that separates them from all the past and future graduating classes. Something makes them special — really different — and in 10 years when they come back for their reunion, they'll find out just what it was. When graduation comes, these people will all differentiate (look it up!) and wherever they go, part of this school will go with them. One really important difference is that this class has more than its share of winners. Never before has a class had so many academically and athletically inclined students. What is it that makes them different? What is it that makes them THE CLASS OF '85?

Juniors. What can you say about them? They're the group that says, "One more year!" They've been here for three years and feel like they're in control, but little do they know what lies ahead next year! Now that last high school summer is drawing near, they must live it up while they can.

THE SOPHOMORE ZONE

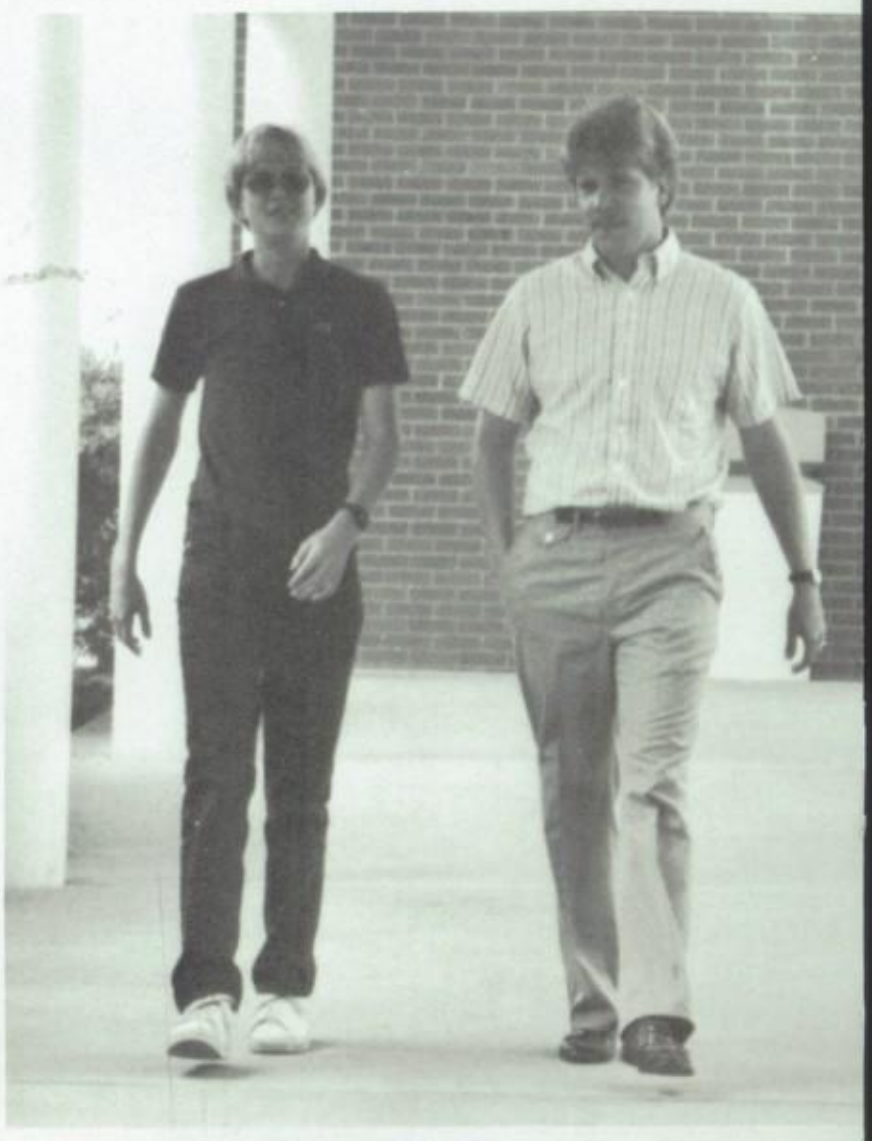
★Sophomore means not being the youngest group anymore. It means not being the most picked on. (Now they are 2nd most!)

★Being a sophomore means dressing out for P.E. every day. It also means Drivers Ed. and the BIG PERMIT! (Remember dragging Mom or Dad out of the house to take a spin around the block?)

★The sophomore year is not just one-fourth of your high school life, it's a growing experience full of many memories, both good and bad.

Mike Ball and Lori Fitch (a freshman) attend a football game.

Friendships are an important part of everyone's life, as shown here in a group of sophomore girls.



Mike Talley discusses "band" with Mr. Childress between classes.

These sophomores seem to really "get into" their work. (They must be having a test tomorrow!)

The halls are empty, and it looks like Cheryl Robertson is going to be late for her next class.

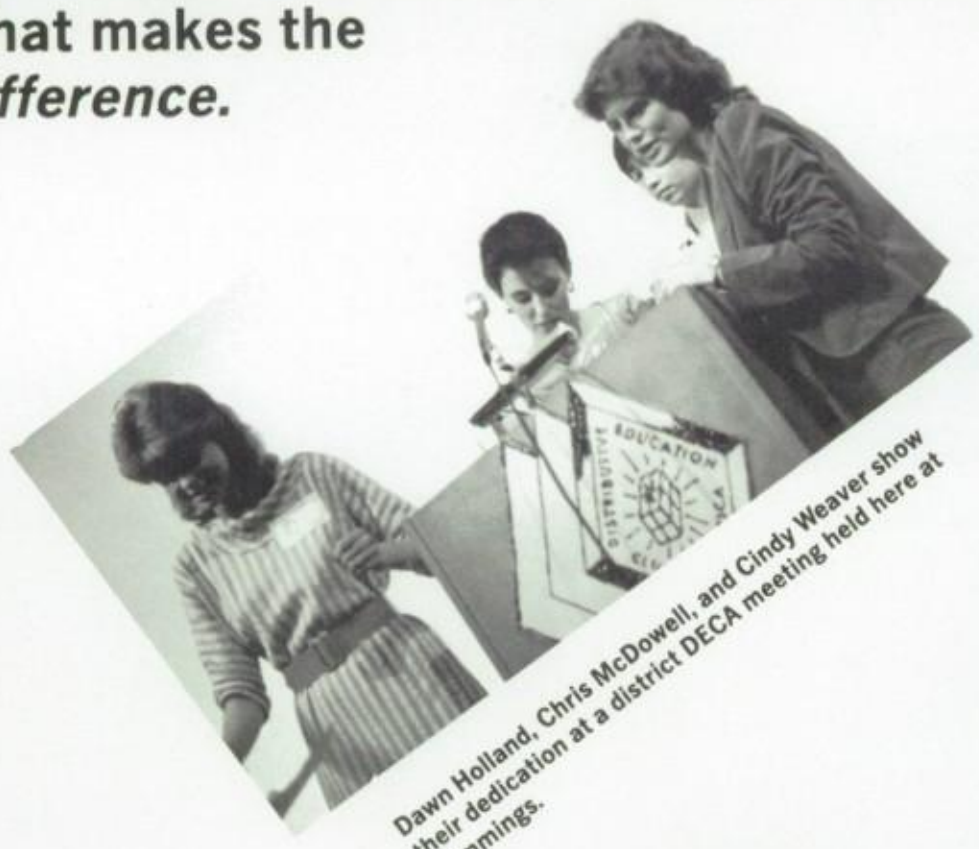
Making the Difference

One aspect of a typical Cummings student's extracurricular life is participation in clubs. The variety of clubs at CHS ranges from service groups to foreign language clubs to musical organizations. The clubs are as different as the students who participate in them. No matter what type of club a student may be a member of, one thing is for certain: they participate because they want to, and, after all, participation is what makes the difference.

Beth Warren and Meg Southern remain relatively calm despite the chaos at a chemistry club meeting.



Dawn Holland, Chris McDowell, and Cindy Weaver show their dedication at a district DECA meeting held here at Cummings.

The CHS mascot, Judy Robbins, has enough spunk to be her own pep club.

Each club chose a sponsor and escort to represent it in the Homecoming parade. Here, Linda Rodgers is escorted by Don Tingen.

During a meeting Student Council members play a get-acquainted game.

The Student Council at Cummings has completed many successful projects. The club has been responsible for stadium clean-up, selling candy canes at Christmas, and selling spirit buttons before special ballgames. Mrs. Joyner, as advisor of such a large club, deserves a thank-you for all the time and effort that she has put forth to make Student Council a big success!

Student Council Officers: President, Eric Bigelow; Vice-President, Scotia Lee; Treasurer, Tina Roach; Executive Committee, Sara Crabtree; Sergeant-at-Arms, Lee Caudill.

CALVACADE STAFF

This year Calvacade got off to a slow start because all work and meetings had to be done — after school. The staff is very young and inexperienced, and needs student and staff support to continue its production.

Susan Mills and Corey Smith represented the Calvacade staff as homecoming sponsors.

SPECTRUM STAFF

The Literary magazine, Spectrum, features short stories, poems, and artistic works. The 1984 edition of Spectrum placed third in the annual North Carolina Historical and Literary Association.

~~Animal~~ oops

Considering only one person signed up for annual staff during spring registration last year, we've certainly come a long way. After getting a late start on ad sales, we finally managed to get our act together three (maybe two) weeks before our first deadline. Though none of the staff members receive any credit for the class, the work we've put in could easily be compared to that of two or three classes.

As I'm sure you've already noticed, (If not, you haven't been looking hard enough!) this edition of Nulli Secundus is unlike any previous one. Jeff Parker, along with Mike Richardson, designed the radical cover, and Paula McCaskill produced the variety of headlines on all the pages.

The publication of the annual could not have been completed without the help of the following people: Mr. Millspaugh for letting the staff raid the Graphics Dept. sixth period every day; the Library, whose typewriter never failed us when ours decided to take a vacation; Mrs. Baumgarner, for allowing 12 restless attendants, 2 grumpy teachers, and 3 tired staff members into her home for homecoming pictures; and to Mrs. Bolden who always seemed to recognize those underclassmen we just couldn't put our finger on.

Beth Warren and Kyle Willis represented SAS during the homecoming events.

For the more scientific-minded students of Cummings, the Student Academy of Science was begun in 1979. Led by Donna Oliver, the purpose of the club is to promote the study of science outside the class. This year, the club has had guest lectures on science careers, how to conduct scientific study, and medical technology. Of course they had their usual parties and field trips. "This is a very inquisitive group of scientists, and this is the largest club ever with 61 members," says Mrs. Oliver, "and the students make the difference."

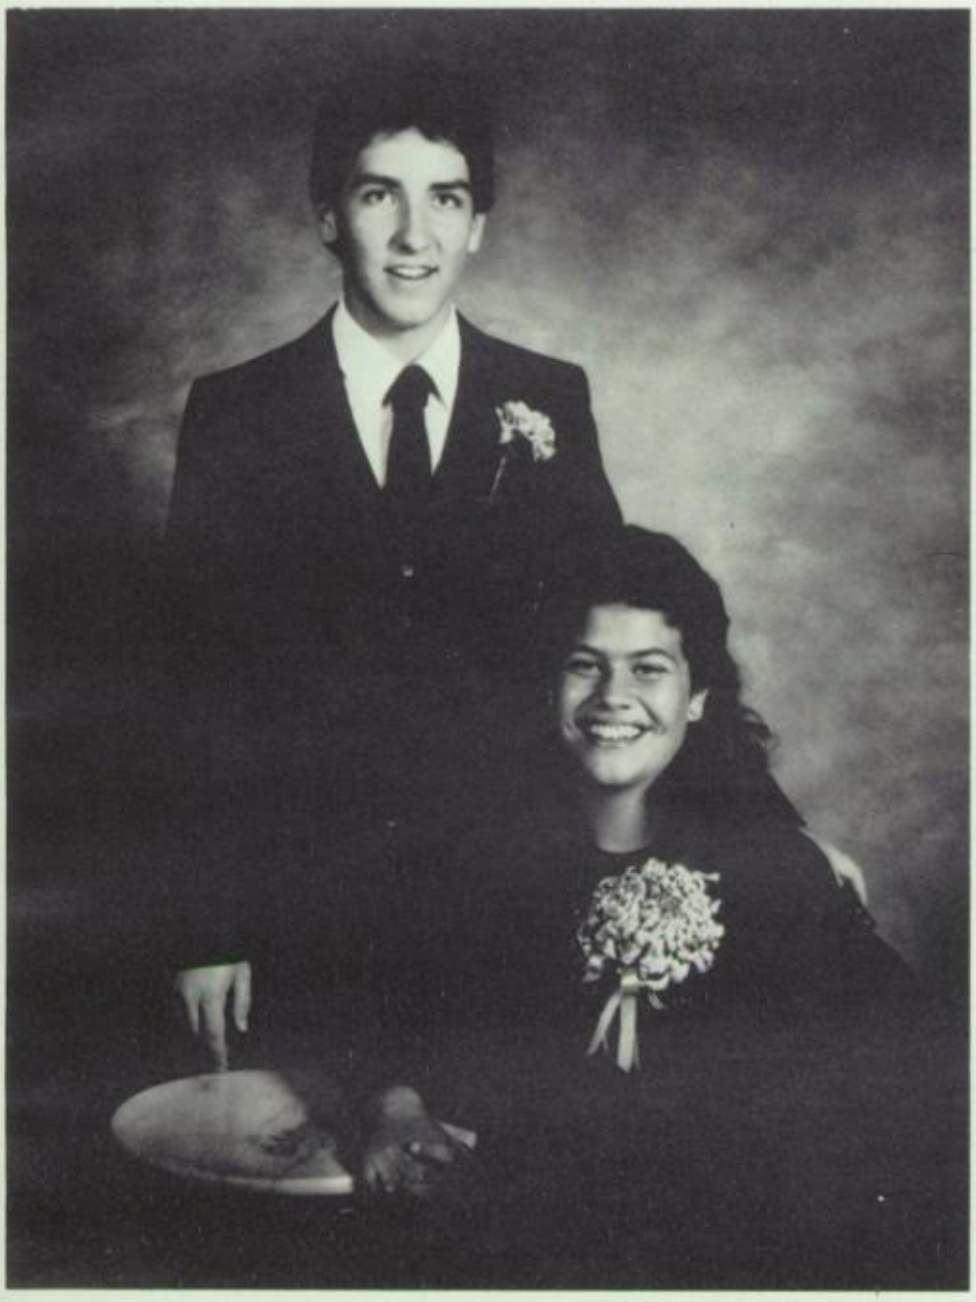
SPANISH CLUB

As usual the Spanish Club celebrated each month with its parties at Mrs. Millicovsky's house. They also hosted a dinner for the custodians. The Spanish Club showed its interest in the community by sponsoring a family for Christmas Cheer.



FRENCH CLUB

The French Club got off on a busy start with Tracy Kimbrough as President. They went on a shopping trip to Greensboro during Thanksgiving vacation. During the Easter vacation, some of the members took a trip to France. Under the leadership of Madame Mason, the French Club has been very active. They also raised money to attend a French restaurant.

Scotia Lee and Brett Guthrie represented the French Club as homecoming sponsors.

D.E.C.A., Distributive Education Classes of America, is a large club that plays a part in many lives here at C.H.S. Distributive Education is a course in which students learn about different business careers, as well as receive on-the-job training. The D.E.C.A. Leadership Conference was held here at Cummings. Many area high school students attended.

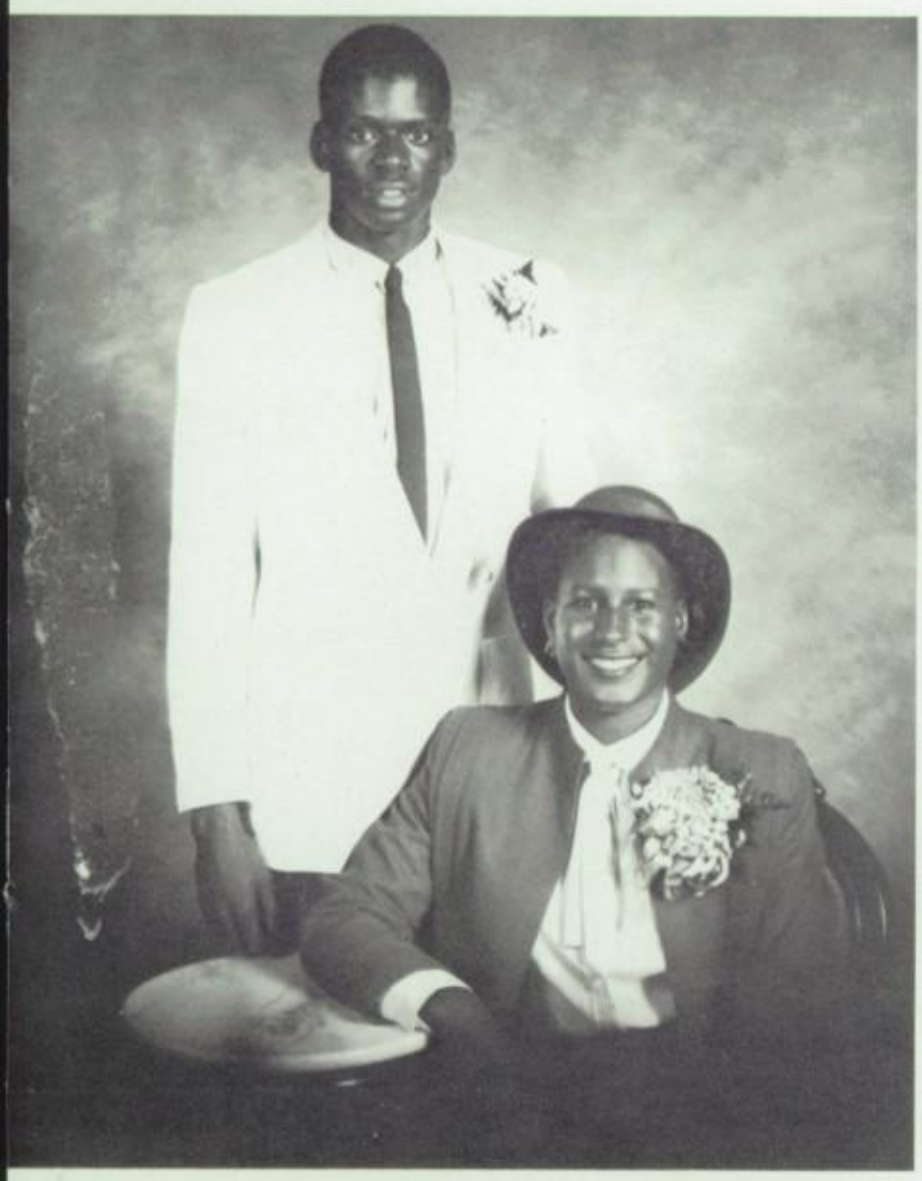
THEATER ARTS



During the game you can always find the Spirit Club together cheering their classmates on to victory. They help make the game exciting.

Theater Arts is a new class at Cummings this year. The success of this new class is due to the dedication of the students and the leadership of Mr. Peterson. Support and dedication always make the difference.

F.B.L.A.

FBLA members have been busy this year. In addition to participating in the homecoming parade, members demonstrated business finesse by sponsoring a type-a-thon for the Leukemia Society. Over $300.00 was raised for this charity. The group visited a rest home before Christmas and carried cheer baskets to the residents. Following this, the annual Christmas party was held.

The District Five Competitive events were held in Greensboro in February. Entrants included Michelle Long and Christie Bigelow in Graphic Arts; Beth Warren in Clerk-Typist I; and Anita Jones in Clerk-Typist II. State competition will be held in March in Winston-Salem. Results of these competitions were not known at this printing; however, if past years are any indication, FBLA members will do very well.

Activities scheduled for the remainder of the year include working with the March of Dimes campaign and the Heart Fund.

F.S.A.

FSA members attended the Annual State and National meeting in Greensboro; Debbie Hill won the honor of being chosen State President. They sponsored a banquet for their employers. During their monthly meetings they invited a business person to speak. The FSA is a wonderful club to give girls an opportunity in their career field.

F.C.A.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes has been an active club for over five years and this year was no exception. Several of the club officers went to a convention in the spring of '84 to learn more about F.C.A. At Christmas F.C.A. members collected food, clothes, and other household items for Teen Challenge in Greensboro. The club also helped with the C.H.S. Blood Drive. Cummings F.C.A. worked with Drew Van Horn and neighboring F.C.A. groups this year to coordinate the annual Weekend of Champions at Elon College. The club also planned a beach trip in the spring. Meetings were on Monday nights at 8:00 with Bible Study at 7:30, Wednesday mornings at 8:00, and officers meetings at 8:00 on Friday mornings. Under the direction of Sherry Puckett, Bernard Faulk, Glenda Baumgarner, and with the help of Randy "X," F.C.A. was a successful club this year.

Leigh Long escorted by Lee Isley represented F.C.A. in homecoming.

F.H.A.

Future Homemakers of America is a very active club at C.H.S. They sponsored a lady for Christmas cheer, participated in the regional and state proficiency events, and they made baby clothes and toys to give to the new mothers in the hospital on Mother's Day. In February they had a dance for members and their guests.

The F.H.A. officers are President, Milicent Gaylord; Vice-President, Delynda Kleeberg; Secretary, Kim Fryar; Historian, Nikie Morrow; and Refreshment Chairperson, Tongi Pinnix.

Milicent Gaylord escorted by Anthony Neal represented F.H.A. in homecoming.

YAC

The Youth Advisory Council has devoted a great deal of time and effort into activities concerning menus and seasonal decorations for the cafeteria. The success of this club is due to its active members.

The Monogram Club gives recognition to students that have worked hard in sports. They are rewarded with a letter during the Sports Banquet.

Let's not forget our bus drivers. We should give them a hand for putting up with the yelling of children, the bad weather, and the break down of buses. It is a great honor to have such dependable men driving our buses.

David Loye did an excellent job playing the piano for Harmony this year.

In order to be in Harmony, a student must try out at the end of a school year. Under the direction of Glenn Peterson, Harmony participated in the Christmas and Spring concerts. In addition, the group has often been asked to sing at places such as Western Electric and Holiday Inn. Harmony, along with other choral groups at CHS, help to make a very musical difference.

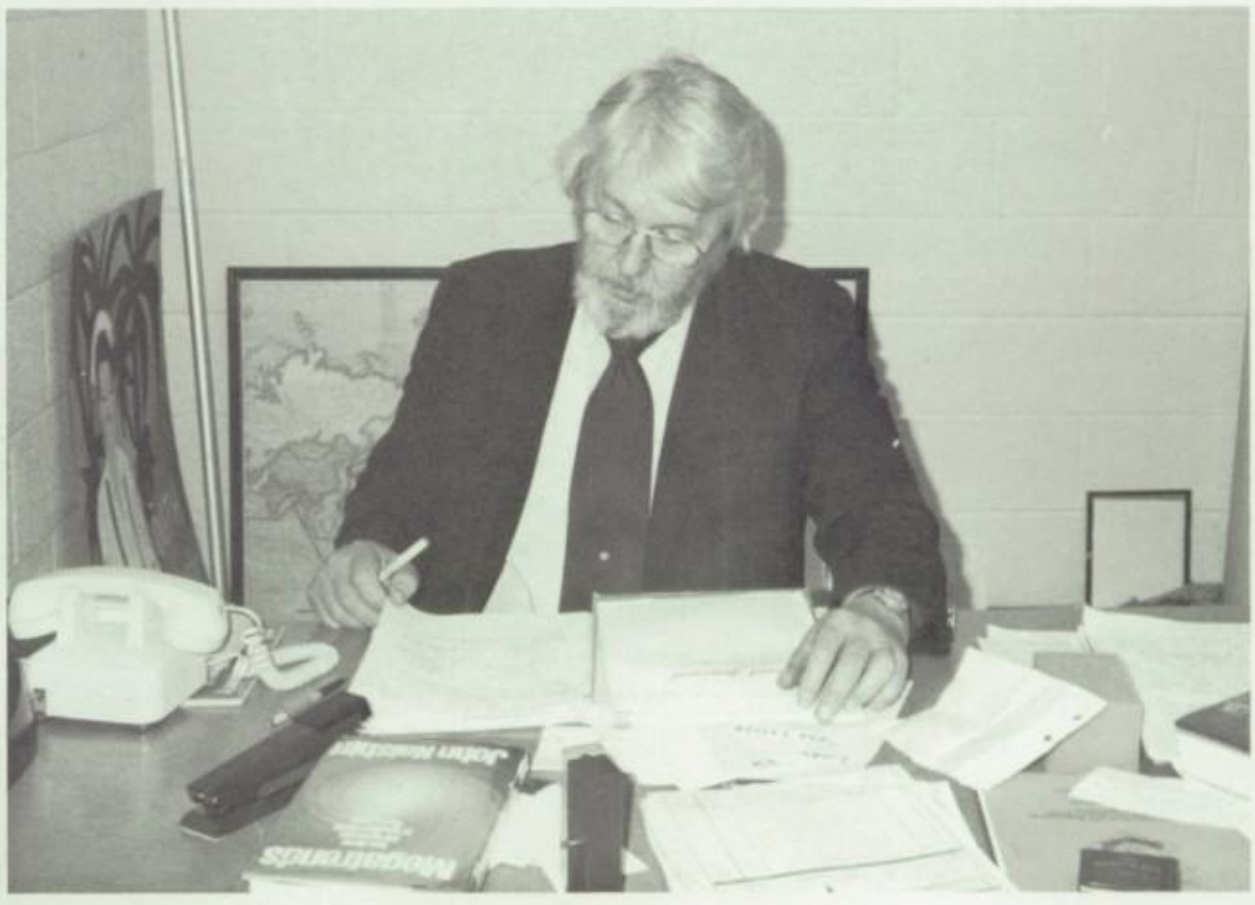
SADD, Students Against Drunk Driving, was a new club at Cummings High School this year. With the help of Ms. Deborah Trogdon, the club advisor, the members of this SADD organization took a stand against a problem that concerns parents and teachers, too. Before crucial events this school year such as Christmas, the CHS and WHS basketball game, and the prom, SADD set up a booth and put up posters advertising the dangers of drinking and driving. In February, several students along with Ms. Trogdon went to a SADD convention where they heard Steve Streeter speak on drinking and driving. Finally, in the spring SADD made a "Contract for Life" available to the students at Cummings.



Lisa McBroom and Jimmy Hayes represented Harmony at Homecoming.

Under the direction of Glenn Peterson, Harmony was a successful group this year. Here he completes some of the paperwork necessary to be a teacher.

MIXED CHORUS

Mixed Chorus played a major role in entertaining the Cummings' students. The Christmas concert is one of the major events sponsored by Mixed Chorus. They also delight the students at the beginning of the year with an assembly. Under the direction of Mr. Peterson, they practice hard and perform well.

ORCHESTRA

Meg Southern and Tommy Allison represented Orchestra during the homecoming events.

The orchestra is composed of a small group of talented students. They practice each day like any other musical group. They presented a number of selections during the Christmas concert.

The Marching Cavaliers

The Cavalier Band had yet another successful year in 1985. Led for the second year by Director Marc Childress, the band members and director felt more comfortable and ready to achieve.

The Band started their marching season a week before school, and they went to the Appalachian State, Garner, and Western Alamance Festivals. At Western and Garner the Band received superior ratings and an excellent at Appalachian State. They also won second place drum major and the John L. Harris Memorial Award for their exhibition of pride. This year, the band hosted the Cavalier Band Classic, the first festival held at Cummings with 20 bands attending from around North Carolina and Virginia, and of course the band festival was a success.

Making the Difference

At a school such as Cummings that seems to be packed with talent, it is only natural that a day be set aside to honor these abilities and this hard work. But with all the things we have to be honored, one day wouldn't be long enough to congratulate everyone. We only have enough space to show some of these honored individuals, but we hope you get the idea. Congratulations!

Cummings is presented with the "Big Drop" award for giving the most blood in 198 accepted to college as well as having made me eligible for a of scholarships. Even though the recognition has been ni the sleep that I've lost in order to make the 'A' is beginning catch up with me."

#7 Tracy Lambert — "Obtaining this goal of being one of t
Top Ten has been both challenging and, of course, rewardin
It means staying up late studying when I had rather be som where else."

#2 Beth Warren — "All the hard work has been worth it b cause it is a great feeling to be at the top of my class. It h been a lot of hard work because of this year. I also held a job.
is hard to stay up all those extra hours after work (until 3 or o'clock in the morning) to keep up my grades!"

ALL THE HARD WORK WORTH IT?

#4 Todd Staley — "The hard work that I have encountered at Cummings High School has been well worth the effort. This is so because of the many gratifying rewards as Top Ten, National Honor Society, English Honor Society . . . I encourage others to do their best."

#5 Tracy Kimbrough — "High school has been a great challenge, filled with much hard work. Yet, it has all been well worth it! It really means a lot when all efforts are finally recognized."

#6 Angela Doss — "The feeling of success makes all the hard work worth it."

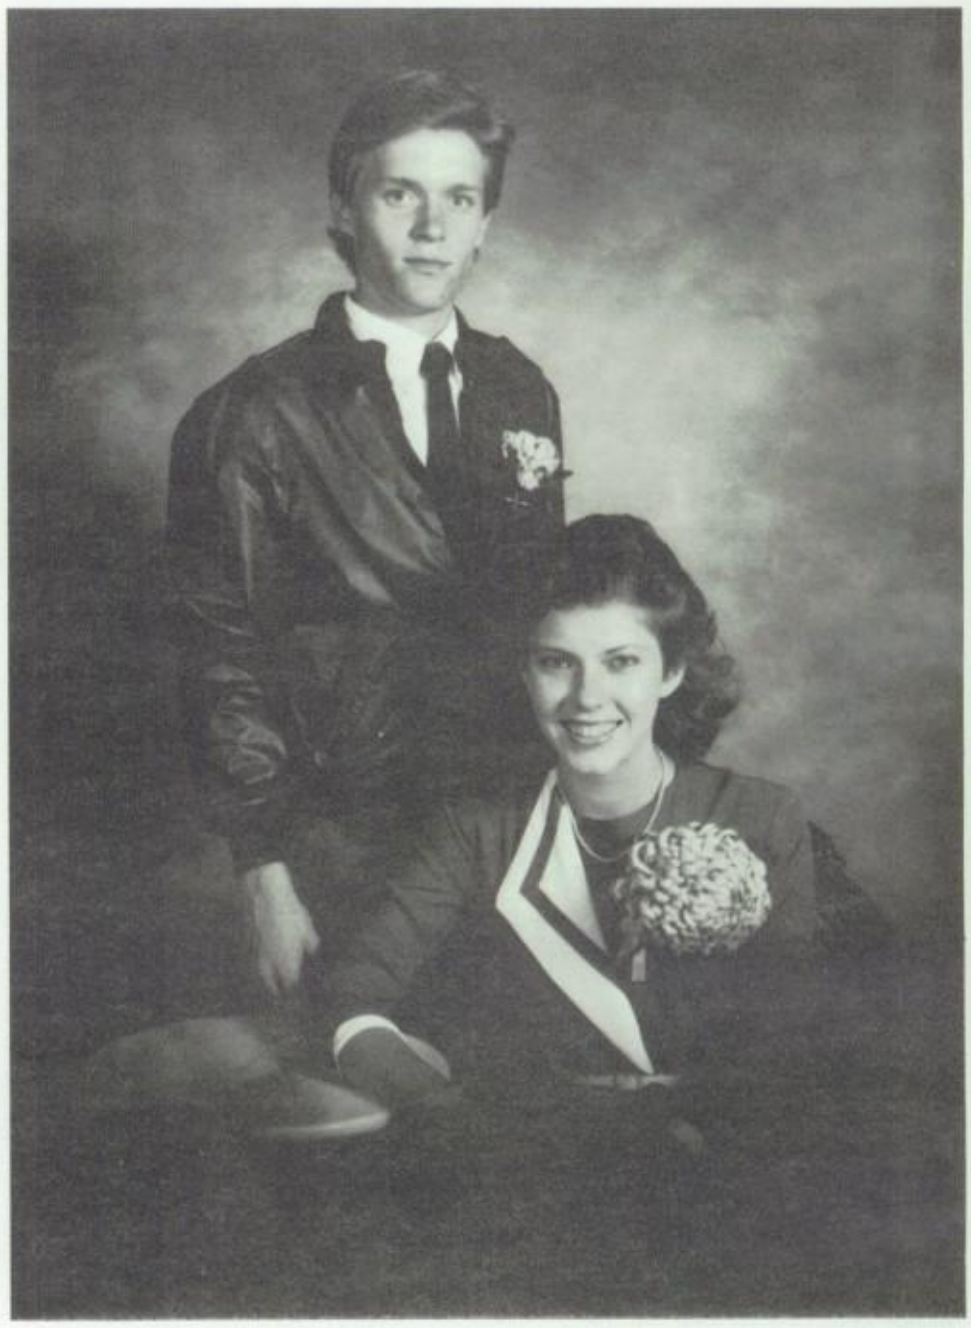
#8 Sabrina Sykes — "Hard work?!!!* (What a question!) The hard work was worth it and I'm proud of myself for where I stand. Please always remember and don't ever forget . . . hard work and long hours make the brain grow tired. Seriously — being in the Top Ten is definitely worth it!"

#9 David Pritchard — "This is not an easy question to answer because I have mixed feelings. I am very proud to be in the Top Ten, but it is not as big a deal as everyone makes it out to be."

#10 Kathie Sink — "The last four years of studying at Cummings have been gratifying because of the friends that helped pull me through. My freshman and sophomore years were easy but it took all I had to make it through my junior and senior years. I can't doubt, however, that it was all worth it."

National Honor Society

To be in the National Honor Society, a student must have character, leadership, service, and scholarship. This chapter of NHS at Cummings High School is one of the biggest and best ever. The NHS students met regularly and did a service project each month.



Jimmi Anne Bridges and James Gray represented the National Honor Society at homecoming.

English Honor Society

This Year's English Honor Society was one of the largest ever at Cummings High School. With Kevin Sartin as its president, the group was a very active one. They did a number of service projects and several of them journeyed to Europe during Easter vacation.

Teresa Cheek and Kevin Sartin represented the English Honor Society at homecoming.

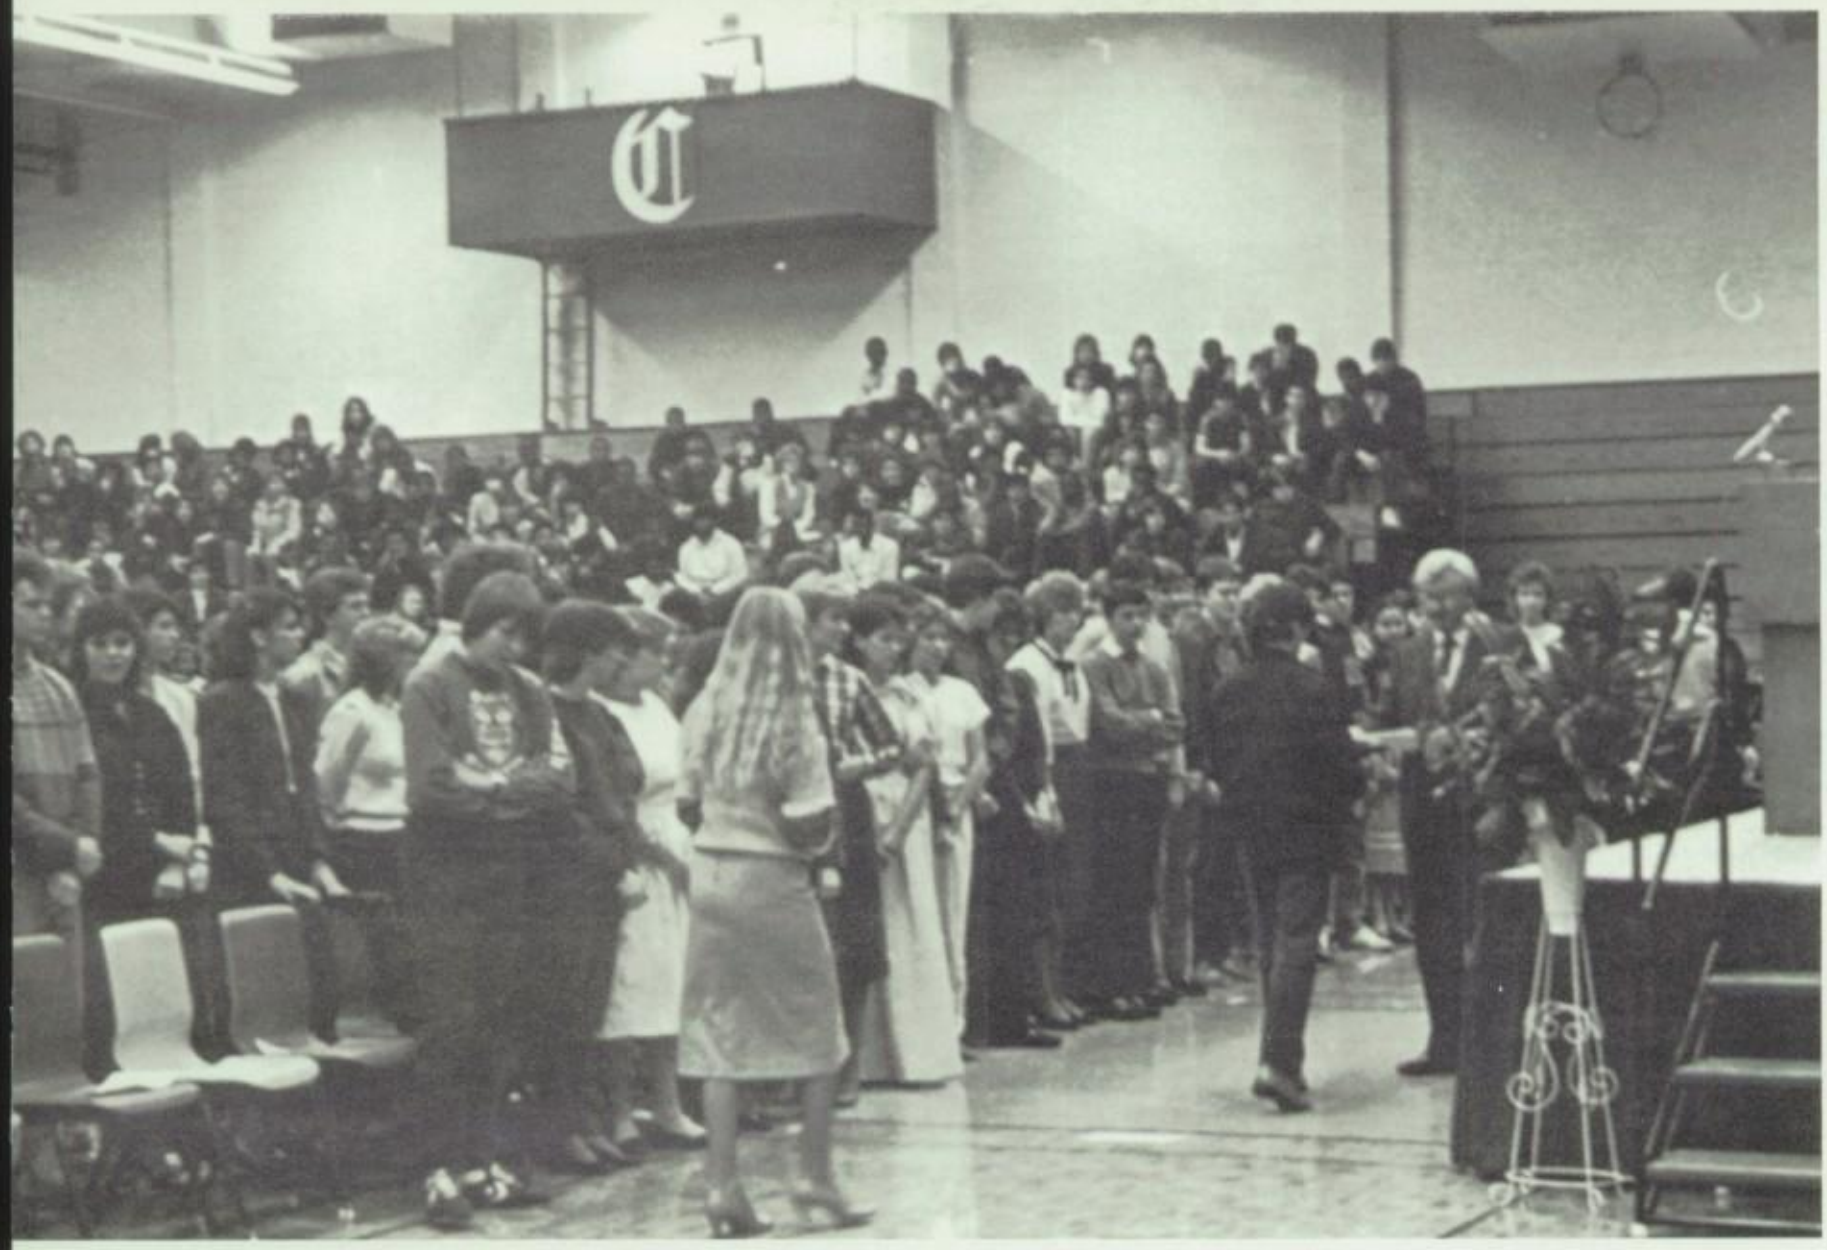
HONORS DAY ASSEMBLY

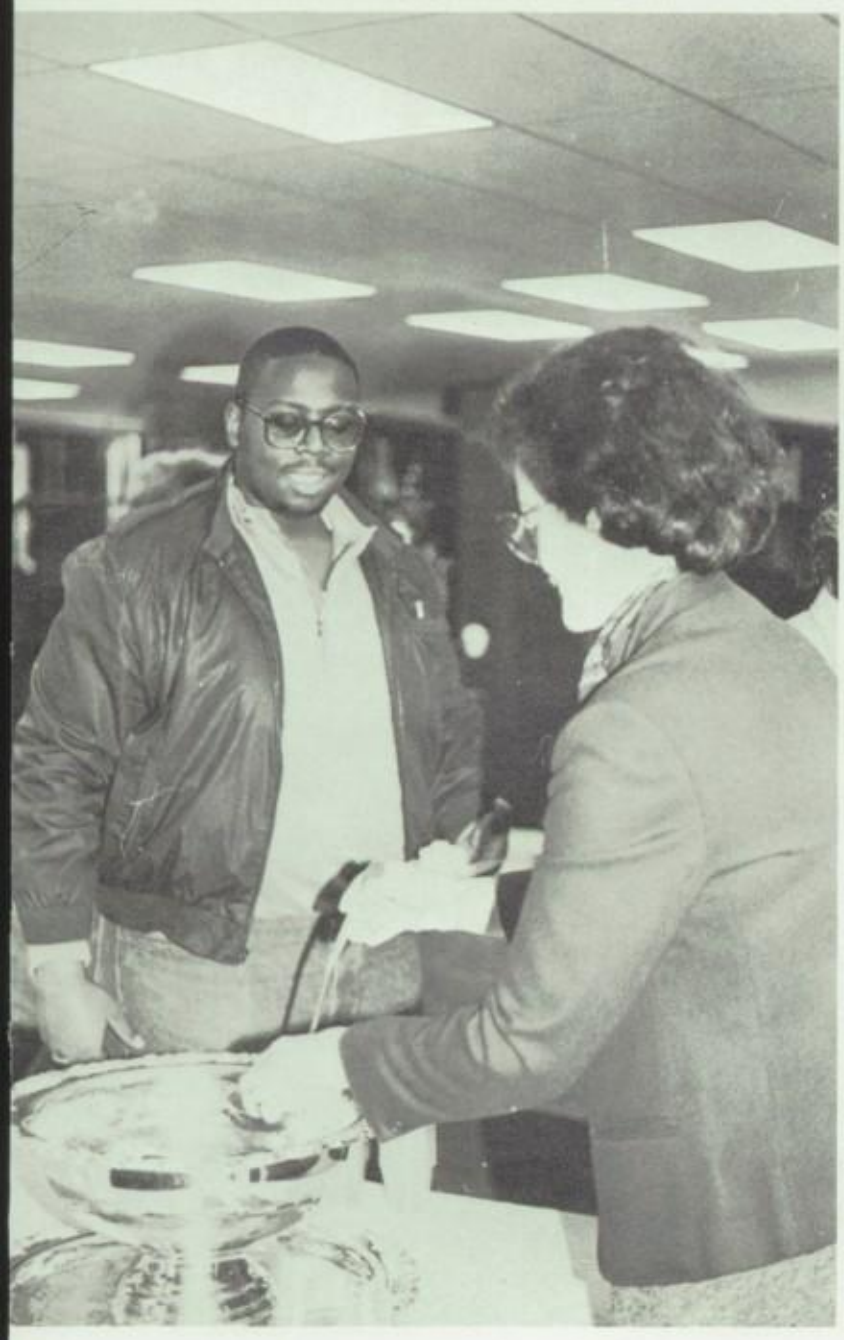
With all these classes and all this homework, it seems that making perfect grades is almost a lost cause. Not for everybody! Many of our students can still make A's and B's without whining and giving up on school. The Cavaliers dressed up nicely and marched down the aisle to get the certificates of recognition they deserve. We're proud of you people, keep up the great work.

Mrs. Jeffers gives Millicent Gaylord some gravely needed help.

Students and family get together at the reception to celebrate those good grades.

Lori Fitch, Richard Phillips, Curtis Knight, and Christa Knight congratulate themselves on those grades.





Here's what Doug has been looking forward to!

The honor students get up to receive their certificates.

Mrs. Hoke, Ms. Moore, and Ms. Bolick get the Honor's Day reception set up.

CLASS OF '85 WHIZ KIDS

High I.Q.

The High I.Q. team not only participated in the High I.Q. contest, but the Quiz Bowl as well. The Quiz Bowl was a local competition held on February 2, and the High I.Q. Bowl was the following Saturday, February 9. the team spent many long hours practicing for these two events, but the knowledge gained is never wasted.

JUNIOR MARSHALS

The 1984 Junior Marshals, this year's Top Ten, served at last year's graduation. They led in and seated the seniors and were there to support the seniors who might have gotten a little nervous during this all-important event.

Civitan Scholarship Awarded

Sara Crabtree, one of many applicants, won the Burlington Civitan Scholarship. The contest consisted of filling out an application and writing an essay on future goals of her life.

Music Scholarship Awarded

Angela Doss has received a four-year scholarship in the field of music from Elon College. She auditioned against other talented students.

Morehead Nominee At CHS

This is the first year that Cummings has had any representation at the district competition for the Morehead Scholarship. Beth Warren has the distinction for being Cummings' first representative.

THE 1985 MISS CHS CONTESTANTS

Each year the talented and pretty young ladies of Cummings enter one of the most prestigious high school traditions held, the school pageant. One girl is chosen to represent CHS. The winner is selected by a panel of judges on her talent and performance. Since the pageant was delayed at press time, the yearbook regrets that it cannot print the winners, but we wish all the girls good luck.

Meg Southern

Cindy Weaver

Karen Webster

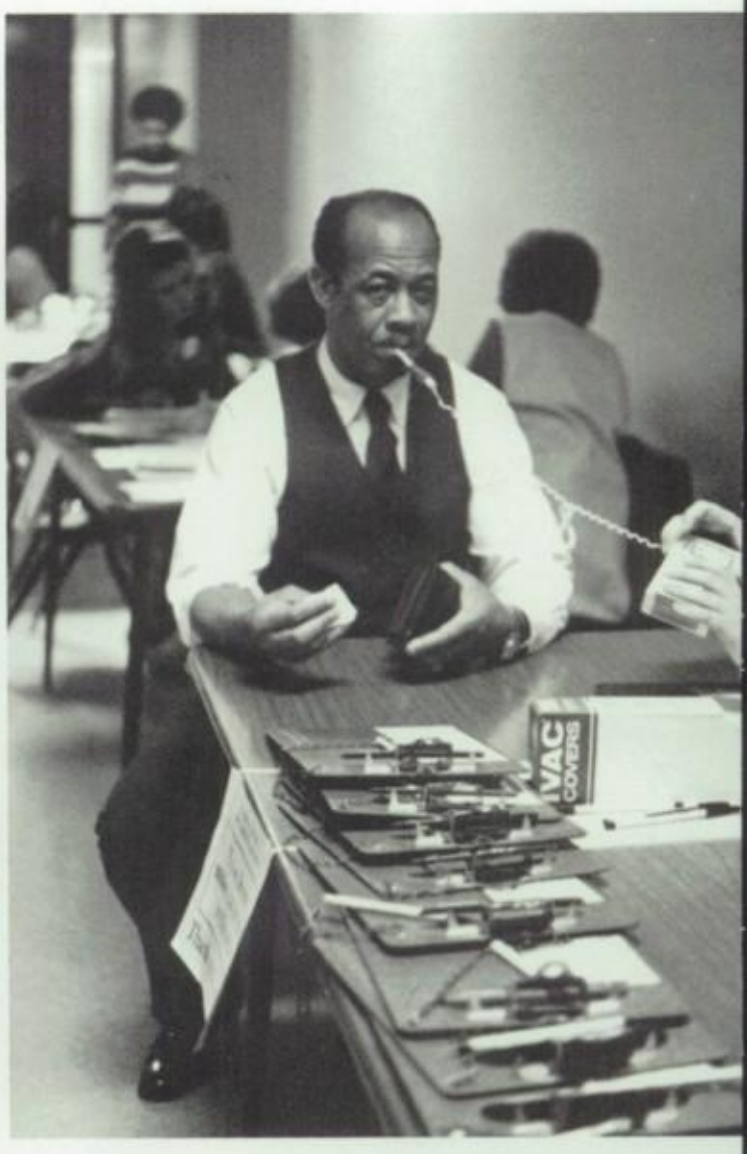
Amy Wills

Representing Cummings in the 1985 Miss Junior Civitan Pageant are DeLynda Kleeberg and Susan Mills.

Giving The Gift of Life

Cummings holds a yearly event which shows the care and concern of the faculty and students — the CHS Blood Drive. Chairman Gordon Millspaugh puts his Graphics students to work each year, helping the Red Cross staff safely draw pints of blood from the donors. Though the goal was not quite met due to a shortage of nurses, the students still turned out in full force to give an incredible 171 pints of blood. Thanks everyone.

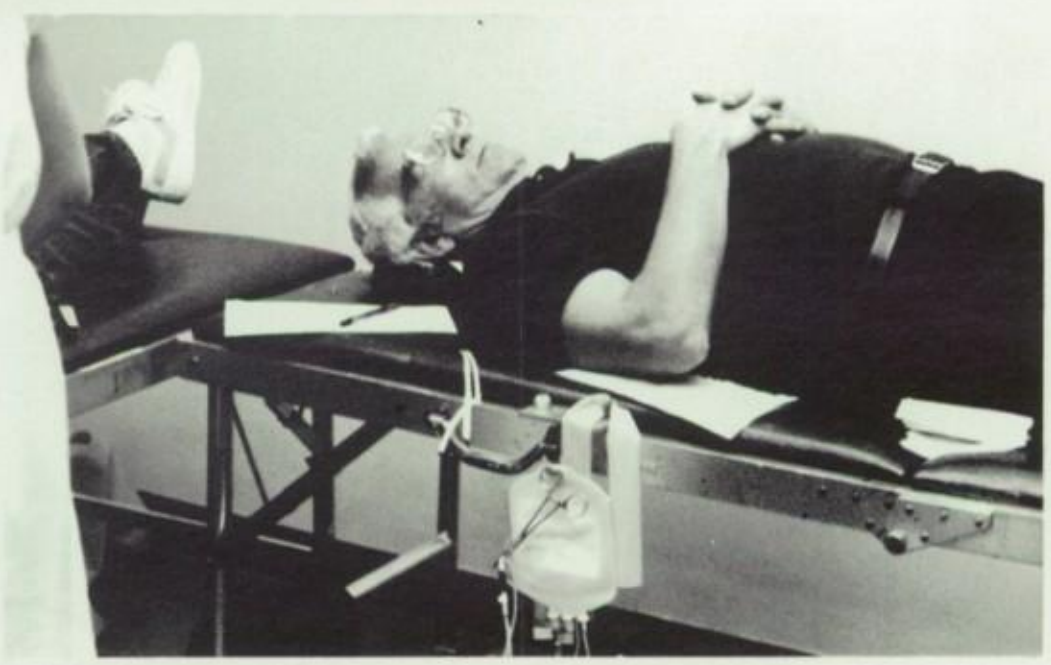
Michele Lee registers someone to give blood.



Mr. Freeman has his temperature taken, a necessary procedure to donate blood.

Cindy Haizlip informs Eric Bigelow that his temperature is norm

Tracy Kimbrough, who helped Coach Millspaugh organize the Blood Drive, fills in pints donated.



Lee Isley and David Pritchard brave the needle and give some blood.

Mr. Marshburn is happy to donate.

"Hey, it's worth it for the Coke!" Jeff Minor informs.

Sara Crabtree wants the world to know that SHE DID IT!

ALL-CONFERENCE WINNERS

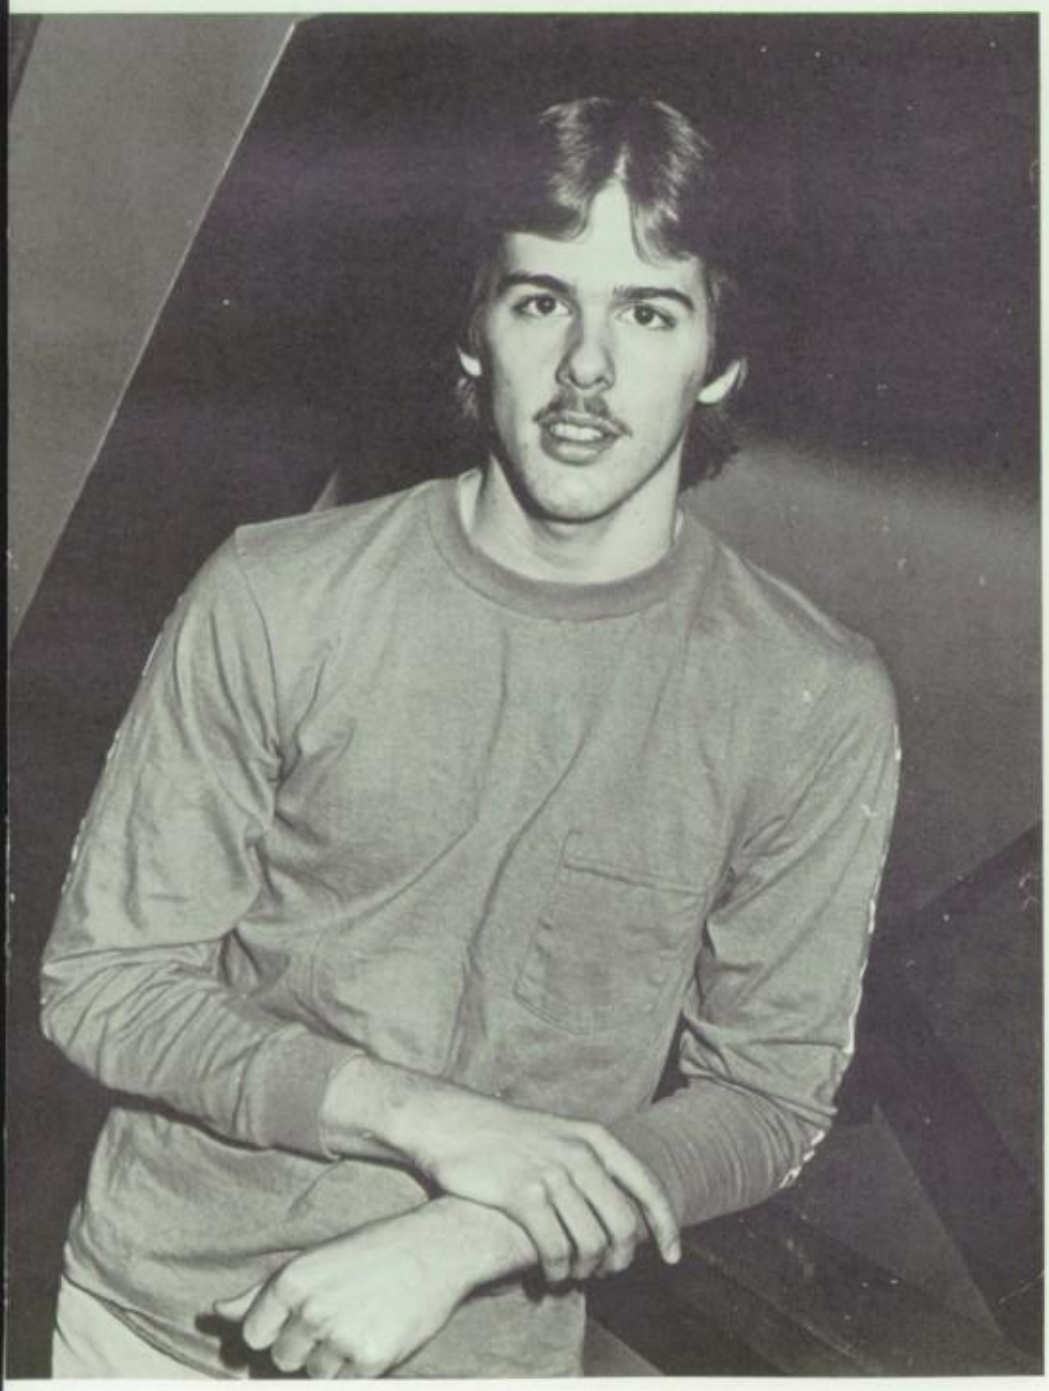
BASEBALL '84

Nate Coleman made All Conference for baseball in 1984.

TRACK '85

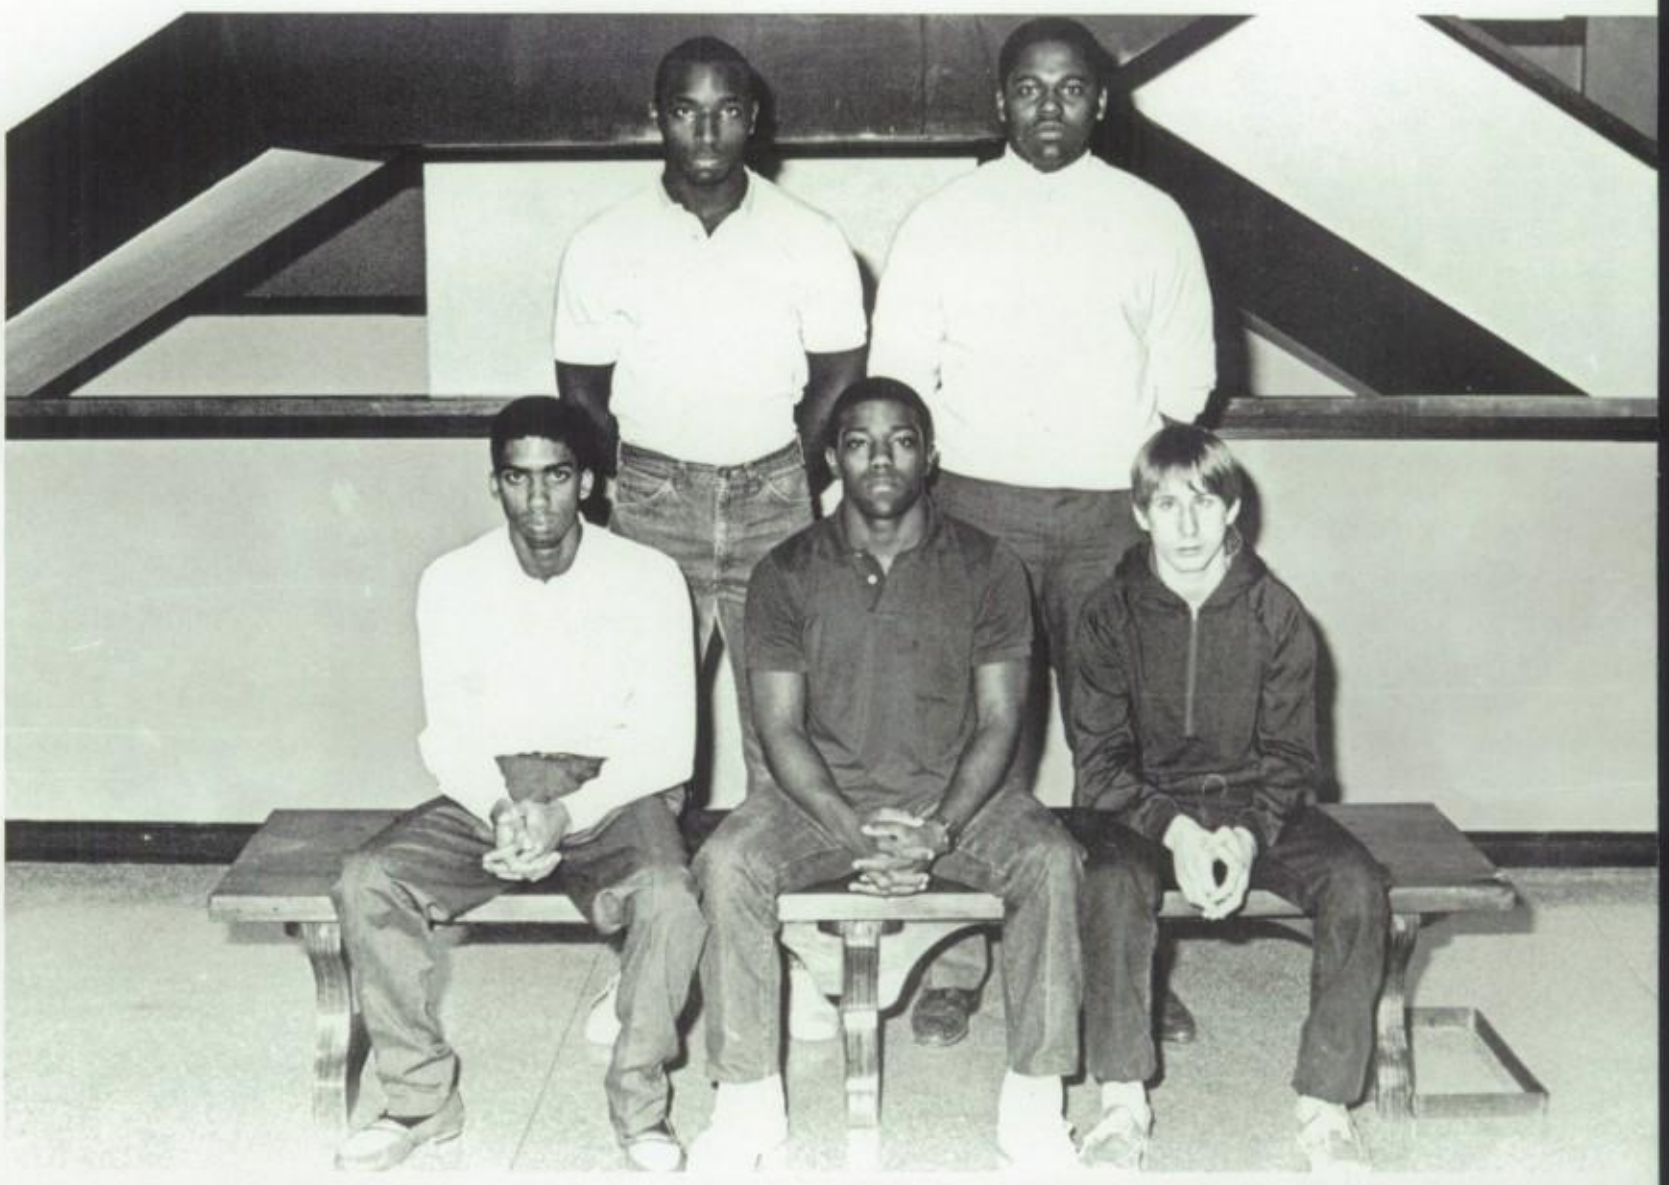
Michael Norwood (100 m, 800 m run, 1600 m run), Michael Dickerson (800 m run, 1600 m run), Gerald Gibson (high jump), Lee Ramsey (discus throw).

BASKETBALL '85



John Coleman made All Conference for basketball in 1985.

WRESTLING

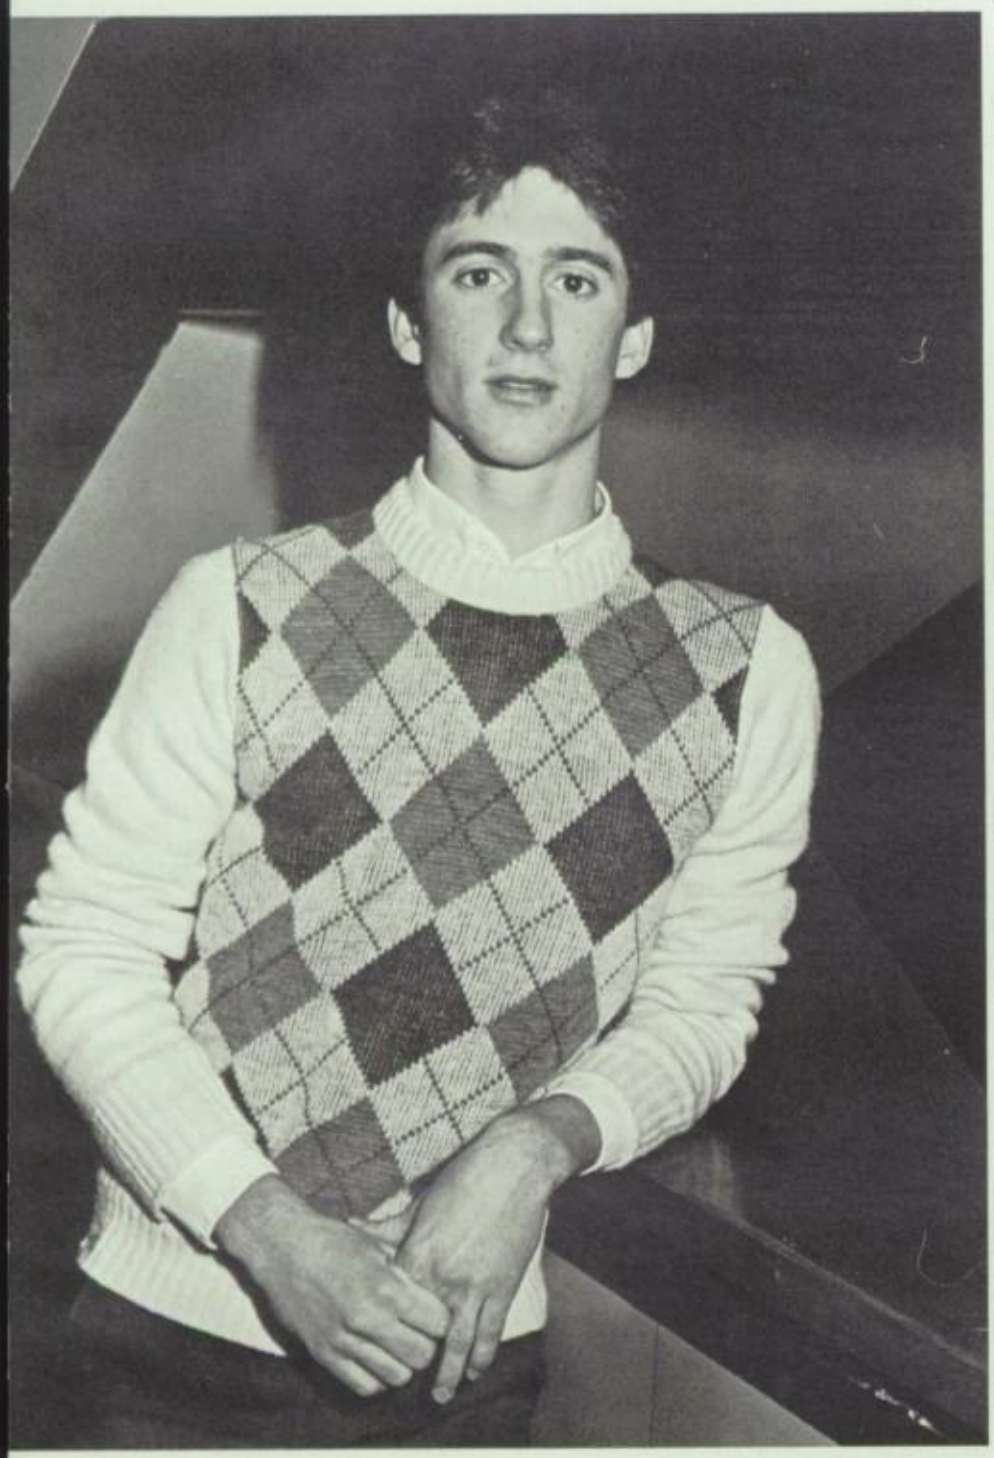


The following students made all-conference in wrestling: (sitting, left to right) Shawn Davis, Rodney Wade, Dwayne Wilson. (standing) Jeff Caldwell and Earl Williamson.

VOLLEYBALL AND BASKETBALL

Penney Sellars made all-conference in both volleyball and basketball.

CROSS COUNTRY



Rodney Staley made all-conference in cross country.

SOFTBALL

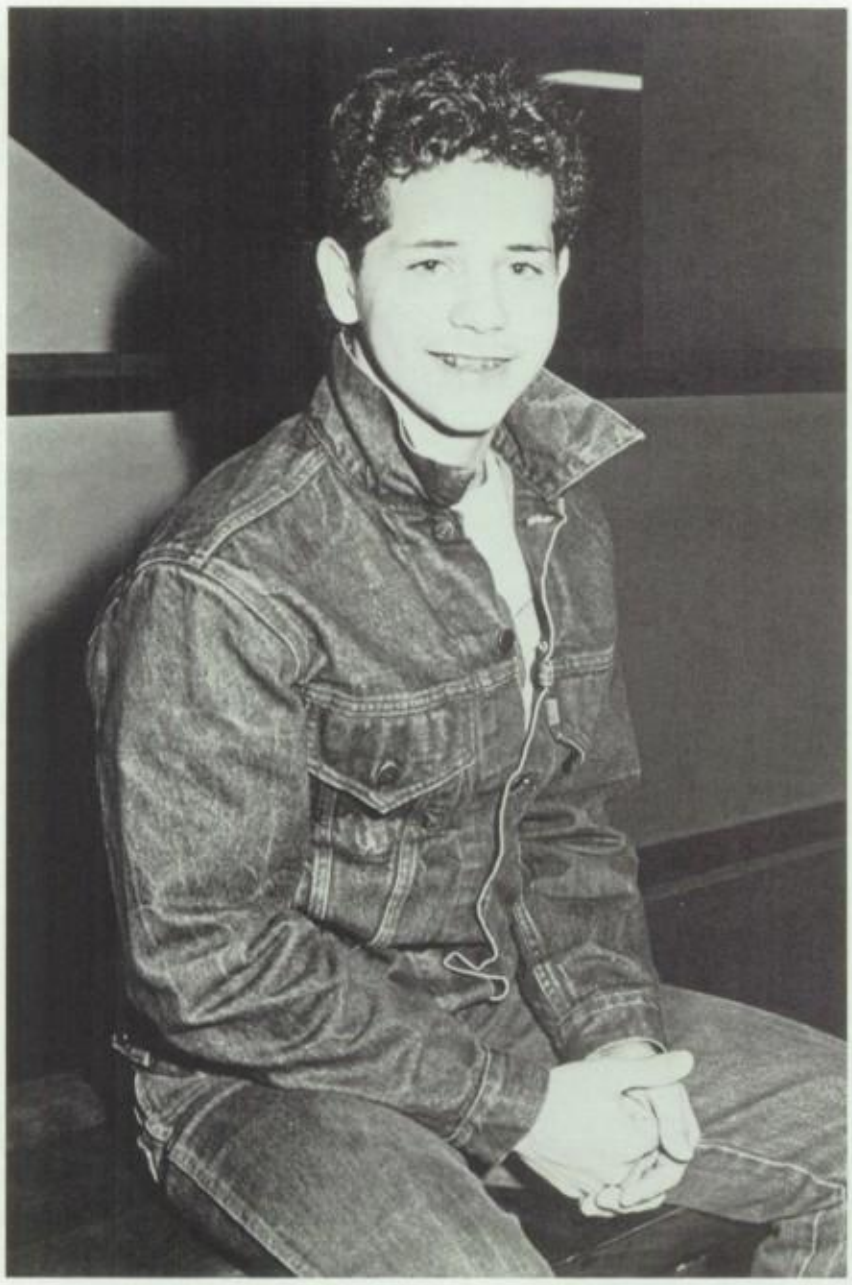
Receiving all-conference is a prestigious honor. Many hours of hard work and practice go into doing anything right, especially sports. Congratulations to all who are good enough at what they do to be all-conference.

All-conference in softball went to Paula Page.

MORE ALL-CONFERENCE WINNERS

MUSIC AWARDS

Danny Frye made Honors Band this year.



Kim Payne made Honors Orchestra this year.

All State Band members for this year are (left to right) Danny Frye, April Moon, Christa Knight, and Cindy Michael.

VOCATIONAL AWARDS

Debbie Hill is FSA State president.

For DECA, Debbie Burnette is district president and Angie Jones is district vice-president.

Members of All-State Orchestra this year are Kim Payne, Jason Love, and Anna Tyler.

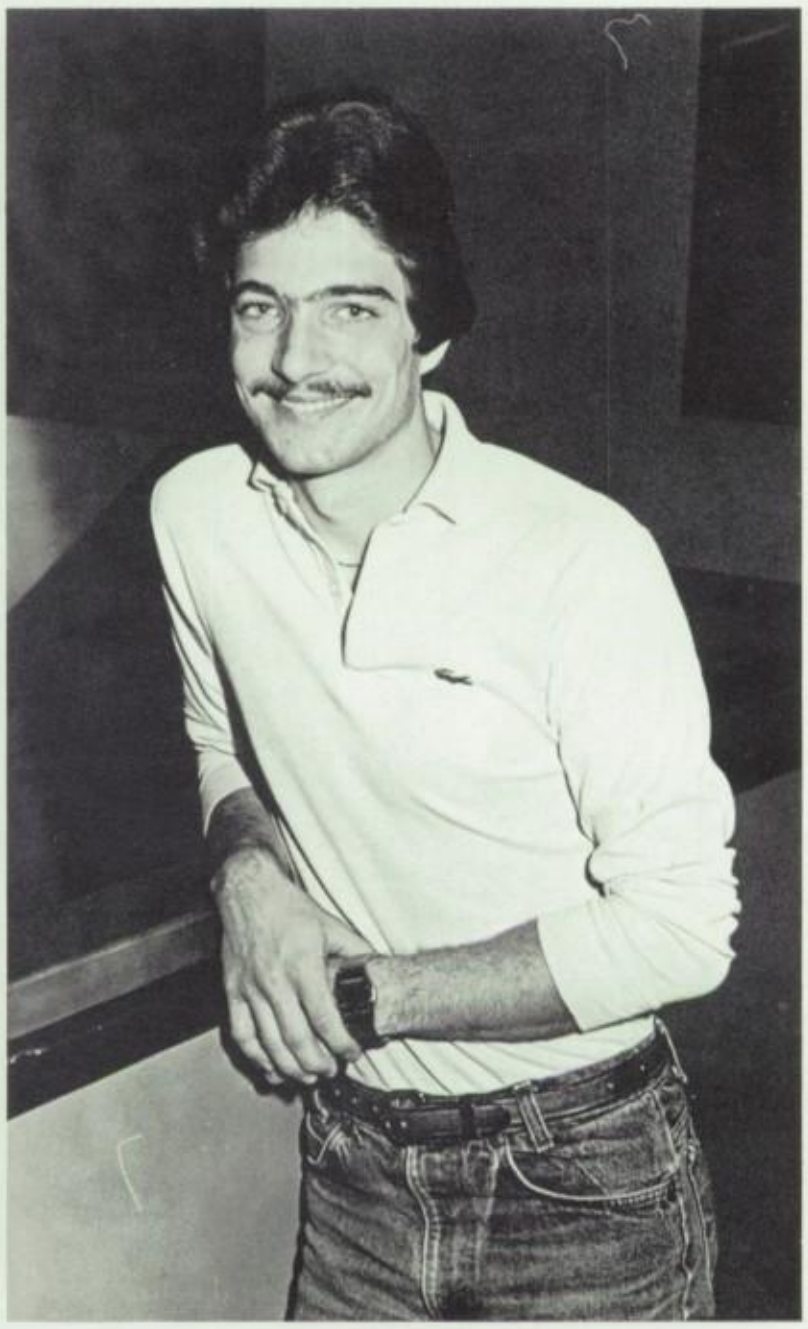
SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS

A few seniors were fortunate enough to be the recipients of scholarships to aid them, financially, in continuing their education. They're proud to receive these awards, and we're proud that these accomplished seniors are part of the class of '85.

Debbie Thompson — winner of a Turrentine Scholarship.

Missy Billings — winner of a $200 award from the Burlington Association of Office Personnel.

Chuck Stanton — winner of a $900 scholarship renewable annually from Pfeiffer College.

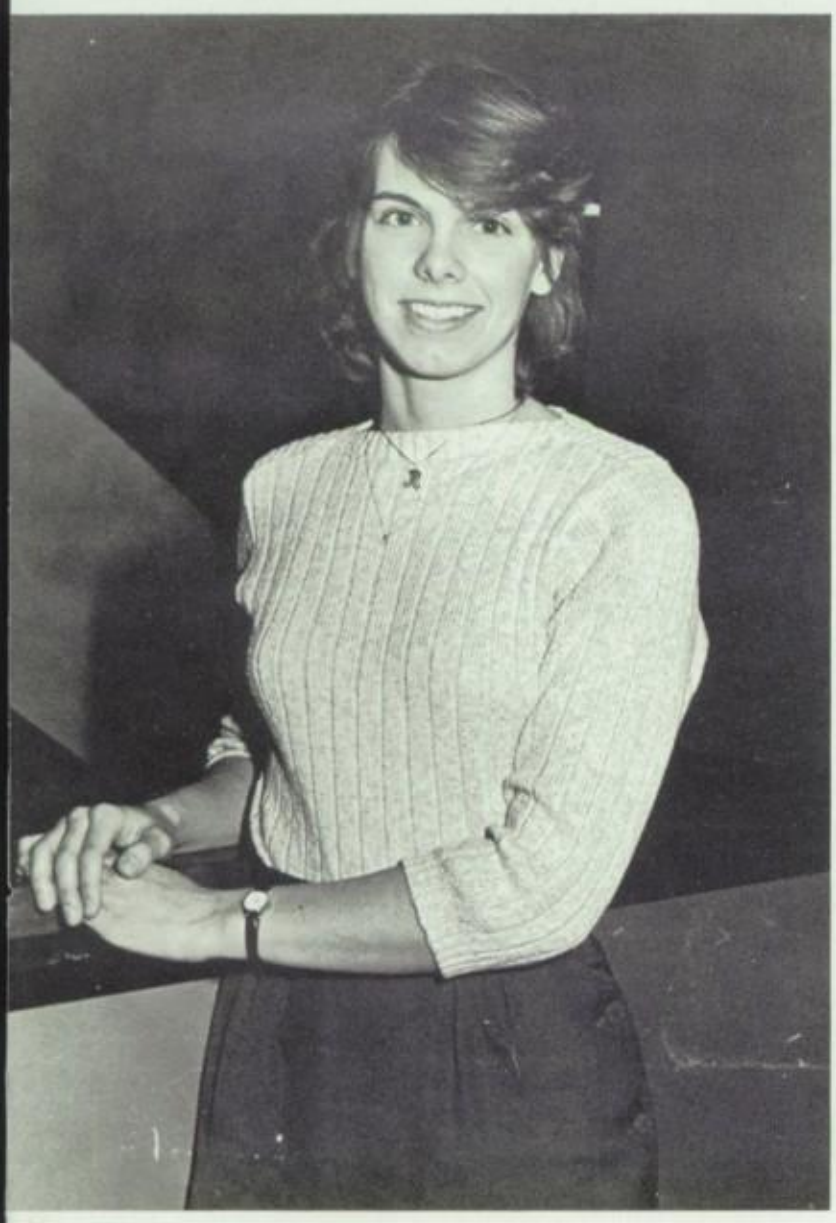


ART AWARDS

Kathie Sink — winner of a tri-color award in the Women's Club Art Contest.

Todd Fitch — winner of two gold keys and an award of merit for his photography in the Scholastic Art Awards Competition.

Martha Sanders — DAR good citizen award winner.



DAR Good Citizen

HERE'S THE BEEF

Under the supervision and direction of Ms. Hartley, the cafeteria staff puts in long hours cooking lunch for the students and staff at Cummings. Special lunches, such as Happy Birthday Day, Valentine's Day, and the President's Meal, add variety and "taste" to C.H.S. lunches.

Freda Coble mans the cash register during lunch.

Anita Burnette, Edi Crouch, and Priscilla Carter prepare to cut the pizza.

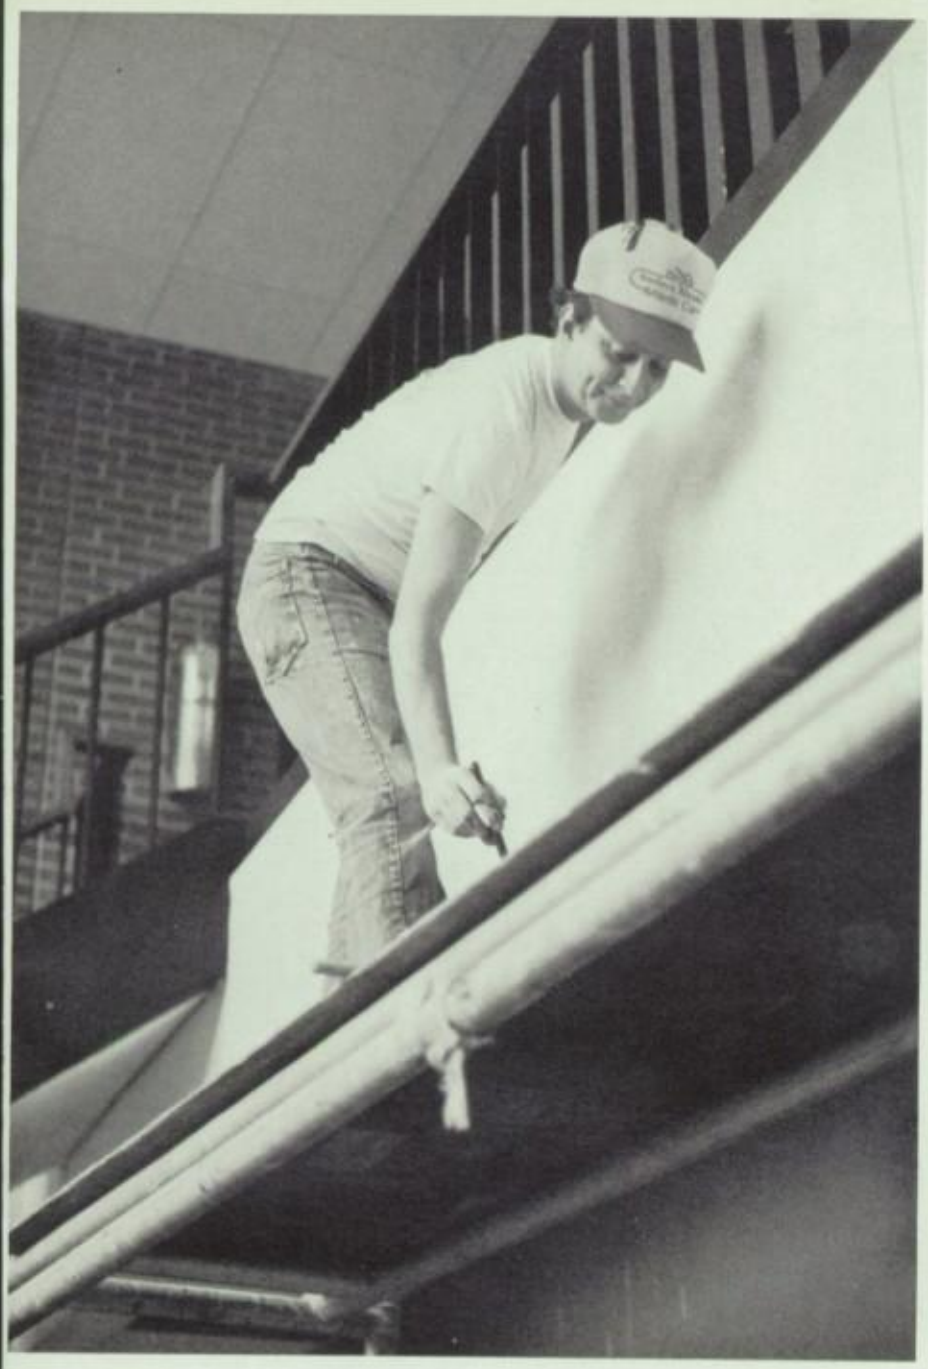
Betty Newcomb handles the cash register at the snack line.

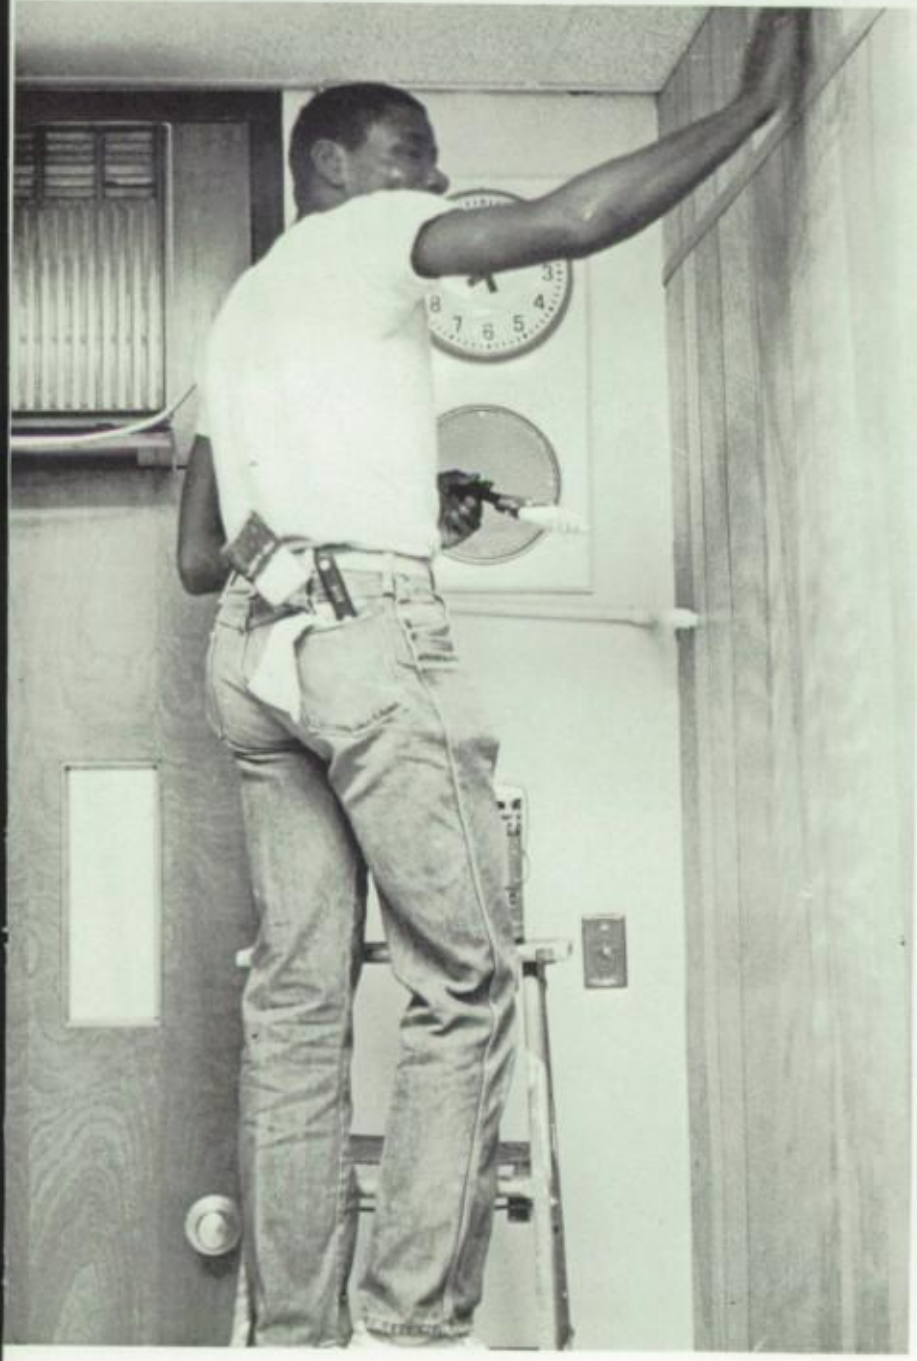
Pauline Macomson makes change for Lee Cohen

Alene Warren quickly prepares a plate lunch for eage students

THE FINAL TOUCH

Since the removal of asbestos in the summer, our school has been getting a complete makeover. One big part of this makeover has been the repainting of EVERYTHING, and painters have become a very familiar sight at CHS. They have made themselves very welcome, and many Cavaliers hope that CHS won't run out of things that need to be painted!





James Miles apparently doesn't have a fear of heights.

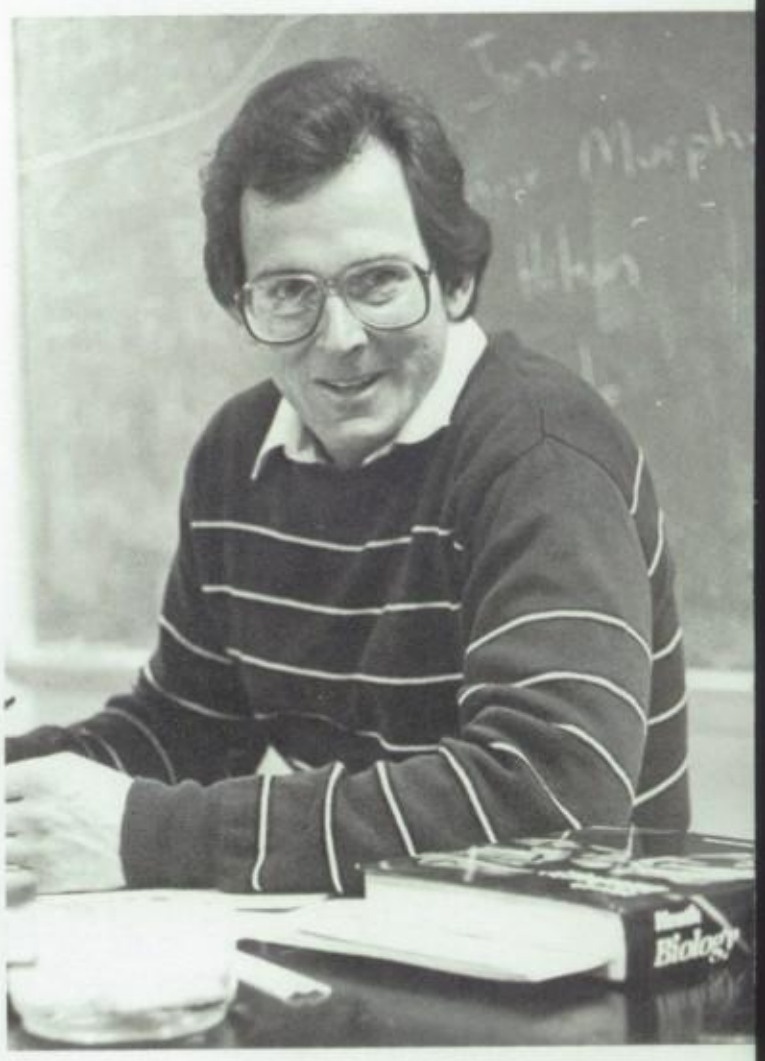
Greg Brown adds the final touch in the Graphics Department.

Michael Kirby, please don't paint over the clock. Students want to know when it's 3:15.

SOME SPECIAL TEACHERS

Coach Tucker

In February when there is still snow on the ground, Coach Tucker braves the cold to share his talent and skill with his tennis team. Last year his hard work was rewarded with being named Tennis Coach of the Year.



Mrs. Oliver

Mrs. Oliver has shared her wit and teaching skill with countless students since she has been at CHS. Her efforts have been recognized with numerous awards, most recently, a Governor's Business Award for Outstanding Mathematic and Science Teaching.

Mr. Millspaugh

Hidden away on the bottom floor working hard to get the printing for the school system done, Mr. Millspaugh shows a concern for his students and fellow faculty beyond the academic. This year he was rewarded with the Burlington City Schools Teacher of the Year Award.

Coach Mensch

We're not the only ones who realize that our wrestling tea could not have been conference champs without gre leadership and coaching. This is one reason Coach Mensc was named Wrestling Coach of the Yea

BOYS' AND GIRLS' STATE

Eric Bigelow and Martha Sanders were Cummings High School representatives for Boys' and Girls' State.

Mark Isley, Beth Warren, and Rodney Williams were selected to attend Governor's School in the summer of 1984.

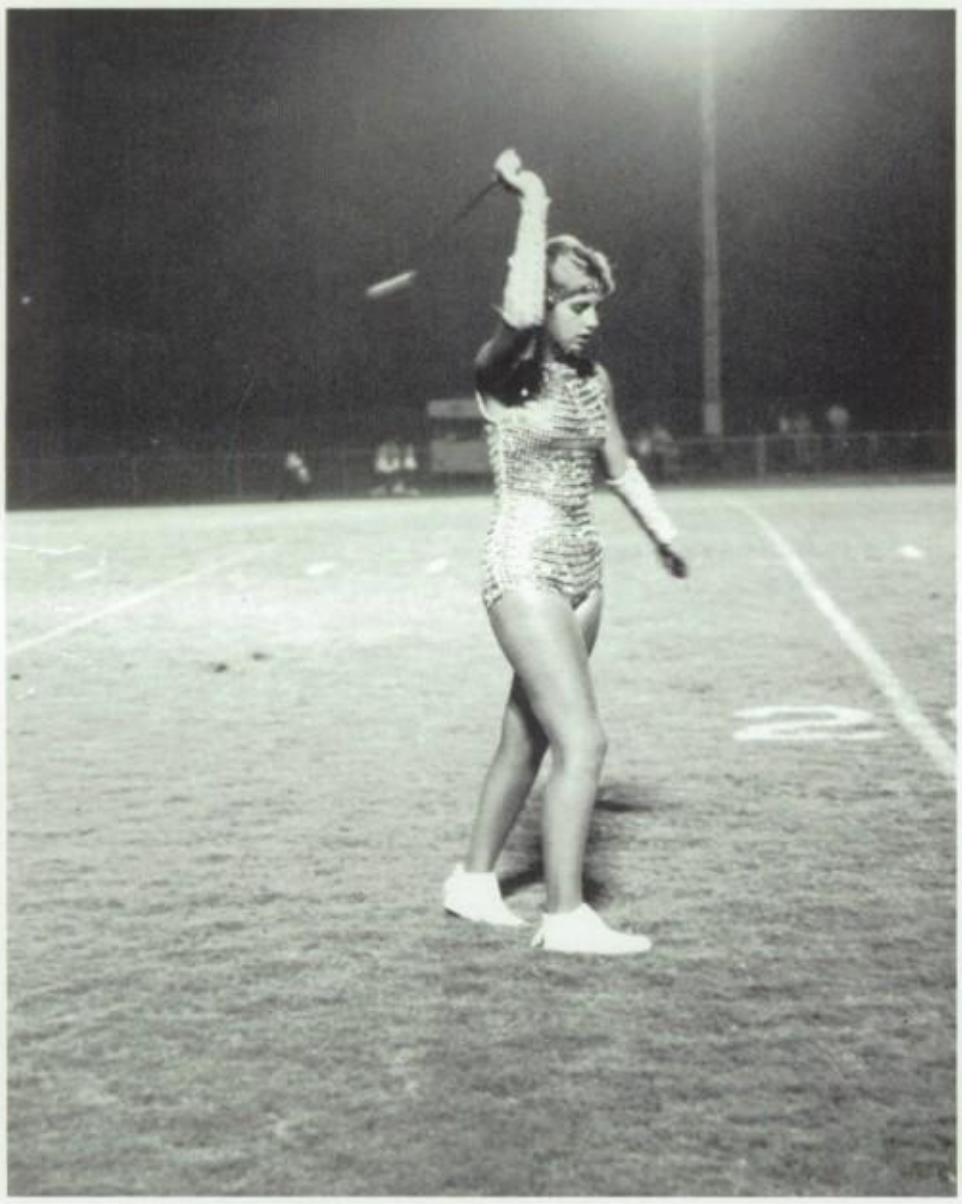
Cavaliers Make the Difference

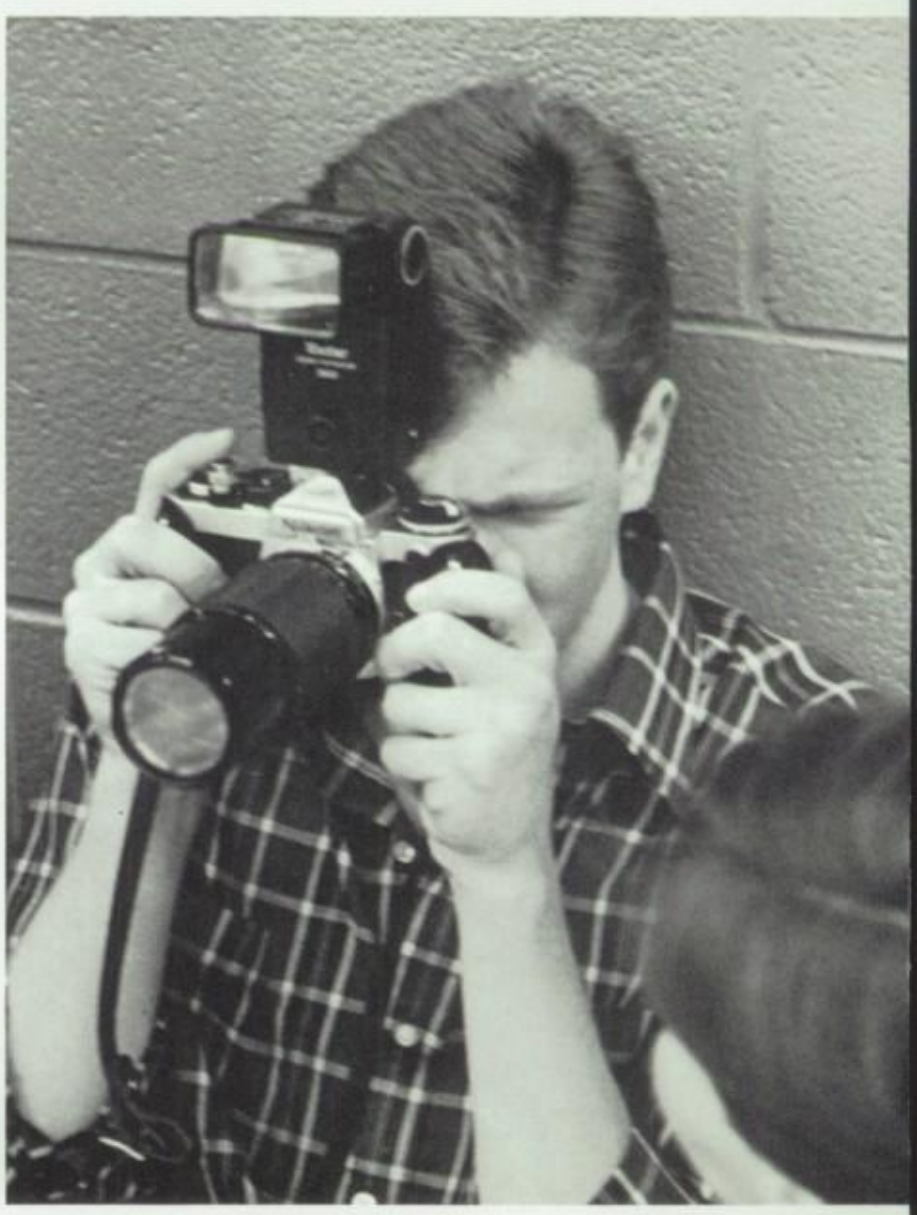
Cummings Cavaliers are different, no doubt. Excelling in academics, sports, arts, and friendship has become not only our duty, but our pleasure. We work well together, helping each other to make the difference!

Shawn McAuthur says a cheerful, "Good-bye, se ya next year!"

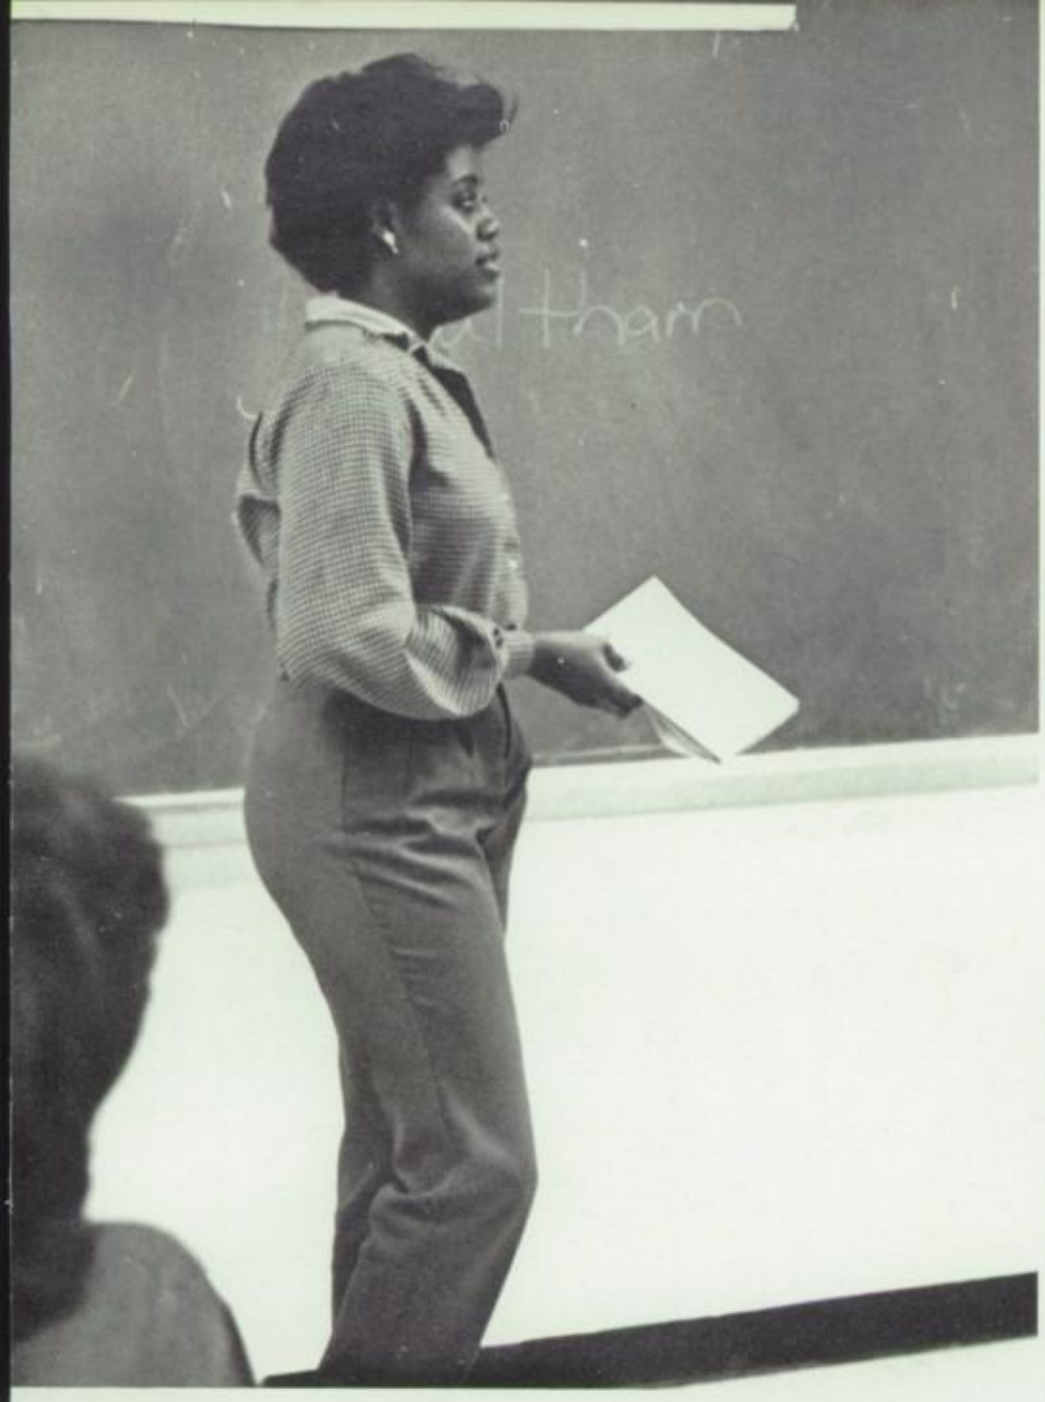
Michael Poe, Mike Ball, and Lee Isley are perfect examples of how friendship makes a difference!



Laurie Seely, Cummings first majorette in several years, contends that practice and hard work make a difference.

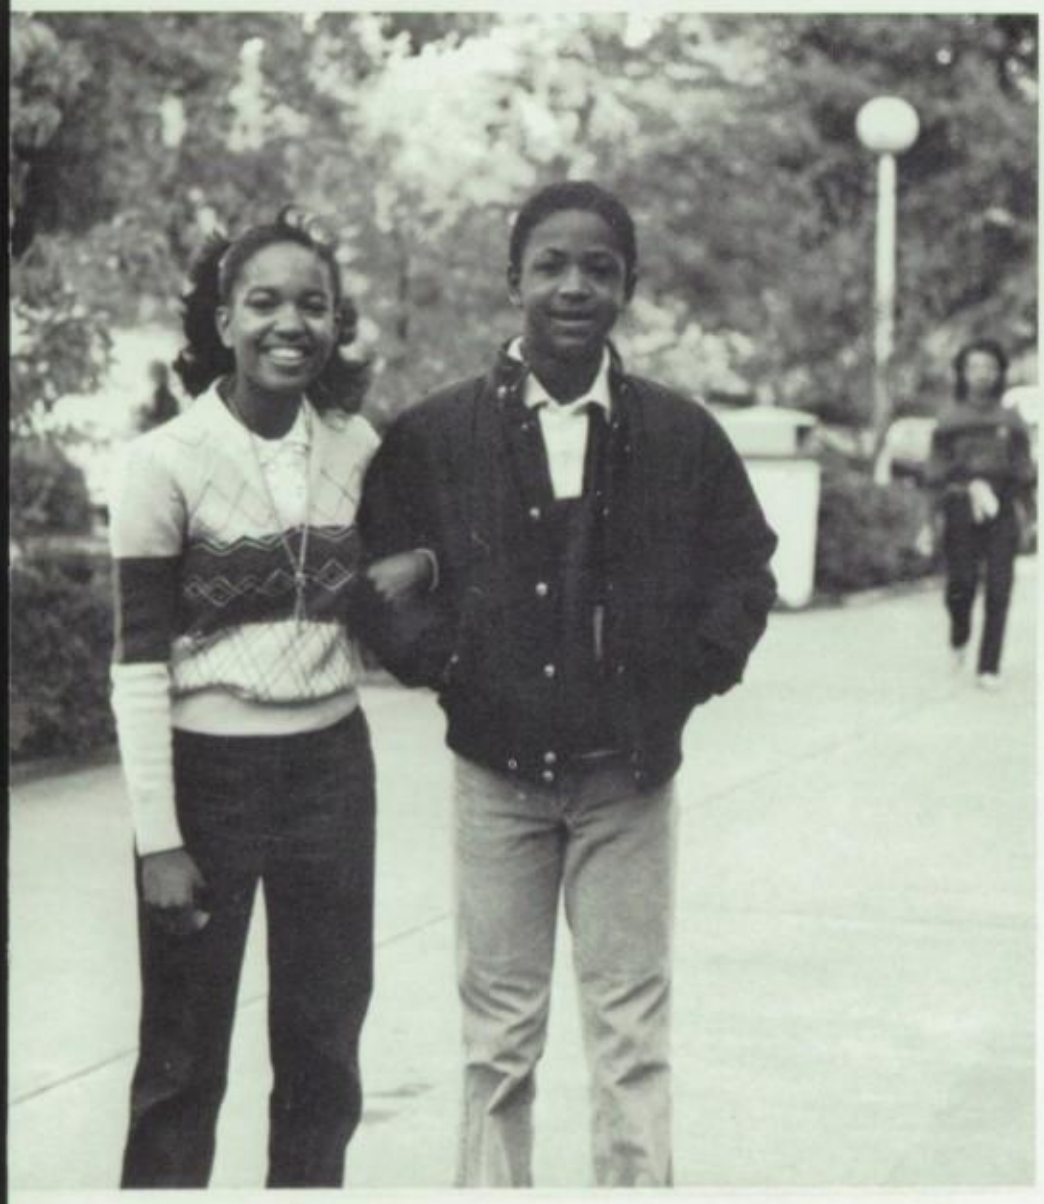


"Hey David! That big thing on top is a flash. It makes a big difference when you're taking a picture in the dark!"



"Today I'm going to teach," explains Mia Davis. (That will be different!)

Sophomores believe that smiling makes a difference when having a picture made.



Kim Thompson and Sheldon Lynch say that friendship makes a difference.

Adrian McNeil, Tina Jordan, and Judy Robbins show that difference — making Cavalier spirit.

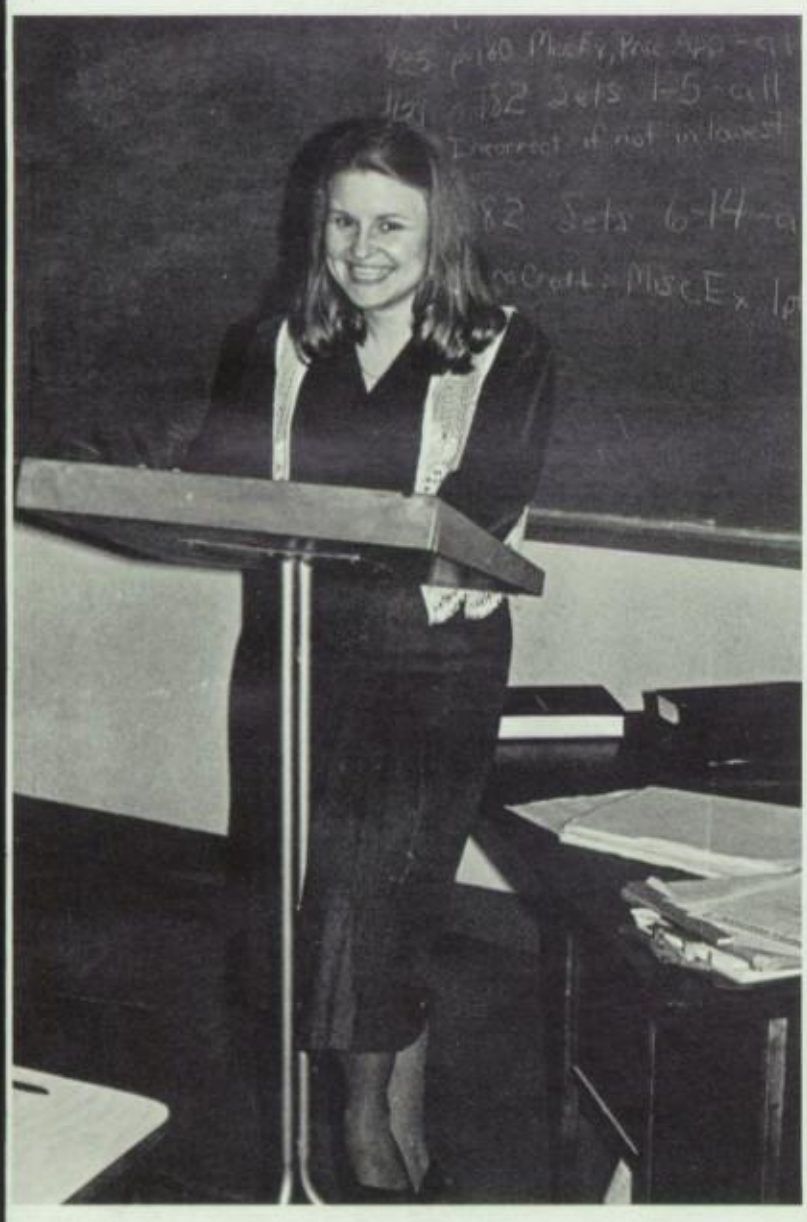
Cavaliers Make the Difference

Tammy Flood proves her durability as the day comes to an end.

Jerry Woods and Tory Hightower pose during a slow day of physical education.

Kim Payne recalculates, showing that accuracy makes the difference.

Kevin Sartin waits patiently for the next train to Haw River Beach!



Mrs. Holland shows that a happy attitude will always make the difference.

Ms. Taylor's English class catches a bit of Spring fever.

HOPE THIS YEARBOOK HAS MADE A DIFFERENCE TO YOU!

After clawing, scratching, biting, and struggling our way through this year working on an annual for none other than you the reader, who just flies through a page in one minute what took nine people laboring hours to create, I'd like to share a few of my deepest sentiments with you:

—I'd like to say we met all our deadlines this year, . . . but we didn't.
—I'd like to say we never argued, . . . but we did.
—I'd like to say we were organized and always knew where everything went, . . . but we weren't and we didn't.
—I'd like to say we enjoyed the day-long summer seminar by a reputable annual-maker . . . but we didn't and he isn't.
—I'd like to say Mrs. Small is the best yearbook advisor in the whole world, . . . and she is.
—I'd like to say this is and always will be the best edition of the Nulli Secundus ever, . . . AND IT IS!

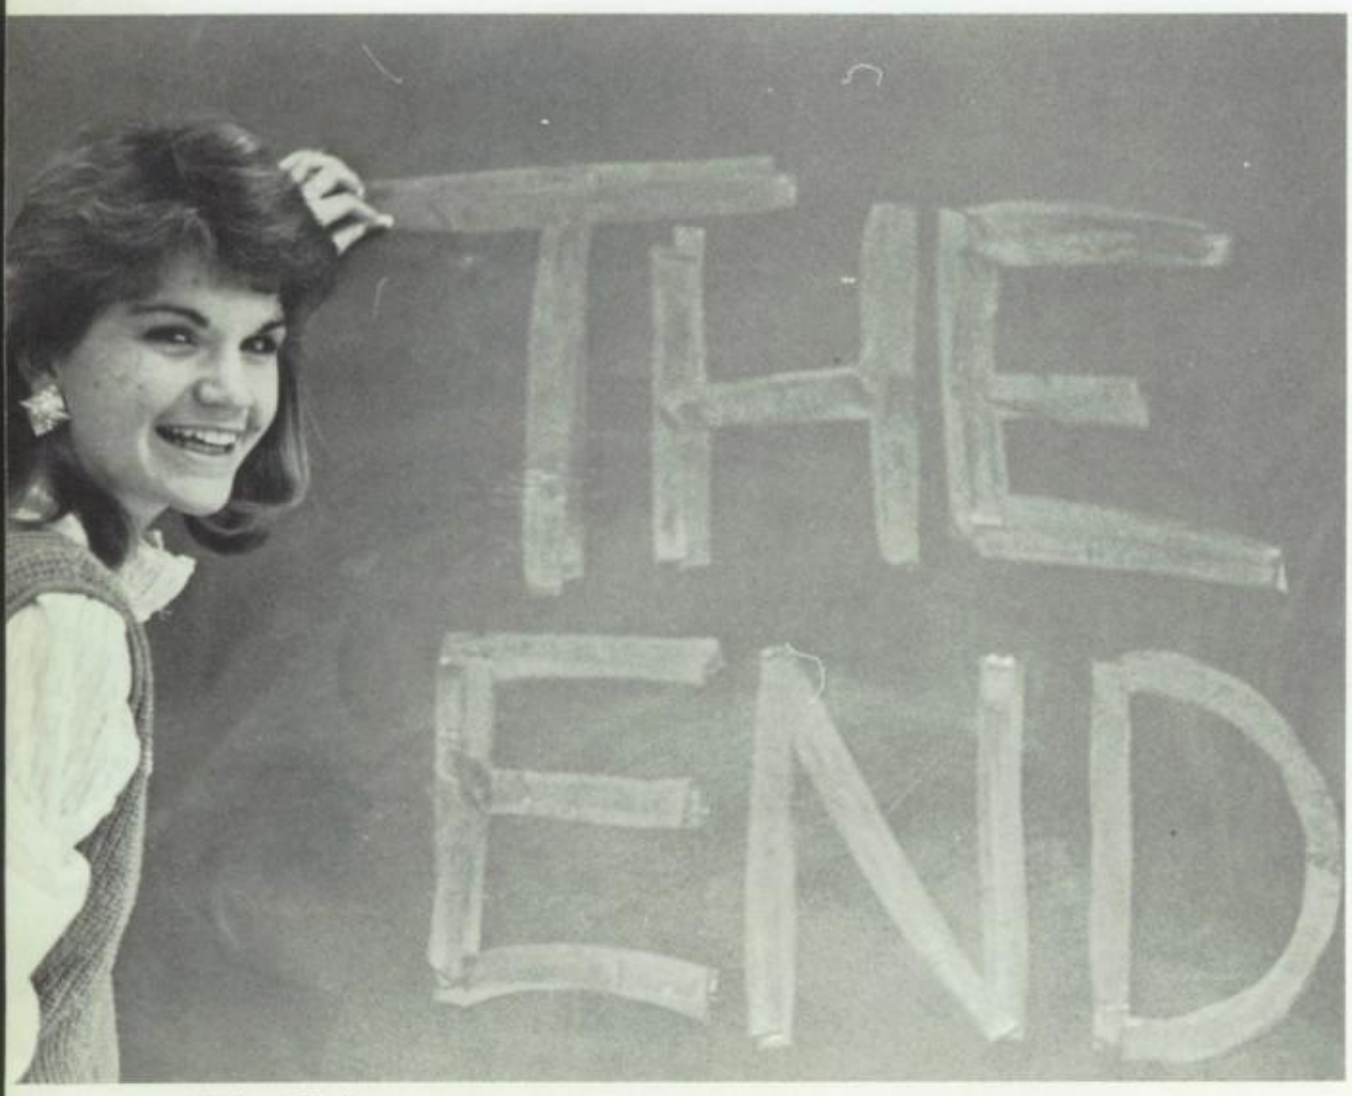
Janie Humphrey



Boo:
Hi: Guess
who? Yes, the one and only. Best wishes
in the years ahead!

Your Pal,
Jane Doe

Boo: I really don't know what to say except in your yearbook, really the years. I have really enjoyed being around you these past tripping out with you and that we have years. I am glad that we have became close friends because we are like the "Three Stooges" except there's only two of us. When we are together.
we create our own pearl. Because, oo we are baddest bad english Chicanas. I'm black. !! Even though you can act vaught "Dingy" sometimes, you are a pretty kool chick! Want a minute cause I am not finished!
Boo, Besides being "dingy" you are also cool!! Yes, I am kidding. But you have become so dear to me make a book-not but like bad. But you're still my No. #1 A-C-E!!!
Love Always.
Theresa (Little Lady Fresh)

Love, Your Bumpkin.

Boo,
To a very nice
young lady that is very cute in your own way. Hope to see you over the summer.
Mr. "Sweet"
DHS

To a very sweet young lady who I like to call a friend. You know you can call anytime you need me. P.S. Hope see next
B.W. year and over summer

Boo,
You are a very sweet young lady
& I would like to get to know you better in 86.
We are the 1
in 88
From Sweet
(Lee)

Boo,
It's been really nice getting to know you this year the first friend I met when I got here. Thanks. Have fun this summer, I know
I'm going to.
Stay sweet
Your friend
Dawn Ennell

BOO

I Really cant Say a whole lot about you because I havnt Known you all that long, but in the little bit of time that I have known you I have found myself to be falling head over heels over you in such a way like never before. Things are just getting off the ground for us, an I hope with all of my heart the future will bring us so much closer, closer than any others. So here's to me an you the best of any.

Love So Bad
